CASE CALLED OFF DUCKS TABOO BAY MAY COME IN HERE OFFICERS ELECTED

DISTRICT ATTORNEY HALTS HEARING—ASKS DISMISSAL

Testimony Strongly Favors Defendants in Case of Alleged Illegal Fishing—Jury Discharged

With the majority of the evidence favoring the defendants, District Attorney Liljeqvist late yesterday afternoon asked Judge Pennock to dismiss the charges of illegal fishing brought against A. Ingerson and W. Clinton, of lower Ten Mile Creek. The jury was discharged after a several hours' session.

The charges as brought and filed by Deputy Game Warden Thomas were that the defendants had maintained nets more than one-third the distance across lower Ten Mile Creek, directly against the fish laws of Oregon.

Witnesses came into court for the defendants and swore that the net was not stretched across the entire stream, and furthermore, that a good share of the net's 160 foot length was on dry land.

In view of the testimony Mr. Liljeqvist asked for a dismissal of the case. J. W. McInturf appeared for the defendants and the District Attorney represented the state.

Files A Second Charge
At the close of the case District Attorney Liljeqvist immediately filed a second charge against the two men for a second net, one said to have been placed further down the stream. The district attorney this morning said this case will be postponed indefinitely, on the agreement of the defendants that there will be no more trouble regarding the nets.

Witnesses for the defense yesterday declared they didn't know the length of the nets. There was a decided difference of opinion as to whether or not the nets were across more than one third of the stream. Some said the nets were mostly on dry land, at least when the tide was out, and the district attorney declared then that he'd better quit while there was any water at all left in the creek. He instructed Deputy Game Warden Thomas to make a snapshot next time before filing charges against nets.

The Ladies of the Methodist Aid Society will hold a "Parcel Post Sale," and a hot tamale lunch on Friday, December third in room next to Wolcott's new store on Market Avenue. Lunch beginning at 11:30 a. m. and sale at 2:30 p. m. Parcels 25c and all worth it, lunch 25c.

HUNTERS CLAIM THEY NEVER HESITATE WHEN FLYING BY

Shot Gun Sport Wanes This Season—Elusive Birds Often Come Into Bay and Feed at Night

Duck hunters, since the opening of the present season, have complained that the wily, honking fowl of the air, have placed a taboo sign on Coos Bay and its vicinity, and have sailed gaily by the South without even hesitating. Bags so far reported have been skinny alongside of some of last year and the seasons previous to that.

No reason can be given for this discourtesy, say the followers of the shot gun sport. "Just an off year," they said and add further that this luck goes too with a dull year. The salmon fishermen said the same thing when their receipts for 1915 fell away below what they were in 1914.

Up at the lakes to the north there has been very little hunting. None of it has been up to normal, say those who have tried it. Over across the bay it's difficult on some days to stir up a lone duck, and down in the lower bay it has been almost equally as hard a task.

But here is another puzzling question. Where do the hosts of ducks come from that come honking in to feed on the mud flats as soon as Old Sol draws his head under cover at night, pulling the official hunting day after him? Hunters say sometimes they came in veritable "droves", sort of laughing to themselves the while, and in the morning they have risen and fled to parts unknown.

KILLED OUT OF SEASON

Large Deer Is Found Where It Had Been Shot

"A large forked horn buck was found dead in the road near the Fish Trap country. It had a large charge of bird shot in its side and had evidently been potted by some duck hunter and had run some distance before falling. It was still warm when discovered and likely had only been dead a few minutes. As it is out of season probably no one wants to claim the honor of killing it.—Coquille Herald.

REPORT THAT ALLEGED MURDERER SEEN NEAR HERE

Sheriff Quinne is Told Bartholomew, Much Wanted in Rose City, is Headed This Way

Officers here are skeptical of the report that George Bartholomew, alleged murderer of John Lind in Portland, whose body was found floating in a trunk after being dumped into the Willamette River, was seen at Drain and is heading in towards Coos Bay.

Police of the Rose City have started a coast-wide search for the man. The general belief was that he had fled to San Francisco. Only a few days ago an aged couple came into the office of Sheriff Quinne, at Roseburg, and insisted that they had seen a man of Bartholomew's description pass by their place west of Drain, heading toward the coast coast.

In the first place it is not believed here that the much wanted man would flee in this direction. Once down in here, it would be hard for him to escape without being generally known. His description has gone far and wide to all police officers and has been spread further through the newspapers.

The police here have a description of the man and feel confident that they could "spot" him, should he appear in this section.

S. A. KENDALL WILL REACH ROSEBURG SOON

Man Who is To Build Lumber Mill and Railroad is Expected This Week

ROSEBURG, Ore., Dec. 2.—S. A. Kendall, member of the firm of Kendall Brothers, of Pittsburg, Pa., and one of the proposed builders of the Roseburg & Eastern Railroad and the attendant sawmill, will arrive in Roseburg Thursday evening, according to a letter received by C. L. Seelman, his personal representative here.

