WERE GOING TO BANDON

Two Passengers On Santa Clara Bound that Way

The Bandon Western World tells the following of two of the Santa Clara passengers:

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Ballard and daughter Lucille, who are among the rescued from the steamer Santa Clara are parents and sister of Mrs. J. H. Biles of Bandon and were enroute from their home at Sedro-Wooley, Wash., to spend a year with a son at Coos Bay and their daughter here. Both Mr. and Mrs. Ballard are said to be invalids, the latter having sustained a broken shoulder, and it was only by sheer good fortune that they were found in their births after the first life boat had been launched for they would surely have been placed in the first boat and would probably have been lost, as the boat capsized.

IS UNFORTUNATE

Several Sad Happenings Come To Curry County Man

The Bandon Western World says: October was a month of sadness for W. H. Logan, an employe of the Sixes Mining company, who has been in Bandon several days. On October 1st, his wife's brother at Erie, Pa., was killed in an automobile accident; about the middle of the month his son-in-law, John Wagner, died of blood poisoning in the jaw, said to have been the result of improper dental work; and on the 23rd he received word that his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Logan, had been asphyxiated at Los Angeles, California.

PORT ORFORD NOTES

News of the Curry County City Told in the Tribune

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Davis were pleasantly surprised last week by the arrival of their eldest son, who has been visiting the Fair. He expects to remain here this winter.

James R. and Mud Hutcherson made five year proof on their homesteads between Elk and Sixes last Thursday, and the following day Robt. McPhillamey was in town making three year proof on his Sixes homestead.

Geo. Sutton went to Bandon last Thursday to take a steamer for San Francisco to visit the fair, but at last accounts he was still in the city by the sea, waiting for the bar to get in shape so that boats could cross in. Clinton Applegarth was in from the Wireless Station at Cape Blanco last Saturday. Mr. Applegarth says that the much talked about moving of the station from its present location to Coos Bay will become a reality next year as the government has decided to make the move when the supplies now at the station are exhausted, which will probably be during the latter part of the summer.

HURT IN FOOTBALL

Curry County Boys Have a Peculiar Accident

The Fort Orford Tribune says: In playing one of the games at the social in the school house N. H. Larson and Jesse Sutton ran into each other in real football style. They struck head first, and suffered rather peculiar injuries. The former received about a half-inch perpendicular cut over his eye, while the latter got a horizontal cut about the same size just under his eye-brow. Mr. Larson was around the next day as usual, but Jesse has been keeping to the house with a badly swollen and discolored eye.

ARRANGING KARNIVAL

Ko Keel Klub has Decided on the Details of the Show.

The Coquille Sentinel says: "At the meeting of the Ko Keel Klub further arrangements were made for the two big Karnival days and the 33 booths in the big building were allotted to the merchants and business men who had agreed to take them. They will run the full length of the east and west sides of the building and then another batch will surround the orchestra stand in the center of the hall.

In discussing the proposed slow automobile race, it was decided that there would have to be several classes for the different makes of machines in order to give each a fair show.

As a finance committee for the Karnival O. C. Sanford, R. H. Mast and Owen Knowlton were named.

MUST FIGHT CONTEST.

The Port Orford Tribune says: Geo. Guerin left several days ago from Langlois for his homestead on Coos River, from whence he will go to Roseburg to defend his claim in a contest that will be called at that place. Mr. Guerin made proof upon his claim several years ago, but his patent was never issued and now the Government has instituted a contest. Since Mr. Guerin took the place it was thrown into the Forest Reserve, which fact probably has something to do with the contest.

OLD SETTLER OF COOS COUNTY PASSES AWAY

Elizabeth Jane Bullack, of Near Coquille, Was Nearly Eighty Years of Age.

The death of an old settler is told in the Coquille Sentinel, which says: "Elizabeth Jane Bullack, who died at her home near Coquille, was aged 79 years, 11 months and 12 days. The immediate cause of her death was neuralgia of the heart.

She was the daughter of Owen and Mahala Cawfield, and was born in Missouri, November 29, 1835.

She was married to Finis H. Simmons May 3, 1857, who died Aug. 8, 1859. WAS INSULTING

Remark Made Caused One Side to Get Mad

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

ATHENS, Nov. 5.—The immediate cause of the defeat of the administration in the discussion in parliament was a remark by War Minister Yanakitsas, which was considered by Venizelos as insulting to the national assembly. Venizelos demanded an immediate apology. Premier Zaimis thereupon declared the government stood behind Yanakitsas and demanded a vote of confidence.

TRAINING MEN

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Nov. 5.—There will be in the near future about 11,000 men in training in the New Zealand concentration camps for active service. Also at the express request of the imperial government the quotas of reinforcements for the forces upon the Gallipoli Peninsula will be dispatched several weeks earlier than had been contemplated.

WERE IN HOLD UP

MR. AND MRS. KOSTI HAD THRILLING EXPERIENCE

Mexican Bandits Fired On Their Train, Halted It and Robbed Express Car and Passengers

When Mexican bandits held up a coast bound train close to the Texas border two weeks ago, rifled the express car and escaped with hundreds of dollars in booty Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kosti, of Marshfield were passengers. They saw the robbers though their car was at the rear and was not entered.

Mr. and Mrs. Kosti left this city several months ago after selling out their store on north Front street. They had visited some time in the east and then started back home again.

Fired on the Train

The bandits lay in wait along side the track and fired shots, ordering the train to a halt. There were several men. Two or three swung up into the cab and kept the engineer and fireman covered and the remainder stood guard over the passengers and did the rifling.

Took Valuables

In addition to the express car the forward passenger coaches were entered and the passengers forced to give up their money and valuables. Mr. and Mrs. Kosti had some money with them and this they rapidly hid in a pocketbook under the seat. The money was saved.

They arrived home several days ago and are now living in Bunker Hill, expecting to remain on Coos Bay.

Get Ready for The Holidays

THE MERCHANT always anticipates a good run of business during the holiday season and in anticipation of the same lays in fairly large-size stock of merchandise. At the same time he made his purchases should likewise have arranged for newspaper display space to properly advertise his new stock. Too often it is where the merchant is derelict—seems to be of the opinion that the public will somehow know he has these goods whether or not he advertises, or he expects his store windows to do the work they are not cut out to do. The majority of people do not trade with a store as a particular result of having an article in the store's window, but because they read the advertisement in the paper when it reached them at home and where they had time to study the description of such article.

If newspaper advertising brings such results as it has to Wrigley's Gum Company in making famous "Spearmint," to Ford Auto Company in causing the Ford to be the best-known and most popular auto, or to John Wanamaker's as the best known and patronized store in Philadelphia and New York, or closer home, to Meier & Frank and other Portland concerns, why won't it do as much in proportion for you, Mr. Coos Bay merchant? It will, but you must follow the same path as the successful advertisers — do ADVERTISING CONSISTENTLY and regularly—not spasmodically. It isn't always necessary to carry large space any more than it is to carry a large stock when a smaller one will fill the bill, but be represented in the newspaper with something new each time.

Now that the Holiday Season is fast approaching, the local merchants should get busy, arrange for advertising space to tell the people what they have and sidetrack the trade that goes to San Francisco, Portland and the mail-order houses. Coos Bay merchants sell as cheaply, if not more so, than San Francisco and Portland houses, and there is no excuse for the people of this community going elsewhere to trade if Coos Bay business men do their duty in advertising.
