

To One Out of Every 100 Hub Customers

Several hundred women and children have bought shoes here during the past month. It is the big season in the shoe business—the opening of the rainy season.

A few of you aren't entirely satisfied; that's inevitable and perfectly natural. One out of every one hundred, perhaps, didn't get fitted just right, or bought something that she THOUGHT she liked, and doesn't, now.

If you're one of these exceptions, you'll be glad to read this invitation (it's not an ad.) You are urged to let us hear from you; or to come down and get another pair of shoes, or have your money back if you like.

Any adjustment that pleases you is satisfactory to us. We don't want our pleasure over our splendid business of this past month spoiled by any dissatisfaction to even one of our customers. And we certainly don't want any one to wear Hub shoes who doesn't like them. You can believe that.

So come down and get fixed up right; if you're not entirely pleased, we'll take your side.

BOATS IN STREETS

LAKESIDE YOUNGSTERS FIND NEW PADDLING GROUND

Water on Lakes Rises Several Feet and Ten Mile Creek is Taxed to Utmost With Surplus

Water on Ten Mile Lake rose with the recent floods until the small boys were able to paddle about in boats in the public square on which Milo Pierson and the James Cowan stores, of Lakeside, face. In some places boats were rowed in over the fences.

But despite the rise it is said that no actual damage was done. The water in the streets of Lakeside went down eight inches yesterday, and it is expected that either today or tomorrow it would be gone entirely from the town.

To get from the Lakeside Hotel over to the hall where a dance was held, above the Pierson store, it was necessary on Saturday night to have a temporary bridge built.

Ten Mile Creek is filled to its full capacity and doing valiant work in carrying off the proceeds of the rains of the past ten days. The rise of water in both North Lake and Ten Mile Lake was several feet.

SHOOK TO BE TRIED

WITNESSES LEAVE FOR HEARING WEDNESDAY

Four Are Called from Eureka, One from Gold Beach, and Four Go From Marshfield

Witnesses were called north yesterday and today to appear for the government in the trial of William Shook, of Marshfield, who recently was indicted on a charge of white slavery by the Federal grand jury in Portland. The trial comes up on Wednesday.

On the Kilburn yesterday went four witnesses, summoned by Ben Fisher, special agent for the government, from Eureka. They were Tom Tiernay, hotel clerk, George Duncan, a waiter, Charles Helwig, a barber, and a cigar-maker named Isaacson. From Gold Beach went H. S. Murphy.

The witnesses summoned from Marshfield were Mrs. Bessie Buell and Mae Conklin, both of whom accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Shook on the auto trip south several months ago, and Mrs. Goldie Jackson and Mrs. Mary Gunther, the last two women having been acquainted with conditions at the rooming house conducted on Second Street by William Shook.

Ben Fisher, who left on the stage this morning, said that in all probability the trial will be called on Wednesday and will be completed the same day.

TO BE WEDDED SOON

MISS MYRTLE SMITH WILL MARRY PHILIP RODGERS

Daughter of C. A. Smith to Be Bride of Philadelphia Man—Met in Hawaii

The Berkeley Gazette prints the following: The engagement is announced of Miss Myrtle Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Smith, of Claremont, to Philip Rodgers, of Philadelphia, the wedding to be an event of the early new year. Miss Smith is telling her friends informally of the betrothal, the engagement coming as the culmination of a romance beginning last summer when Miss Smith went for a visit in the Hawaiian Islands and where Mr. Smith was engaged in work on one of the big sugar plantations there.

Mr. Rodgers is at present in Philadelphia, but will return to the Coast shortly and will claim Miss Smith as his bride during the early part of January. Miss Smith is the youngest of the daughters of the Smiths and has been popular since coming to Berkeley four years ago from Minnesota, where Mr. Smith was formerly in business. Mr. Smith has extensive business interests in this state, being the head of the C. A. Smith Lumber Company. The Smiths have an attractive home on Avalon avenue, in Claremont.

R. A. COPPLE'S STATEMENT

Editor Coos Bay Times—My attention has been called a number of times to the fact that it is being talked on the streets that I have committed myself with regard to appointments should I be elected to the office of Mayor. I wish to say in the most positive way that there is absolutely no truth in these reports. That I have made no promises whatever. That I have not even hinted or intimated to any one the possibility or probability of their appointment. There will be time enough to consider this matter after the 7th of December.

MANY AT FUNERAL

Services Sunday Afternoon Over Remains of Carl Holm

The funeral of the late Carl Holm, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Holm, was held Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock from the Swedish Lutheran church. There were many friends of the family in attendance. The services were conducted by the Rev. P. F. Bengtson and the burial was at the Odd Fellows cemetery.

The pall bearers were Andrew Hillstrom, Walter Asplund, and William Walter, Harold and John Haglund.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends, and especially Mr. Charles Mahaffey for kindness and attentions shown on the occasion of the death of our son, Carl Holm.