Although Mr. Kendall gives no intimation in his letter regarding the length of time he will spend in Roseburg, it is admitted by persons close to his local representative that he will remain in the city until such time as plans are practically completed for the construction of the railroad and the erection of the sawmill.

"The right of way committee has been working diligently on the project for several months, and recent reports indicate that they have secured about 75 per cent of the rights of way between Roseburg and the western line of the Umpqua National forest reserve. The fairgrounds, which is the proposed site of the mill, has also been secured by the townspeople and can be turned over to the builders of the railroad and mill without much difficulty.

BUILD NEW LINER

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 2.—According to a dispatch from Bremen, a new 35,000-ton passenger liner, which the North German Lloyd is about to build for service in the trans-Atlantic trade after the war, will be named the Hindenburg.

EAGLES ELECT GUIDES FOR THE ENSUING YEAR

Fred Magnuson is President—Lodge WPI Hold Installation First Wednesday in January

The annual nomination and election of officers of the Marshfield Aerie No. 528, of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, was held last evening in the lodge rooms, installation of officers will occur on the first Wednesday in January.

F. R. Kirk, worthy president for the past year, was the only man named for the office, but before the election he declined the nomination in favor of Fred Magnuson, who was duly elected to the office. Several members gave short talks congratulating Mr. Kirk on the spirit that he showed in relinquishing the honor in favor of someone else at the conclusion of his most successful term.

The other officers elected were: Vice-president—Charles Hill, Chaplain—C. McKay, Inner Guard—Charles Peil, Outside Guard—Albert Johnson, Trustees—Fred Johnson, Walter Hill and D. J. Rees. Secretary—J. B. Sneddon. Treasurer—August Frizeen. The last two officers named were re-elected unanimously.

CAUCUS IS HELD

NORTH BEND VOTERS NAME TICKET FOR CITY ELECTION

Little Enthusiasm is Shown Last Evening—E. F. Russell, H. G. Kern Run for Mayorship

One hundred voters of North Bend gathered in the Gunn building last evening and held their caucus. Candidates for Mayor, City Recorder, City Treasurer and Council vacancies were nominated. The municipal election will be held December 14.

E. F. Russell, present incumbent, and H. G. Kern, were declared nominees in the Mayoralty race. The former received 49 votes, the latter 22. The others voted on were Peter Loggie, 13, and M. E. Everett, 2.

No Opposition

City Recorder C. E. Maybee found no opposition to his continuing in office and no opponents were placed in the ring.

City Treasurer John H. Greve found himself in the same position and he, too, will hold over for 1916.

Named for Council

There were eight men named for the three Council vacancies and the six with the highest number of votes were declared candidates. They were Robert Banks, 62; James A. Allen, 49; Fred Hollister, 40; C. H. Worrell, 38; A. E. Morten, 31; W. H. Chappell, 22. The others in the race were J. W. Mitchell with 17 votes and J. W. Grout, 18 votes.

J. G. Mullen acted as chairman of the meeting and C. E. Maybee, as secretary. The meeting was a very quiet one and little enthusiasm was shown.

The candidates with the highest vote for each office will go on one ticket and the others named on another ticket.

NOT YET ACCEPTED

UNCERTAINTY ABOUT HOLDING BANKERS' MEETING HERE

Pacific Banker, A Portland Paper, Sets Forth Conditions Concerning the Situation

An invitation was extended to the Oregon State Bankers Association to hold the annual meeting next June on Coos Bay. There is some doubt whether the invitation can be accepted. The Pacific Banker, a Portland publication prints the following article which gives some interesting facts regarding the matter:

"Marshfield is very anxious that the next meeting of the Oregon State Bankers' Association shall be held there. It has made an appeal to J. M. Poorman, president of the Bank of Woodburn, and president of the association, to use his influence to have the place of meeting changed from Portland to Marshfield. John W. Motley, secretary of the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce, is also strenuously working with the Portland Chamber of Commerce to secure the same end. Thus far the energy used has been without success.

Bankers Willing

"The Chamber of Commerce took an expression of sentiment from over the telephone, of a number of Portland bankers, and as far as the canvass went a cheerful response was met with. Some went so far as to say that the thing for Portland to do was to accept the invitation of Marshfield.

"R. W. Schmeer, cashier of the United States National bank, told the officials of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, however, that the change could not be made. He said it is not for Portland to decide. He was present at the San Francisco convention, and put the motion himself that the next state meeting should be held in Portland. The motion was unanimously carried. Since, therefore, the resolution was the expressed official action of the body, it is urged that no change be made unless there is a referendum vote taken on the question. Whether this will be done can not be determined at this time.

Think It Would Carry

"Those who favor making the change believe that a referendum vote would easily carry, and that it would be very little expense or trouble to have one. It is urged that there were but twenty-four members of the association present when the vote was taken, which is not a representative expression of the sentiment of the association.

