

COOS BAY TIMES
M. C. MALONEY, Editor and Pub.
DAN E. MALONEY, News Editor
Official Paper of Coos County
Official Paper City of Marshfield.
Entered at the Postoffice at Marshfield, Oregon, for transmission through the mails as second-class mail matter.
An independent Republican newspaper, published every evening except Sunday, and weekly, by The Coos Bay Times Publishing Co.
SUBSCRIPTION RATES
DAILY.
One year$6.00
Per month50
WEEKLY.
One year$1.50
When paid strictly in advance the subscription price of the Coos Bay Times is $5.00 per year or $2.50 for six months.

MAY SHOCK PIRES EDITORS INVITED
WIRELESS EQUIPMENT OF SANTA CLARA STILL "ALIVE"
G. A. Williamson Unsuccessful in Effort to Get Equipment Ashore in Yesterday's Confusion
G. A. Williamson, of the Coos Bay Marconi station, went aboard the Santa Clara yesterday in an effort to get off the wireless equipment of the vessel which belongs to his company. He was able only to bring away a detector and two wireless phones.
There is still plenty of electricity in the instruments, he said, and unwariness pirates and others are liable to get well shocked if they go to meddling. He said there is hardly enough there yet to kill a person, but enough to floor them in a hurry.
Because of the confusion he was unable to get anything else of the equipment, but he may make another trip later.

HOW MANY dollars will you waste on fuel this winter?
Probably you don't know, do you?
Why not think it over now; figure out how many dollars you can save on fuel and how much work in firing and removing ashes you can avoid by installing one of our famous HOT BLAST HEATERS?
In addition to the saving, you have the joys of a properly regulated fire and heat. We think it will pay you to consult us about it.
Going @ Harvey Co.

EUROPEAN WAR ONE YEAR AGO TODAY
NOVEMBER 6, 1914.
The German fortress of Tsing-Tao in China, is surrendered to the Japanese and British forces.
Turkish cruisers successfully bombard the Russian fortified seaport of Batum.
Both Germany and the Allies claim to have made gains on the Western front.
The Russians recapture Jaroslavl and take 5000 prisoners.

BOUGHT some rags of Tailor Skaggs, and paid him when I got 'em; he wept with glee: 'For now,' said he 'I'll pay my bills, dot rot 'em.' So on the run he took the mon, and paid the corner grocer, whose trade was bad, and who was sad, because the wolf drew closer. This made him smile, and for a while the map of teas and sages, thought cheerful thoughts, forgot the kinks, and paid his clerks their wages. And William Burk, the old head clerk, put up some thankful phrases; his wife was ill—the druggist's bill had worried him like blazes. The druggist cried, 'Doggone your hide, I thank you for these roubles; I'm in the hole and need a roll to ease my weight of troubles.' The druggist paid that winsome maid, his first assistant, Annie, and just for luck she blew a buck for roller skates for granny. And thus my scads brought help to lads and girls beyond the counting; much trouble ceased, and joy increased, and kept on mounting mounting. You see, my friend, if you should spend your coin with leal dealers, you're spreading glee and ecstasy to beat the sunshine spielers.—Booster.

WRECK IS INTACT
LATE REPORTS INDICATE SANTA CLARA NOT BREAKING UP
Balfour-Guthrie Company Sending Representative Here—Coroner Closes Investigation
Reports from the beach this afternoon indicate that the Santa Clara is not breaking up. Claude Tucker came back at three o'clock and said that he had seen the ship and the opinion of those on the shore was that she would probably remain together for several days if the weather remains moderate.

CLEANING UP THE LANDSCAPE
COLONEL EDWARD S. CORNELL, head of the National Highways Protective society, announces that his organization is going to fight for a law providing for a fine of $25 or ten days in jail for anyone who places a sign on a highway or causes one to be placed. The law is to apply equally to the advertiser and the owner of the abutting property who consents to the advertising.
It would be an excellent thing if such a law were enacted in every state. It may be impossible at present to prohibit owners from letting their own property to be defaced by billboards and trade legends, but certainly communities have a right to keep the public thoroughfares free from such disfigurements. And when that desirable aim is accomplished, perhaps the lesson will sink into the minds of vandal advertisers and real estate owners that both classes of offenders will be less inclined to mar the beauty of natural scenery in either city or country.
It is dawning on the American people that landscapes have their rights, and that attractive scenes free from all sordid reminders are very much worth while, for the pleasure their beauty gives; also, that if profit is to be considered, it pays better financially for any community to make its environment beautiful than to clutter it up with glaring ads. The average citizen is beginning to feel that he has a right to look across the street or out of a car window without having his eye constantly offended by ugly or incongruous billboards.—Exchange.

