

Greetings:-

Old "1915"—its follies and pleasure—are no more. Neither can we retrace our steps nor call back the days that are gone. As we stand on the threshold of the new year, let us all resolve that it shall bring us greater prosperity and add to our stock of pleasure. Let's include 366 days in this

Happy New Year

We intend to be a big 1916 factor by enabling every Coos County family to make it such.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR

Many students are taking advantage of the excellent opportunity to study voice under the able direction of Mrs. Franklin E. Conway, whose methods are the best obtainable and whose prices are reasonable. New students will begin work the first week in January.

HAVE you ever thought for one moment what a desolate place the world would be without music?

Have you ever realized that the most highly cultivated and advanced nations of the world have been nations in which music was highly prized?

Have you realized that music is now looked upon as one of the great essentials in the education of the cultured man or woman?

It makes little difference whether you are studying music for the home circle, the concert hall or the opera, your time and your effort are valuable to you. Thousands start studying music only to find out that they are going the wrong way. Does it pay to pay twice for anything?

Isn't it better to seek a really good teacher at the start? How can you find such a teacher?

WILL POLL VOTERS

REGISTRATION BOOKS UNDER NEW LAW OPEN TUESDAY

Law of Permanent Registration is Bother Now, but is Expected to Later Make for Convenience

Every legal voter of the county, and the state too, for that matter, must register again. Starting Tuesday, they will have until April 16, or 30 days before the primaries, to register, according to J. T. Brand, newly appointed registrar for this district. Voters should go to his office on the second floor of the Coke building.

Roughly, his district includes Marshfield, Bunker Hill, Eastport, Ferndale and thence west to the limits of Empire and up Coos River almost to Allegany on the north fork and all the way through the south fork.

The permanent registration law goes into effect on Monday. Under these new provisions voters registering now do not ever need to do so again, providing they do not move from one precinct into another or fail to vote at least once in any biennial election, or change political faith or one's name by marriage. The details of the registration cards to be made out by Mr. Brand for each legal voter are voluminous. They will be filed in the office of the county clerk.

In cases where persons are under the legal age for voting, but will reach 21 years some time within the 30 days previous to an election and when the poll books are closed, they may register at the proper time with Mr. Brand, giving the dates of birthdays, and this will allow them to vote.

On April 16 the poll books close. After the primaries they reopen again until October 7, or 30 days before the regular election. All aliens must be naturalized, have their full citizenship papers before being allowed to vote in a national, state, county or city election.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR—ROSEBURG PREPARES FOR DRY SPELL

Large Amount of Liquor Is Shipped Into That City for Further Private Use

Many Roseburg people will have plenty to drink on hand during the dry spell according to the following from the Review:

"This many Roseburg people are making preparations for the long 'dry' spell that is to follow enforcement of the prohibition law in Oregon, beginning promptly at 12 o'clock Friday night, is attested by observation of the local express offices and Southern Pacific freight house. During the past few days there has arrived in Roseburg over the Southern Pacific lines an enormous amount of beer, whiskey and wines, most of which was consigned to residents of this city. In some instances as much as three barrels of wines have been billed to a single person. Other persons have been more modest receiving lots of liquor ranging from a case of beer to a barrel of whiskey. Under the recent ruling of Attorney General, liquor must be paid for prior to January 1, or the person to whom the liquor is consigned can be arrested and prosecuted. The Attorney General has held that the actual sale of the liquor occurs when the money changes hands and not when the liquor is delivered to the purchaser. The local express office has also been unusually busy during the past week, and case upon case of whiskey have been received. All cases are plainly marked, and the quantity and kind of liquor is designated in flaming red letters. "When Oregon goes 'dry' late Friday night not a few people in Roseburg and vicinity will be in a position to consume an amount of liquor exceeding that allowed by law for several months."

A HAPPY NEW YEAR—FILE ANOTHER CHARGE

McGinty Brothers Accused by Nile Miller (Special to The Times)

COQUILLE, Jan. 1.—McGinty Brothers who caused such a riotous at Fishtrap the other day when they drank too much hard cider that had been "loaded" with fermented corn juice, now face another charge. Nile Miller, a neighboring rancher, filed charges of assault with a dangerous weapon. They waived the preliminary hearing on the latter charge yesterday. Both are confined in jail, being unable to furnish bond, and are very penitent now.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR—OPERATE AT PORT ORFORD

It is reported that the A. F. Estabrook Company will engage extensively in the railroad business at Port Orford, and will install a cable tramway for loading ties. They have purchased sufficient timber to enable them to continue the business for a number of years.—Port Orford Tribune.

ALL over the Civilized World, at this time of year, Good Resolutions of one kind or another are being made. Not the least important of these is the Resolution to Save. There can be no Good Resolution better than the Determination to make due preparation for the Day of Adversity. While no man is under compulsion to Save his Surplus Money, there is no getting away from the fact that Sickness and Old Age are sure to come and will affect one's Ability and Capacity to earn. The Lesson that each man must set for himself is a hard one. Nevertheless he must realize that his Success depends upon his own Capacity and Thrift. The Life Stories of Successful Men of Affairs attest the fact that the Foundation of Wealth is the Habit of Systematic Thrift. With the view of encouraging and Stimulating the Growth of the Thrift Habit, and to help men to help themselves, The First National Bank of Coos Bay, for a while, will devote its advertising space to the publication of Short Talks on the Thrift Habit, and the Suggestion of the Greater Use of that branch of the Bank's service, its Savings Department.
