GIVES HIS POSITION NEW MAYOR TODAY

ATTORNEY GENERAL BROWN TELLS ABOUT NEW LAW

In Signed Article States What He Will Do To Inforce Prohibition in Oregon

Attorney General George M. Brown in an article over his own signature published in the Oregonian sets out in a general way his position regarding the enforcement of the prohibition law. He says:

"An endeavor has been made by way of preparation for enforcement of the prohibition law to impress the district attorneys of this state with the full realization that upon them, more than any other officers, rests the duty of enforcing the provisions of the criminal laws of the state; that the prohibition law is a criminal law and that it should be enforced the same as any other criminal statute; that the question as to whether prohibition is right or wrong has been settled by the people themselves; that the ultimate end and purpose of prohibition is to prevent the use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage; that the prohibition law can and must be enforced; that it is the duty of all sheriffs, magistrates, mayors, marshals, police officers and all other peace officers of any city, town or county having notice, knowledge or reasonable ground of suspicion of any violation of the provisions of the prohibition law to advise the District Attorney of such county of the fact of violation and to furnish him with the names and addresses of any witnesses within the knowledge of such office by whom any fact tending to show such violation can be proved; and that the Governor, whose constitutional duty is to see that the criminal laws are enforced, has been clothed with extraordinary powers in the enforcement of this law.

"I have attempted to impress the law officers of the state with the fact that the purpose of the prohibition law is to promote temperance and prevent drunkenness, and that the methods adopted to accomplish the end is the prevention of the sale, manufacture and other disposition of intoxicating liquors.

"That the law is remedied is the use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, rather than medicines, articles of toilet, or for culinary purposes, such as extracts, and the object of the law in this particular should be enforced all times within the law, and that real and deliberate violations should be the object of the prosecutor's attack, rather than technical and unintentional violations.

"The people and the Legislature made the law prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors and it has been committed to the courts for the purpose of being enforced. The prosecuting attorneys of the state have been vested with great power for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of the law. This will be done. There is only one way to force a criminal law and that is to enforce the law."

WATERFRONT NEWS

After being harbored and unable to get out of Bandon for a week, the steam schooner Speewell cleared from there at eight o'clock this morning, arriving here some time later. The vessel will load and sail from the Bennett dock tomorrow morning at eight o'clock. The gasoline schooner Rustler is loading freight today at the Smith Terminal dock for the Rogue. She arrived in from there on Friday. The Enterprise is still in port, while the crew is giving her a complete overhauling.

R. A. COPPLE TO DIRECT FIRST COUNCIL MEETING TONIGHT

Newly Elected City Fathers to Take Seats—Ratification of Mayor's Appointees is Up.

Considerable interest attaches to the meeting of the City Council this evening. This will be the first appearance of the new city fathers and also of Mayor R. A. Copple in his new position. At the same time will come up for ratification by the Council the appointees of the New Mayor.

The incoming Councilmen are Charles Powers, D. L. Rood and Emil Bandel, the latter having been appointed to take the place on the Council vacated by Mr. Copple.

Opinions were not given. Little can be ascertained regarding the opinion of the Council in general toward the newly appointed city officers. There has been considerable discussion, but it is believed there will be little opposition expressed this evening, and it is expected that all of the appointees will be confirmed.

The Councilmen will get an outline of the work as it is to be carried through under the new administration and get hitched into the harness for the work of 1916 that is expected to be strenuous.

TWO POLICE RETIRE

Two of Marshfield's most faithful police officers made their last appearance this morning. They were William Shoup and Walter Richardson.

For the last nine years Shoup has been on the police force, mostly as night officer. He has a host of friends who are sorry to see him go. In fact there probably never was a policeman who left the force in Marshfield with the friendship of as many as Mr. Shoup takes with him.

He served in the days when there was a good deal required of a night policeman and there was never an occasion when Shoup faltered in his duties however dangerous they might have been.