"In order to have Marshfield appreciate the fact, however, that Portland bankers have no responsibility in the matter, and that as individuals they are, almost without exception, in favor of responding to Marshfield's invitation, Mr. Schmeer has personally written the Coos Bay Chamber of Commerce of the actual state of affairs.

Might Hurt Attendance

"One or two Portland members of the association fear that the effect of a small attendance at the next session of the state body may tend to have a demoralizing effect upon the status of the organization itself. It is believed that the attendance at Marshfield, while it will undoubtedly be much larger than at San Francisco, will be largely made up of Willamette Valley bankers. The great territory east of the mountains, it is feared, will not be represented. In view of the fact that those who take this point of view place the welfare of the organization above the other considerations, a referendum will be affected by this argument. It is unanimously agreed that if Marshfield were to extend an invitation to the State association for the 1917 meeting, it would have little or no opposition."

IS INJURED IN CAMP

JOHN DASHNEY SERIOUSLY INJURED

Foreman of Camp 5 At Powers Brought Home on Stretcher—Spinal Cord Is Injured

John Dashney, foreman of Camp 5, at Powers, was seriously injured yesterday morning when a wire cable, suddenly tightened, struck him so that he was thrown several feet, striking on the back of his neck and top of his shoulders. He was brought in on the train last evening. The doctor this morning said that part of the sensation in the arms of the injured man is impaired though it will probably take several days to ascertain the full extent of the injury.

At the time of the accident Dr. Manzer happened to be in Marshfield and Mr. Dashney waited until last evening for medical aid. He was brought in on a stretcher.

The accident, he said, happened so quickly, that he hardly knew what struck him. Only a short time ago Mr. Dashney was brought in suffering from an injury to his leg having had the limb badly bruised on a log.

The doctor this morning said that the injured man received the spring of a wire cable, as it was tightened on the drum of a donkey engine. The spinal cord was injured when Mr. Dashney struck. It is said that the motion of his limbs has not been impaired.

F. LLOYD INJURED

An accident in the Coquille Valley is recorded in the Coquille Herald as follows:

"F. Lloyd, who lives down the river opposite Cedar Point, had a severe fall when the ladder he was standing on while engaged in putting a pane of glass in a window, slipped from under him. His left shoulder suffered a severe strain and he was considerably bruised.

DOING A FINE WORK

OREGON RURAL SCHOOLS MAKE EXCELLENT SHOWING

Educators From Other States and Countries Want to Follow Example of Our State

SALEM, Ore., Dec. 2.—Superintendent of Public Instruction Churchill has issued the following:

"That the people living in the rural districts of Oregon care more for their schools, are working harder to give their boys and girls a practical education, and have made a greater advance than any other state, is clearly proved by the reception which has been given the rural school exhibit at the Panama Pacific Exposition.

At the request of the National Bureau of Education, the Oregon State Department of Education prepared for the Educational Palace an exhibit showing the strongest features of the rural schools of Oregon; namely, the standard plan, the Boys' and Girls' Club Work and the Playground Movement.

More than 2,000 of the leading educators representing all the States and many foreign countries have made a careful study of the Oregon exhibit with the purpose of adopting our Standard School Plan absolutely, and through the local press leaders have given Oregon credit for helping them.

About Club Work

Of the club work, it is conceded that no other state has the work so well organized. The local and county school fairs with the club winners' work shown at the State Fair, making a logical culmination of the years' work, the organizing and directing of the work by the State School Superintendent with the expert bulletins prepared by the State Agricultural College for the children, telling them how to select seeds and do their work, are features which are raising the club work of Oregon boys and girls to a high standard. The judges at the State Fair this year declared that the corn exhibited by the boys was fully one hundred per cent better than last year, while the vegetables and other products were a much higher grade than ever before.

Others Would Follow

Hundreds of requests have come from all parts of the United States for the Recreation Manual, issued by the State Department of Education, and every playground expert pronounces it to be the best one published. Every teacher in Oregon is furnished with a copy of this manual, and the attention given this problem in Oregon during the past two years is developing a happier, healthier lot of school children.

Commissioners from a number of the foreign countries have sent their secretaries to the Oregon Educational Exhibit with instructions to copy every chart shown in order that they may have the material for a special report to their countries on our rural schools.

MAY BE ENJOINED

POSSIBILITY OF ACTION AGAINST LAW

Rumor Is That Some Brewery May Apply for Restraining Order in Court

It appears that there is a possibility of an injunction being asked to restrain the enforcement of the new prohibition law. The Portland Telegram prints the following:

"Rumors are afloat that litigation to prevent the operation of the prohibition law will be applied for January 1, 1916. As the restraining order will be made by the application for a restraining order will be made by the brewers and dealers under the law. Should the application be presented it will go to the federal court in this city and the injunction, if granted, would have to be enforced by two of the three judges.
