BETWEEN SCOTTSBURG AND AL-LEGANY MOUNTAINS COVERED

Profs. Waite and Robertson Return From Four Days Hike-Find Real Christmas Scenes Snow has been falling in the mountains between Scottsburg and Allegany. Principal Waite and Prof. Robertson, of the high school, returned this morning from a several days' hike over the Willamette Pacific right-of-way to Gardiner and thence out to Scottsburg, returning via Allegany and the boat route.

A short distance out of Scottsburg yesterday the travelers walked for quite a distance through the snow, from one to two incres of it. The trees were draped with the white A mantle. The snow covered the shrubbery and the valleys and "down swept the chill wind from the mountain tops." It was truly a Christmas scene of the far east and one that fails to put in an appearance on Coos
