

Round About Thanksgiving Time

Oh, the time is getting nearer when I'll pack my grip and fly To the little home off yonder where the meadows touch the sky, Where the cribs are fairly bursting with the corn they've gathered in And the orchards now are sleeping till the days of spring begin, Where the dear old mother waits me and the dear old dad looks wise As he views the shining turkey and the row of pumpkin pies, And I almost hear him chuckle: "It's Thanksgiving day once more! Soon a mighty hungry feller will be knockin' at the door."

"WHERE THE DEAR OLD MOTHER WAITS ME."

I can see the dear old mother in the kitchen baking things That would gladden the eyes and palates of the proudest of our kings. I can see the pumpkin glowing as she fills the snow white crust, And my soul this very minute feels the old time wanderlust. Oh, I'll soon be treading backward o'er the paths that once I knew To the old home in the valley, to the old folk, good and true. You were right, dad, when you chucked as you paced the kitchen floor, "Soon a mighty hungry feller will come knockin' at the door!"

You can bet I'm mighty hungry—mighty hungry just to see The old smiles beaming brightly and to feel they're all for me. Oh, I'm hungry just to kiss you and to feel your arms again Sort of loving-like around me as you once embraced me when I was leaving for the city, and I'm hungry just to squeeze Dear old mother as I used to and to sit upon her knees. Oh, there is no use denying it's Thanksgiving day once more. "Soon a mighty hungry feller will come knockin' at the door." —Detroit Free Press.

A Presidential Proclamation by Woodrow Wilson

It has long been the honored custom of our people to turn in the fruitful autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for his many blessings and mercies to us as a nation.

Never before have the people of the United States been so situated for their own advantage or the advantage of their neighbors or so equipped to serve themselves and mankind.

Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, do hereby designate the last Thursday of November next as a day of thanksgiving and prayer and invite the people throughout the land to cease from their wonted occupations and in their several homes and places of worship render thanks to Almighty God.