LICENSE CHIMNEY SWEEPS
CHIMNEY sweeps in Portland are to be licensed. Come to think about it, why not? That is an important business, and no one should be allowed to engage in it without a proper understanding of his duties.
SURE ENOUGH
"Which one of the ten commandments did Adam break when he ate the apple?" asked the Sunday school teacher.
"He didn't break any," replied the small boy, "because they wasn't any then."

Did Fine Work
The Hillstrom boys, Andy Hagquist and Carl Johnson who are employed at the new life saving station were the first ones to reach the scene of the Santa Clara wreck and parties state that they saved several lives by endangering their own in the surf. The cabin in which the victims were cared for belonged to these boys, and their friends, who have a club known as the Mussel Reefers.

NEWS OF OREGON
WOODBURN—The annual municipal election resulted in the election of J. F. Stelhamer as mayor of the city.
EUGENE—In response to protests of students the University of Oregon officials have rescinded their former action and declare that women may compete on the intercollegiate debating teams.
DALLAS—The Dallas tax levy will be 2 1-2 mills higher for the next year than it was for the past year, the total being 18 mills.
HOOD RIVER—Ground has been broken for the new First Church of Christ, Science.
ALBANY—Mrs. Alex. Dunn was killed by an Oregon electric train at the east limits of the city.
HARRISBURG—A large delegation of people called upon the county court of Lane county.
JUNCTION CITY—The band of the city has been made a part of the Junction City Camp No. 446, Woodmen of the World.
SALEM—Chester Ray Marquam, a former Methodist preacher, escaped from the insane asylum by stealing the keys from an attendant and opening a door.

JOSEPH R. KNOWLAND BUYS OAKLAND PAPER
Pays Over Quarter of a Million Dollars for One Half Interest in Publication
A large interest in the Oakland Tribune has been purchased by former Congressman Joseph R. Knowland, who is a son of the late J. R. Knowland who was one of the owners of the Gardiner Mill Company and who was well known there. In telling of the sale a press dispatch from Oakland says:
Joseph R. Knowland, former congressman, tendered to the executors of the William E. Dargie estate his certified check for $228,437.50 drawn on the First National Bank of Oakland, this practically terminating the long fight over the control of the Oakland Tribune.
Closes The Deal
The check practically consummates the purchase of the Oakland Tribune. It is for half the Tribune stock. The other half now belongs to Mr. Ermina Peralta Dargie, who, when a tentative settlement was made recently on her plea for distribution of the late W. E. Dargie's

WILL REORGANIZE
The Tribune's management will be entirely reorganized, with Knowland devoting most of his time thereto.
The Tribune stock will be controlled under a seven year pooling arrangement between Knowland and Mrs. Dargie, whereby three trustees, two of Knowland's and one of Mrs. Dargie's shall hold the voting stock, and five directors will be elected three for Knowland and two for Mrs. Dargie. The Tribune building is owned by the Dargie estate and is not concerned in this deal.

MACHINE IS READY
The Bandon Western World says: Hal Stutsman, who is working with the Portland capitalists installing a new mining system on Cut Creek, was in town and stated that the plant would be in readiness for operation in a few days.

WILL BE HEARD
"I do not doubt that upon the first occasion, upon the first opportunity, upon the first definite challenge, that voice will speak forth in tones which no man can doubt and with comrades which no man dare gainsay or resist."
The President also spoke of his plan for a larger navy.
STEAMER RAINBOW FOR SANTA CLARA WRECK 8 A. M. SUNDAY. Leave North Bend at 8:30. Round trip 50c Children Same.
THE PRIZE MASQUERADE DANCE at Eagles Hall Saturday night under the auspices of the Band, will be biggest event of the season, at Busy Corner drug store.
NOTICE OF POLLING PLACES
Notice is hereby given that the polling places for the primary nominating election to be held on Monday, the 8th day of November, 1915, in the City of Marshfield, Coos County, Oregon, are as follows: North or No. 17 Precinct at No. 762 Front street North; Central No. 2 or No. 19 Precinct, at the south side of Commercial avenue West between Third street North and Fourth street North; Central No. 1, or No. 19 Precinct, in the Williams' Building on the south side of Curtis avenue near Broadway street South; South or No. 20 Precinct at No. 794 Second street South.
JOHN W. BUTLER, Recorder.

