

Christmas Gifts:-- That Make the Home Cosy and Beautiful

Why not join the thousands who are now buying useful Christmas presents — gifts that endure and constantly give pleasure, comfort and joy to the recipients with happy memories of the thoughtfulness of the giver?

The expense need not be more than you spend for trinkets, for oddities that give only a momentary pleasure to the recipient or perhaps mean a constant outlay of money if they are of service at all.

After all, a Happy Christmas can only be in a Happy Home—a home that is comfortable and cosy, breathing welcome in its very atmosphere to the visitor as well as the members of the family circle.

If you are buying gifts for a relative or friend, why not give something that will add to the beauty and comfort of their home surroundings?

If you are making gifts to a member of your family, why not select something particularly suitable to the needs of the recipient and at the same time be of service to all the household, or at least add to the attractiveness of your home surroundings?

The Johnson-Gulovsen store is teeming with such gifts—gifts, not expensive, but presents that show quality and service as well as beauty. It is impossible to enumerate them all but here are a few that may aid you in determining what would be most suited for your gifts:

Santa Claus Up to Date.

Every year I am tempted to come out on a honsetop and tell the young and self raising generation the truth about Santa Claus.

I believe it only right that the children should know Santa Claus no longer goes about in a dinky little sleigh, delivering toys down the chimneys. He simply couldn't do it if he tried. That kind of thing was all right when his business was small and he was younger than he is now. In those days he made the toys himself—glued even the little tails of the little toy sheep in place, stuck the little eyes on the tops of their little heads, painted the little bodies as different from the real thing as he could and do it quick, and then, hitching up his six reindeers, delivered the whole batch before sunrise Christmas morning. It is different now.

Santa Claus is old, and all he does is to live on the profits of the business. The business now is run under the name of S. Claus & Co., and the firm has many workers—clerks, drivers and the rest. Some of the employees of this big firm have grown so careless that they miss little boys and girls who live in out of the way places. Old Santa Claus never did such a thing in his life.

If any of our young people are overlooked this year they must not blame Santa Claus. He is just as jolly and good as ever. They'll have to blame it on the new driver that looks after their section of the earth.

Christmas of the Shetland Islands.
A scene less populous but not less striking is old Christmas eve, the 4th of January, when the children and young men of Lerwick, in the Shetland Islands, go a-guising. The children disguise themselves in strange dresses, parade the streets and invade the houses and shops begging for offerings. At 1 o'clock the young men, coarsely clad, drag blazing tar barrels through the town, blowing horns and cheering. At 6 o'clock in the morning they put off their grimy clothes and dressed in fantastic costumes go in groups to wish their friends the season's compliments.—Harper's Magazine.

Port Orford as it Was in 1854

PORT ORFORD, the seaport of Curry county, is one-fourth larger than it was last year. This is a record of growth of which probably few other towns or cities in the county can boast.

In the early spring a new company will go into the tie business in the city and will have a cable from Port Point and load ties and unload freight in this way instead of using the wharf. The company will give the locality a regular boat service and cut down the cost of freight about one-half.

A life saving station for Port Orford is assured and will probably be built during the coming year.

Plan Summer Hotel
The place has become highly popular as a summer resort on account of its beautiful beach and there is talk of building a summer hotel on the lake near the city. The Agate carnival which is held each year has attracted much attention to Port Orford and each year it has become more popular as a place to visit.

There is a move on foot to build a county road up the Sixes river to connect with the railroad at Powers and thus give the community a quicker outlet for passenger and freight business.

The work which is being done in the gold mining centers on the Sixes river is causing more or less excitement. A large amount of money has been invested by the company developing the mines there and soon the new sluices will be ready for use and the water turned on for hydraulic mining.

Locality Prosperous
Port Orford is one of the most attractively located places on the coast and with its harbor possibilities the people interested there feel that there is a great future for the district. At the present time the place is surrounded by a fine dairy country. The people are prosperous and the community is a rich one.

Port Orford is the oldest town in this part of the state, having in the early '50s been an army post before Coos Bay had even started as a settlement of white people.