There were times in the earlier days when Officer Shoup has waded into big crowds of desperately fighting men and when it was up to him to clean out a whole saloon filled with desperate fighters, but he all ways came out victorious.

Mr. Shoup has always exercised good judgment in his work and he says that some of his best friends are those whom he has found it necessary to arrest on occasions, and those who have regularly come in contact with him in the performance of his official duties express much regret that he is to retire.

Mr. Shoup has not yet decided on his plans for the future. For a time at least he will be in Marshfield and will take a much deserved rest.

Walter Richardson has been on the police force for the past four years, serving part of the time at night and part in the day time. He has been a conscientious officer and has performed his duties faithfully.

Mr. Richardson with his son owns the jitney line to Bunker Hill and he will likely devote his attention now to that business.

COOS BAY LUMBER NOTES MILL IS ENLARGED MILL MAY OPERATE

E. E. JOHNSON MAKES IMPROVEMENTS AT COQUILLE

Will Increase Output to 40,000 Feet of Lumber a Day and Disburse $10,000 Monthly in County

Important improvements are to be made by E. E. Johnson at his mill at Coquille, which will increase the output to about 40,000 feet a day and enable him to meet new outside orders. The changes to be made are outlined in the Coquille Sentinel.

"Mr. Johnson has made a contract with the Oregon Power Company for a 50-horse power electric motor to furnish additional power for his lumber mill here. The Power Company also contracted to take over the operation of the boiler plant at the mill.

"The boilers of both the mill and power plant are to be united in one battery, which will furnish steam for Mr. Johnson's two engines at the mill, as well as the engine that runs the dynamo which supplies Coquille and Myrtle Point and the intervening country with the juice to keep the lights going and the wheels turning. This is a 200-horse-power affair and carries its load with the greatest ease and is not expected to balk at all at the addition of that other 50-horse-power motor load in the mill.

New Motor Coming "This new motor which has been ordered from San Francisco, and is expected here next week, is to furnish the power for the lumber carriers and the turning saws. Heretofore this task has been added to the burden of the engine that drives the main saws of the mill, and at times has considerably reduced their speed and efficiency. Hereafter there will be no delays of this kind.

The second mill engine will run the planers and the resaws. With the power equipment thus reinforced, it is expected that the mill will be able to saw 40,000 feet of lumber a day.

The mill company in return contracts to furnish the water power waste wood for fuel.

Rebuilding Mill "At the same time these changes and improvements are making in the power plant, the upper end of the mill is being rebuilt with very heavy timbers about 16 inches square, which carry the big drive wheel. Over this new framework an asbestos roof is to be placed which will greatly diminish the danger from fire. It is expected to have the mill in full operation by January 10.

Will Pay $10,000 Monthly. "With 30 men employed in the mill and including the raw material purchased, Mr. Johnson says his disbursements will probably reach $10,000 a month, every dollar of which will be expended in Coquille and its immediate vicinity, and the most of it for labor.

How greatly that will stimulate the business of the city can easily be imagined. Among other lumber contracts Mr. Johnson has one for 600,000 feet on which he will begin right away.

Line to County Farm "The power company expects about the middle of the present month to begin the construction of a new power line to the county farm four miles north, at an expense of $2250.

TIME IS EXTENDED

REV. H. B. FOSKETT TO REMAIN HERE UNTIL OCTOBER

Convention Pastor of State Has Won Many Friends in Brief Stay Here—Announcement is Welcomed

Rev. H. B. Foskett, convention pastor of the Baptist Church in Oregon, has agreed to remain with the local church until at least next October. This announcement was made at the meeting last evening in the Baptist Church and was received with much joy by the congregation.

In the few months that he has been here, Mr. Foskett has made a great many friends and has worked hard in the church. At the most it was expected that he could be retained here only until April, but on his recent trip to Portland, Mr. Foskett had the time extended another six months.

