SUNRISE AND SUNSET

Monday
December 6. — Sun rises at 7.38 and sets at 4.26.

The Bandon Western World says: A 20 mill levy on the assessed valuation of $993,170, providing approximately $27,000, was voted at the special school meeting Monday evening, for the purpose of conducting the local institutions for the ensuing year.

Money Still Coming.—The committee on the purchase of the wireless site report that contributions are still being received and it is hoped that by the first of the year the entire amount will have been subscribed and the matter cleared up. The price asked for the site was $840.

Ladies' Guild Hostesses.—At the Episcopal Ladies' Guild meeting at Guild Hall, which, on account of the Men's Fellowship Club banquet, will be on Wednesday afternoon instead of Tuesday this week, the hostesses will be Mrs. F. A. Golden, Mrs. Arthur McKeown and Mrs. Otto Schetter.

Ad Brought Results.—When Mrs. John D. Jones lost a roll of music the other day, she immediately came to The Times office and inserted a lost ad. This did the business in a hurry. I. N. Miller found the music and brought it to the office, where it was soon restored to its owner.

Ducks are Scarce.—Hunters who went out yesterday in quest of ducks, came back in the evening to report the wily fowls are either scarce or they have a good system of disguises. Most of the bass reported for yesterday were very small, the most ducks being found in the vicinity of South Inlet.

No Council Tonight.—There will be no meeting of the City Council this evening. On Wednesday night the city fathers will meet to canvass the votes of the election to be held tomorrow and also to take up routine business of the city. There are some street matters to come up at that time for settlement.

Attorneys Travel.—Today, being the opening day of the adjourned term of Circuit Court, there was an influx of attorneys to Coquille where Judge Coke heard demurrers and pleadings. The regular term will open for new business next week, though it is not expected the docket will be as heavy as the one in September.

Improves Machines.—V. C. Gorst has received word from C. H. Barrett, formerly of the Terminal Garage in North Bend, stating that he is working on an improvement of a four wheel drive for the Ford cars. He says that very shortly he is expecting his machine in operation. Mr. Barrett is now in San Francisco.

Had Too Much to Carry.—A load so heavy that he toppled under the very weight of it, after making valiant attempts to keep his feet, was the undoing of W. C. Murphy, who found his way into the Hotel de Carter, where he arrived all out of breath from the hard work. His cash register was entirely empty and the general fund went hungry again.

Still Talk About It.—The trip of the freshmen eleven from Eugene in here at Thanksgiving time and the subsequent adventures are still timely topics of conversation about the campus, according to Ben Fisher, who stopped off yesterday for a visit there on his way from Portland. He said the men sit about fraternity firesides on these stormy evenings and tell admiring fellow "studies" about the time they came to Coos Bay.

Asks Information.—Rev. William Hogan, of North Bend, has received a letter from the lodges of the Women of Woodcraft and the Royal Highlanders at Marysville, Montana, asking for further information regarding the death of Mrs. B. Cullen, who was lost in the wreck of the Santa Clara. They wanted to definitely establish the fact as to whether or not an inquest had been held. Mrs. Cullen carried life insurance.

Didn't Have Passport.—Lamar Toose, president of the student body at the State University, and well-known by many former students in Marshfield, was chosen a delegate to aid in making peace in Europe. He left for the East at once and expected to sail Saturday on the Oscar II for Europe, but found at the last minute that he could not get a passport without the papers first being sent to Washington. He is now on his way home again.

Tides Highest Today.—The highest tide of the year was recorded today at 12:30 p. m. on the gauge in the office of City Engineer A. B. Gidley. The height was 9.3 feet while the rise of yesterday was but one inch less and that of tomorrow is expected to be one tenth higher than today. Reports from up Isthmus inlet showed that the water there overflowed much of the lower lands and the dikes along the banks of the Inlet, though up Coos River the water rose about five feet.

"Lest We Forget"

CITIZENS:
Homer Davenport made that quotation famous when he wrote it under a cartoon in the New York American at the time the people of the United States presented a house and lot in Washington to Admiral Dewey for his achievement in Manila Bay.

So, "lest we forget," let us think over again the reasons why Mr. A. Copple should be elected Mayor tomorrow.

Because: Mr. Copple stands squarely for needed economy in city affairs, with no "ifs or ands". Neither by words nor actions has he intimated that he would approve of expenditures for what might be called luxuries;

Because: In the near future the Mayor of Marshfield will be called on to welcome distinguished visitors, on the occasion of the completion of the railroad to Coos Bay, etc. Mr. Copple is certainly more fitted to represent us in such matters than Mr. Evertsen, who tells us in Saturday's papers, that "the 20-mill tax levy will come before the Mayor and all the Councilmen after the first of the year for adjustment. (Visitors might ask questions about city affairs and they should get more correct answers.)

The principal objections to Mr. Evertsen are his inconsistencies and his absolute lack of a definite policy.

He tells us that he knows we must practice economy, yet he insisted on voting away $99.99 every week lately, against the unanimous protest of the finance committee.

He tells us that if the voters of Coos Bay want the bang, he will carry out their wishes. Yet we see no sign of what his own personal convictions in the matter are. Does his lately acquired "knowledge of the conditions which we must face squarely for the next two years" not suggest any sort of conviction to him along those lines? Apparently not.

In other words Mr. Copple flat-footedly, by words and deeds, opposes such expenditures and Mr. Evertsen dodges the issues in words, while, by his votes on the City Council, he approved of going over the heads of his own finance committee and "getting pork" out of a mighty lean city treasury.

I believe we want a Mayor whose record we know and a man to represent us before visitors who can talk intelligently on city affairs.

Find out, Citizens, how the candidates for Councilman stand on these matters, for, from these men our new Mayor must appoint his finance committee.