SHIPPING NEWS

SAILOR IS INJURED BOAT IS CROWDED

MAN ON KILBURN WAS THOUGHT TO BE LOST

Vessel Ships Heavy Sea When Crossing Out of Humboldt Bay—In Port Here Sunday.

It was feared that one of the sailors on the steamer P. A. Kilburn was lost when a heavy sea struck the vessel as she was crossing out of Humboldt Bay. One sounding on the bar had been taken when a heavy sea was shipped. Water 20 feet deep dashed over the vessel and one of the men was carried away, apparently overboard.

Everyone aboard thought that the man had been washed into the sea, but on getting over the bar it was found that he had been thrown down a companionway and his leg was badly torn and lacerated. His injuries were painful.

After a stormy and tempestuous trip the steamer Kilburn arrived in yesterday morning from San Francisco and Eureka, crossing out at 4:35 p. m. for Portland, taking with her practically a full passenger list.

Outside of Eureka the Kilburn was harried for a day, the first time that Captain McLellan had been help up there in six years.

Santa Clara Officers Aboard
First Mate Charles Tittel, of the wrecked Santa Clara, was aboard the Kilburn as First Officer, having taken the place of First Officer Harlow who, it is said, is being transferred to one of the larger steamships of the North Pacific fleet. Also Second Mate Olson, of the Santa Clara, now has a berth on the Kilburn.

Passengers From South

The arrivals from the South were:

AT UMPQUA RIVER

San Gabriel is Loading Lumber at Gardiner Wharf

The Umpqua Courier says: "The San Gabriel is taking on a cargo of lumber from the Gardiner Mill Company's wharf. This will relieve the congestion of lumber piled upon the wharf awaiting shipment, which has been delayed on account of the vessel being barbound on her last trip for a month. Entering the harbor sixteen feet of water was found on the bar.

"The gasoline boat Relief, which came into port a few days ago, is still unable to get out on account of the bar being too rough for safety."

PORT ORFORD NOTES

News of the Place as Told in The Tribune

A basketball game will be played in the hall next Wednesday evening between the married women and girls' team.

Geo. Sutton returned the first of the week from visiting the San Francisco fair. He went via Bandon, and returned up the coast from Crescent City.

G. L. Grason returned last week from a business visit to San Francisco, during which he took time to enjoy the fair.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Prewett and son Earl will move to Powers to make their future home as soon as the stormy weather breaks.

Henry Adolphsen, Robt. McKenzie, and the Misses Eliza and Florence McKenzie, started last week on a visit to the Panama Fair.

Stormy weather has so far kept the shooting match at Port Orford from being much of a success. Two turkeys Saturday and four yesterday were shot off between showers. Of these Leland White won one, John Marsu one, Chas. Crew one, and H. T. Stewart three. About 30 of the birds have been raffled off, but there are still a number to be shot for.

Owing to the slippery condition of the roads the auto stage between Port Orford and Corbiss was replaced last week with the horse-drawn vehicle. Mr. Knapp has put a new covered backboard on the route, and with a couple of good teams is prepared to handle the traveling public during the winter months in safety and comfort.

FUNERAL HELD SUNDAY

The funeral of the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lindblad of Bunker Hill was held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Wilson Undertaking parlors. The services were conducted by the Rev. P. F. Bengtson and the burial was at the Odd Fellows cemetery.

KILBURN FORCED TO CAPACITY LOADS SOUTHBOUND

Merchants Fear For Arrival in Time of Much of Christmas Shipments—Rush Breakwater

Merchants are making every effort to have their shipments placed aboard the Kilburn when next she leaves Portland, for unless the breakwater goes onto the run soon the Kilburn will be the only boat from the north practically before Christmas.

The one steamship has been taxed to her capacity on the last two trips and each time has been forced to leave much freight behind on the docks. That which was left last time, it is said, will be given the preference over the new shipments.

Officers of the Kilburn said yesterday that the breakwater went on to the drydock November 19 and that two shifts of men are kept constantly at work on her and that she ought to be off soon, and back on the run.

The men yesterday were having a good laugh at First Officer Tittel, formerly on the Santa Clara. When the Kilburn took a big sea over as she crossed the Humboldt bar he was up on the bridge and saw it coming. It looked like a whole mountain of water, and it was. The first mate jumped and at the same time yelled out, "Here's where I get it again." The sea passed and left him untouched and he heaved a sigh of relief. He was just through with one wreck and didn't feel like getting into another right away.

Accompaniments Played by Mrs. Wm. Horsfall, Jr.
Meeting at Night.

These open Guild meetings which were begun last year and which are open to all the public, were a great success. This year it was thought better to have the meetings in the evenings in order to give the men an opportunity of hearing the addresses, and as Prof. Tiedgen has something that is well worth hearing, it is hoped to have many men present at the meeting.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church will hold a bazaar and luncheon in the old Orphan building on Front Street, Wednesday, Dec. 1, Dinner beginning at 11 a. m.—35c.