As convention pastor he travels about the state, filling temporary vacancies in parishes. His family resides at McMinnville and they will remain there at least until the school closes.

ENCOURAGING NEWS REGARDING MOORE PLANT AT BANDON

Report That Old Employees Have Been Told to Hold Themselves In Readiness

It appears quite likely that the Geo. W. Moore Lumber Co. mill at Bandon may be opened soon and again operated. The following news from the Western World is highly encouraging:

"Former tallymen and other employees of the George W. Moore Lumber company have received word by letter from Mr. Moore, who is now at Toledo, Oregon, telling them to hold themselves in readiness to resume their old duties at the mill here within the next two weeks. It now looks as though there is some foundation to the report that the mill will reopen on or before January 10.

"Before he left Mr. Moore would make no statement further than that he hoped to open the mill soon, but there was nothing certain about it. However, the notice to his employees and the fact that Mr. Moore intends to return to Bandon within ten days throws a new light on the matter.

"It has been understood for some time that with a rise in the lumber market the mill would reopen, provided the litigation involving timber that the Moore people have been logging could be brought to a favorable settlement. Lately it is reported that the case has been settled out of court."

MILLS START AGAIN

RESUME WORK AFTER THE HOLIDAY VACATION

New Resaw Being Put in at North Bend Mill and Lumber Company Plant

The Coos Bay mills have all resumed work after the holidays. The North Bend Mill and Lumber Company plant started Friday. Today a new resaw is being put in place and will be ready for work in a few days.

The Simpson mill started this morning and the Smith plant is also running. The mills start with much better prospects for a big business than this time last year.

DROUGHT SETS IN

FIRST REGULAR DRY DAY HAS APPEARANCE OF A SUNDAY

Fifteen Saloons Are Closed—Police Arrest Three Men With "Hangovers"—That's All

Fifteen saloons of Marshfield were locked today. Some had crepe on their doors, others had signs, but all were closed. This is the first regular day of prohibition in Oregon.

There being no saloons for the first time in 46 years, the sight was a strange one for Marshfield on a week day. In fact, some of the Old Guard actually walked to the doors and started to shove them, swinging inward, before the realization would suddenly come that they were two days too late. They would turn away with looks of disappointment, but with resignation to their fate.

There were a few "hangovers" yesterday. The police made three arrests for drunkenness, but all of the men declared they would be all right if given a chance to sober up and would never do it again.

The police say they expect there will be a drunk appearing now and then until the booze caches have been completely exhausted and after that the soothing effects of Coos Bay Company's product will probably hold sway.

To Ship Out Surplus. Saloonmen were busy today getting their signs down and erasing the names and everything about the places that smacked of the saloon business.

Also most all of them have rounded up what little liquor there is remaining and made it ready for shipment south. The Kilburn of tomorrow bound for San Francisco will probably carry enough of the liquor to make several good-sized jags, none of which will be liberated in Oregon.

TO EXAMINE BOYS SELECT JURY LIST

YOUNGSTERS MUST GO BEFORE JUVENILE JUDGE WATSON

Are Released From Jail to Parents—None of Four Charged With Thefts Over 16

Four youngsters, none of them over 16 years of age, arrested on Saturday and charged with stealing food and clothes, will be turned over to the custody of the juvenile court at Coquille. There is a possibility that the lads will be sent to the state reform school. The boys are George Lingo, Mark Willey, Oren Bonebrake and Julius Osborne.

Police today declared that there has been a gang of boys who have been stripping gasoline boats, taking away whatever is moveable, to sell for junk.

The boys have been put through cross-fire examinations, but it is understood will tell very little. For a time bicycles disappeared when left standing along sidewalks on main streets, out of boats went much paraphernalia and from here and there losses of brass and iron instruments and articles were reported.

After spending New Year's Day in jail the boys were turned over to their parents along in the evening on the understanding they will be delivered over to Probation Officer Mark Dunham, of Coquille, that he may bring them before Judge James Watson for examination.
