SAIL ON KILBURN BERTHS REFUSED

STEAMSHIP SAILS YESTERDAY FOR SOUTH

Carries Santa Clara's Crew—Every Berth Filled—Vessel Finds Heavy Weather on Bar

With every one of her cabins full the steamship Kilburn crossed out at 1:30 yesterday afternoon. People on the beach at the wreck watched her cross the bar, ploughing her nose under the big breakers and rolling about like a chip. She had no difficulty and soon was at sea.

The passengers south were: J. W. Lawson, L. P. Gregg, F. E. Wilson, N. O. Stemmler and son, Harry Nome and wife, Wanda Stephens, M. Tepper and wife, T. H. Judge, W. McWilliams, John Crushow, Miss C. Ross, Mrs. D. D. Ross, Mrs. E. F. Eldridge, J. Nutt, Henry Pompara, Mrs. A. K. Moe, Mrs. M. Turner, Jack Ruse, Andrew McClellan, J. Kruse, Clay Ruse, E. A. Beckett, A. Cary, Joe Steghorn, John Carlson, C. Newton, David Buckner, Adolph Hansen, R. Coppell, Joe Flowers, D. McAlpin, Robert Zooning, H. G. Sanders, John Stout, J. Lee, F. E. Kerry and wife, A. H. Sall, Mrs. Sall, Mary Wilson, Elizabeth Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Larson, John Alexander, Mrs. Carlson, J. R. Glenn, O. C. Hartwig, Thos. H. Roy, J. T. Strom, D. H. Thorn, John W. Noyes S. Dunn, and 25 third class.

CREW BALKS AND WILL NOT SAIL ON BREAKWATER

Matter of Terms Causes Disagreement—Wanted to be Paid for Trip and Not Monthly Wages

Asking that they be paid a certain amount for taking the Breakwater to San Francisco rather than to make the trip down on monthly wages, the entire crew of the Santa Clara balked yesterday when the Southern Pacific Company refused their demands and every "man Jack" including the officers, took passage for the south on the Kilburn. A few minutes before sailing time their offers were accepted, but the men then were aboard the ship and refused to come ashore again. It is said Captain Macgenn is bringing a crew of 24 men overland from Portland and will take the Breakwater to San Francisco Wednesday.

According to the sale of the ship, possession does not go to the North Pacific Steamship Company until she has been thoroughly overhauled on drydock and this may take about 20 days or more.

Refused the Terms.
The officers of the wrecked Santa Clara went aboard the Breakwater and were ready to coal ship, but the crew refused to come on monthly wages. They contended that the procedure of the sea is to be paid a certain amount for a trip of this kind, for after getting the vessel in San Francisco, they would be unable to wait there until she was again ready for sea.

The officers wanted $35 and the firemen $20 a piece for the trip, and the others corresponding amounts.

Must Bring Crew.
To bring a crew from Portland will be a heavy expense. After they get in San Francisco any of the men that want to go must be returned to Portland again at the expense of the Southern Pacific.

It is expected that the officers of the wrecked Santa Clara will "stand by" in San Francisco and return here on the Breakwater when she is on the regular run.

RAIN NOT SO HEAVY

MADE NOISE ENOUGH FOR MUCH GREATER DOWNPOUR

Total Rainfall for the Twenty-four Hours was Eighty-one Hundredths of an inch.

The rain Sunday night made a terrific noise for a time late in the evening, but there was not as much water fell as might have been supposed. It rained most of the day and at night the storm became violent.

For the twenty-four hours ending early this morning, the total amount of rainfall was only .81 of an inch, according to B. B. Ostlund, the local weather observer. This is a good deal, but most everyone thought that there was a much greater amount of water actually falling.

EAT COUGAR MEAT

Elks at Roseburg Try It and Say It Is Good

The Elks at Roseburg were fed cougar meat according to the following from the Roseburg Review:

Members of the local lodge of Elks were treated to a somewhat uncommon feast when they partook of their fill of cougar sandwiches and other wild game delicacies.

The Elks who sampled the cougar meat pronounce it as being delicious, and an entire ham was necessary to appease the appetite of the hungry.

That cougar meat is equal to deer and other wild animal game that frequent the Oregon forests is substantiated by R. E. Smith, who a few weeks ago served this dish to a number of prominent Portland men who spent a few days hunting east of this city.

WAS A DIFFERENT MAN

One Charles Blair Gets Some Unpleasant Notoriety

Some days ago a story was printed telling of Charles Blair at North Bend being arrested for having in his possession some beer on Sunday. It was stated that he resided in a float-house and had planned to give a dinner to some friends and was fined ten dollars for having the liquor in his possession Sunday.

These were facts but it appears that there are two Charles Blairs in North Bend. One resides in Bangor addition and was not the man who was arrested and fined and had nothing to do with the incident and in fact was out of the city at the time. The story made matters somewhat unpleasant for Mr. Blair of Bangor and he wanted the matter straightened out so his friends would not think that it was he who had gotten into trouble. The matter was due to a similarity of names.