HEAD OF THE NATION EXPLAINS PLAN FOR COUNTRY'S DEFENSE
President Wilson Outlines His Plan of Action—Explains About Enlarging Army and Navy and Touches Upon the Subject of Allies
[By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.]
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—In outlining his plan for National defenses, President Wilson, at the Manhattan Club said:
"In accordance with our American traditions we want and shall work for only an army adequate to the constant and legitimate uses of times of international peace. But we do want to feel that there is a great body of citizens who have received at least the most rudimentary and necessary forms of military training; that they will be ready to form themselves into a fighting force at the call of the Nation and that the Nation has the munitions and supplies with which to equip them without delay, should it be necessary to call them into action. We wish to supply them with the training they need and we think we can do so without calling them at any time too long away from their civilian pursuits.
What Plan Provides.
"It is with this idea, this conception in mind that the plans have been made which it will be my privilege to lay before the Congress at its next session. That plan calls for only such an increase in the regular army of the United States as experience has proved to be required for the performance of the necessary duties of the army in the Philippines, in Hawaii, in Porto Rico, upon the borders of the United States, at the coast fortifications and at the military posts of the interior.
"For the rest, it calls for the training within the next three years, of a force of 400,000 citizen soldiers to be raised in annual contingents of 133,000, who would be asked to enlist for three years with the colors and three years on furlough, but who during their three years of enlistment with the colors would not be organized as a standing force, but would be expected merely to undergo intensive training for a very brief period of each year. Their training would take place in immediate association with the organized units of the regular army. It would have no touch of the amateur about it, neither would it exact from volunteers more than they could give in any one year from their civilian pursuits.
About National Guard
"And none of this would be done in such a way as in the slightest degree to supersede or subordinate our present serviceable and efficient National Guard. On the contrary, the National Guard itself would be used as part of the instrumentality by which training would be given the citizens who enlisted under the new conditions, and I should hope and expect that the legislation by which all this would be accomplished would put the National Guard itself on a better and more permanent footing than it has ever been before, giving it not only the recognition which it deserves, but a more definite support from the National Government and a more definite connection with the military organization of the Nation."
Tells About Allies
Touching upon another subject, the President said, "The only thing within our own borders that has given us grave concern in recent months has been that voices have been raised in America professing to be the voices of Americans which were not indeed and in truth American, but which spoke alien sympathies, which came from men who

NEEDS OF THE NATION EXPLAINS PLAN FOR COUNTRY'S DEFENSE
President Wilson Outlines His Plan of Action—Explains About Enlarging Army and Navy and Touches Upon the Subject of Allies
[By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.]
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—In outlining his plan for National defenses, President Wilson, at the Manhattan Club said:
"In accordance with our American traditions we want and shall work for only an army adequate to the constant and legitimate uses of times of international peace. But we do want to feel that there is a great body of citizens who have received at least the most rudimentary and necessary forms of military training; that they will be ready to form themselves into a fighting force at the call of the Nation and that the Nation has the munitions and supplies with which to equip them without delay, should it be necessary to call them into action. We wish to supply them with the training they need and we think we can do so without calling them at any time too long away from their civilian pursuits.
What Plan Provides.
"It is with this idea, this conception in mind that the plans have been made which it will be my privilege to lay before the Congress at its next session. That plan calls for only such an increase in the regular army of the United States as experience has proved to be required for the performance of the necessary duties of the army in the Philippines, in Hawaii, in Porto Rico, upon the borders of the United States, at the coast fortifications and at the military posts of the interior.
"For the rest, it calls for the training within the next three years, of a force of 400,000 citizen soldiers to be raised in annual contingents of 133,000, who would be asked to enlist for three years with the colors and three years on furlough, but who during their three years of enlistment with the colors would not be organized as a standing force, but would be expected merely to undergo intensive training for a very brief period of each year. Their training would take place in immediate association with the organized units of the regular army. It would have no touch of the amateur about it, neither would it exact from volunteers more than they could give in any one year from their civilian pursuits.
About National Guard
"And none of this would be done in such a way as in the slightest degree to supersede or subordinate our present serviceable and efficient National Guard. On the contrary, the National Guard itself would be used as part of the instrumentality by which training would be given the citizens who enlisted under the new conditions, and I should hope and expect that the legislation by which all this would be accomplished would put the National Guard itself on a better and more permanent footing than it has ever been before, giving it not only the recognition which it deserves, but a more definite support from the National Government and a more definite connection with the military organization of the Nation."
Tells About Allies
Touching upon another subject, the President said, "The only thing within our own borders that has given us grave concern in recent months has been that voices have been raised in America professing to be the voices of Americans which were not indeed and in truth American, but which spoke alien sympathies, which came from men who loved other countries better than they loved America, men who were partisans of other causes than that of America and had forgotten that their chief and only allegiance was to the great Government under which they live. These voices have not been many, but they have been very loud and very clamorous. They have proceeded from a few who were bitter and who were grievously misled. America has not opened its doors in vain to men and women out of other nations.

Call to Reckoning
"The vast majority of those who have come to take advantage of her hospitality have united their spirits with hers as well as their fortunes. These men who speak alien sympathies are not their spokesmen, but are the spokesmen of small groups whom it is high time the Nation should call to a reckoning.
"The chief thing necessary in America in order that she should let all the world know that she is prepared to maintain her own great position is that the real voice of the nation should sound forth unmistakably and in majestic volume, in the deep unison of a common, unhesitating National feeling.
Will be Heard.
"I do not doubt that upon the first occasion, upon the first opportunity, upon the first definite challenge, that voice will speak forth in tones which no man can doubt and with comrades which no man dare gainsay or resist."
The President also spoke of his plan for a larger navy.

loved other countries better than they loved America, men who were partisans of other causes than that of America and had forgotten that their chief and only allegiance was to the great Government under which they live. These voices have not been many, but they have been very loud and very clamorous. They have proceeded from a few who were bitter and who were grievously misled. America has not opened its doors in vain to men and women out of other nations.
Call to Reckoning
"The vast majority of those who have come to take advantage of her hospitality have united their spirits with hers as well as their fortunes. These men who speak alien sympathies are not their spokesmen, but are the spokesmen of small groups whom it is high time the Nation should call to a reckoning.
"The chief thing necessary in America in order that she should let all the world know that she is prepared to maintain her own great position is that the real voice of the nation should sound forth unmistakably and in majestic volume, in the deep unison of a common, unhesitating National feeling.
Will be Heard.
"I do not doubt that upon the first occasion, upon the first opportunity, upon the first definite challenge, that voice will speak forth in tones which no man can doubt and with comrades which no man dare gainsay or resist."
The President also spoke of his plan for a larger navy.

loved other countries better than they loved America, men who were partisans of other causes than that of America and had forgotten that their chief and only allegiance was to the great Government under which they live. These voices have not been many, but they have been very loud and very clamorous. They have proceeded from a few who were bitter and who were grievously misled. America has not opened its doors in vain to men and women out of other nations.
Call to Reckoning
"The vast majority of those who have come to take advantage of her hospitality have united their spirits with hers as well as their fortunes. These men who speak alien sympathies are not their spokesmen, but are the spokesmen of small groups whom it is high time the Nation should call to a reckoning.
"The chief thing necessary in America in order that she should let all the world know that she is prepared to maintain her own great position is that the real voice of the nation should sound forth unmistakably and in majestic volume, in the deep unison of a common, unhesitating National feeling.
Will be Heard.
"I do not doubt that upon the first occasion, upon the first opportunity, upon the first definite challenge, that voice will speak forth in tones which no man can doubt and with comrades which no man dare gainsay or resist."
The President also spoke of his plan for a larger navy.

Let 'er Rain!
If you've a man's work to do, wear Tower's Fish Brand
Reflex Slicker $3.00
The coat that keeps out all the rain. Reflex Edges stop every drop from running in at the front.
Protector Hat, 75 cents
Satisfaction Guaranteed. Send for free catalog.
A. J. TOWER CO.
BOSTON
TOWER'S FISH BRAND

Small Water Pipes
PRACTICALLY all complaints of poor water pressure are due to small and poorly placed water pipe in the house or building. Do you know that the flow of water through 3/4-inch pipe is more than 2 1-2 times that flowing through 1/2-inch pipe and that the cost for the larger pipe is only about 20 per cent more? If you have poor pressure at one faucet and good pressure at another, you may be sure the house piping is at fault.
Insist on your plumber using 3/4-inch galvanized standard weight pipe, or larger, in your next plumbing work. See that all water pipe ends and fittings are reamed free from all burrs and that all shut-off cocks are full roundway. Have a handy wrench and waste cock at some convenient point so that you can shut off the entire water supply at any time.

COOS BAY WATER COMPANY
MARSHFIELD AND NORTH BEND, OREGON.
Safety First Service?
FIRE AND MARINE, AUTOMOBILE, HEALTH, ACCIDENT, LIFE, WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION AND LIABILITY INSURANCE
E. I. CHANDLER, Agency.
Coke Building ————— Marshfield, Oreg.

Perfect Biscuits from The Gas Range
EVEN A NOVICE can turn out perfect biscuits on a gas range.
Good cooking with least labor and greater ease—that's part of gas range service.
Let gas help you get scientific results in the kitchen. LEARN HOW LITTLE IT COSTS to make good cooking in your home a certainty.
Oregon Power Co.
Times Want Ads Bring Results