A PECULIAR CASE

A rather strange case is told as follows in the Gold Beach Globe:

The Mayor of Windchuck, J. M. Powell, was arrested and tried in Justice of the Peace C. M. Benham's court last week for burglary. It seems that Mrs. Howell had rented or allowed a man to store some articles in one room of the house, which he locked with a padlock. Mr. Howell wished to enter the room for something and pulled the padlock off and his arrest for burglary followed. The Mayor's popularity and good name overbalanced the evidence of any intent to commit a crime and as a consequence was acquitted.

NOT BADLY DAMAGED

Chetco River Bridge Can Easily be Repaired, Is Report

Regarding the reported damage to the Chetco river bridge in Curry County the Gold Beach Globe says:

It was reported here a few days ago that one cement pier of the Chetco Bridge gave away, and had left the structure in a precarious condition. While there was some foundation for the report, it is authoritatively learned that the facts had been greatly enlarged upon. The pier had been built by the Bandon Construction Co., and was discovered by the present contractor, Ed. Perham, to be seven inches too low. In chipping off the top of the pier in order to start from the drift bolts to build the required seven inches of concrete a small section of the top of the pier slabbled off. The damage was very slight and is of such a nature that can be easily and substantially repaired. It is said that the bridge will be finished and accepted within a few days.

TO TEST OUT LAW

SUNDAY CLOSING LAW IS INTO THE SPOTLIGHT

Deputy U. S. Marshal Serves Temporary Restraining Order on District Attorney Sheriff

Deputy United States Marshal Becker, of Portland, this morning served a temporary injunction on District Attorney Liljeqvist and Sheriff Johnson, restraining them from enforcing the Sunday closing law. The complainant is the Brunswick-Balke Colliery company, makers of pool and billiard tables and bowling alleys.

Every district attorney and sheriff in Oregon is being served in a similar manner. On the 15th of this month the prosecuting attorneys are supposed to meet in Salem, when will be threshed out the petition for a permanent injunction. The company now has the matter in the United States district court and contends that it will take the matter to the Supreme Court of the United States if necessary.

Says Violates Constitution
Quoted in the complaint are sections of the Oregon Constitution and the first and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States which the complainants contend are being violated by the enforcement of the Sunday closing law.

Has Much Invested
The company sells much of its equipment on time and acts as surety to many pool and billiard parlors and bowling alleys in this state. It claims that it has in Coos alone some $10,000 in such property. In the state, so the complaint reads, it has invested some $300,000, has bills of sale on tables and equipment amounting to $200,000 and acts as surety for rentals up to $150,000 additional.

Means Great Loss
If the law is enforced, and it already is in some counties, the result means a great loss of property and revenue to the company and the bringing by the said company of innumerable suits and damages and thousands of dollars will go for lawyers fees.

Not only are there pool and billiard parlors and bowling alleys affected but all sorts of games, such as baseball, football and tennis, theatres, concerts, musicals, grocery stores and the like, says the complaint.

Games are Healthful
Billiards is a scientific game, it is set forth, so is pool and bowling is characterized as being a skillful and healthful exercise.

Patrons are engaged in working all six days of the week and have no time for these recreations until Sunday, is a further contention.

Mr. Liljeqvist said that he may try to get someone to act for him at Salem so that he will not have to go. There has been no attempt yet in Coos county to enforce the law and the officers have before stated that they had no intention of doing anything unless someone filed a complaint and then the matter would be carried through the same as any other action would be.

GIVES IT ALL AWAY

MAN "GETS RELIGION" AND TELLS OF CATTLE KILLING Alleged He Was Partner of a Florence Man Who Pays for the Stock

(Special to the Times)

FLORENCE, Ore., Nov. 8.—Does it pay for a man to reform? A local resident will tell you that it does not. He should know. It seems that for some time past a man whose name cannot be mentioned for reasons which will appear later on, had been in the habit of going into the country and shooting cattle which did not belong to him. He usually took with him a worthless fellow and the no-account aided with the work and for his part, it is said, got $2 a head.

Partner Gets Religious
All went well until the worthless partner in the affair went to the valley where he got religion—got it so bad he went into a meeting one night and "testified" and not only confessed to having killed other people's cattle, but told the names of the owners of the stock and the name of the man who was instrumental in having him do the killing.

News of the confession got to Florence and one of the men who had lost cattle went to the local man and demanded payment under threat of prosecution. The local man consulted his attorney about the matter and insisted he was not going to pay

Gifts With Personality

Thoughtful people begin considering their Christmas gifts and the loved ones they want to remember long in advance.

They plan gifts that their personality is in them. Perhaps it is a picture, a bit of lace, a piece of embroidery, some bead work, an odd bit of furnishing. They make the gift in whole or in part, themselves. And now is the time to select the needed materials. Suggestions such as you seek will be found from time to time in the advertising columns of THE COOS BAY TIMES.

I've Got the Goods---Why Don't I Get the Trade?

GET WISE

It's a ten to one shot that you have often heard this from people "who have a store."

Note the quotation "have a store"—that's correct—they've got a store and don't know what to do with it. They refer to themselves as merchants, storekeepers, business men, etc., but they have deluded themselves.

They've got something, but few besides themselves know what they've got. They seldom, if ever, advertise, but spend their time in bemoaning conditions.

You never hear it from the steady, consistent, honest advertiser. The fact that he is a steady advertiser shows he is wide-awake. His ads tell the people of his community what he has and they do the rest.
