

Quality and "Cut Prices"

ARE THE OIL AND WATER OF BUSINESS

You may attempt to mix them by a generous use of printer's ink but the fact remains that between buyer and seller a cut-price offer produces a feeling that somebody is attempting to "put something over."

The Live Store offers at $20 to $30

Kuppenheimer Clothes OTHER GOOD SUITS $10 TO $20

There's no attempt to sell them on a cut-price basis. The question of their greater value is left entirely to your judgment, to your ability to compare them and decide between them and what you may be offered elsewhere. The steady growth of this store is the best answer as to the judgment of the majority.

The Fixup

Hard To Believe But True

We can demonstrate that it's worth $1600 or more.

We'll sell it for $900.

SUNRISE AND SUNSET

Saturday
January 8 — Sun rises at 7:52 and sets at 4:44.

BORN

CHILDERS—To Mr and Mrs. James K. Childers, at their home in Eastside, Saturday morning, January 8, 1916, a son. This is their second child. Mother and son are doing very well.

Preach at Flagstaff—The Rev. G. Le Roy Hall has announced that he will preach at Flagstaff tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Circulars Flood Mails—Circulars and price lists from liquor dealers of California have flooded the mails of this week from the south and have been received by most every voter in the city. E. H. Joshak secured a slight revenge when he filled out one of the order blanks, asking for 500 gallons of water to be shipped prepaid.

Go In Quest of Ducks—Charles Stauff and Royal Niles left this morning for the sand hills, taking their shot guns with them, going in quest of the elusive ducks. Hunters declare that this is excellent duck weather because the storm has driven many of the birds into the bay, where they alight for feeding.

Codding Better—Mrs. Chas. Codding has received word from Mr. Codding who recently entered Lane Hospital at San Francisco for treatment by Dr. Chaney saying that he is already much improved and every hope for complete recovery is held out. Mrs. Codding has leased their place at Millington and will move to Marshfield and engage in nursing while Mr. Codding is away.

Robber Leaves Tracks—The same robber that tried to gain an entrance to the Cal Langworthy Electrical store on Broadway early yesterday morning in all probability is the miscreant that forced open the door to the office of Fred Gettings in the Douglas building. The man had evidently come across the roof and entered the window to the old office of W. S. Turpen and, after getting into the hallway, went into Gettings' office. Nothing was taken from there.

BURGLAR ACTIVE

TAKES MONEY AND WATCHES FROM JUDGE HALL'S OFFICE

Climbs In Through Transom Judge Had Been Unable to Open—Occurred Thursday Night

Via the transom route, a burglar entered the offices of Judge John Hall and Ben Fisher sometime Thursday evening and made away with two watches, some stamps and about $1.50 in change.

Both of the watches belonged to estates as yet unsettled. One of them, a large open faced old fashioned silver timepiece belonged to the Charles Westman estate. This way lying on a table, while the other had been put away in a drawer. The stamps and the change had been left on a little box and a basket on the table in Judge Hall's office.

For weeks the transom had been stuck. No one in the office had been able to open it. The burglar evidently had no trouble.

Dr. Leslie, who has rooms on the same floor, said he heard someone walking around, but thought nothing of it as people go and come through the day and night in the building. The robbery happened the same night someone tried to enter the Langworthy Electrical store.

Have Special Music—At the Episcopal Church tomorrow at 11 a. m. the Rev. Browning will preach on "Wise Men in Their Wisdom" and at 7:30 p. m. on "Christ and the Larger Life." Holy Communion will be at 8 a. m. and Sunday school at 8:30 a. m. At the morning service there will be special Epiphany music.

Gets Dog Back—R. M. Kyle who advertised last night in The Times for a lost Shepherd dog today recovered the animal. The dog strayed from Kyle's new home in South Marshfield and went back to the old place where Roy Wiggins now lives and the latter on seeing the ad notified Mr. Kyle of its whereabouts.

AMONG THE SICK

Mrs. W. A. Reid who has been quite ill of pleurisy is reported improved today.

L. D. Smith, of Daniels Creek, who has been quite ill, is reported to be improving rapidly.

Mrs. A. J. Drews underwent a successful operation at the Mercy Hospital this morning.

SKIPPER SNAPS STORM

Pictures taken by Captain Charles C. Dixon, of the four-masted British bark Elginshire, are snapshots such as are seldom seen, for they are taken of storms at sea, from the bridge of his ship. Ofttimes the photographing skipper tied himself in the rigging in order to get a snap of some big roller tumbling aboard over the weather rail.

In years at sea, Capt. Dixon has taken his kodak with him over the seven seas. His pictures would fill volumes. Some of them are copyrighted and may be found on sale in London.

On a recent trip across the Pacific from Fusan, Korea, in ballast, his vessel was hit by a typhoon. With the vessel stripped of most of her canvas, some of which blew out of the bolt ropes with reports like husky cannon going into action, the captain got out his kidak and took some startling pictures showing the way big seas waltz up to a ship and tumble aboard. He even took snaps of the sailors caught in the waist of the ship by a big sea and hanging onto the lifelines for dear life.

Dance tonight, Finnish Hall, Martin's Orchestra.

PERSONAL MENTION

M. C. MALONEY was called to Coquille this morning on business.

C. R. PECK went over on the morning train to the county seat on legal business.

GEORGE ROSS, prominent dairyman of Catching Inlet, was down today on a business trip.

FRANK B. WAITE returned this morning from Coquille, where he went yesterday on tax matters.

TOM T. BENNETT was among the legal visitors at Coquille, going over on the morning train.

W. C. LAIRD, Deputy Sheriff, came from Coquille this morning and went over to Kentuck Inlet on business.

BEN S. FISHER left on the stage this morning for Portland, called there as a witness for the government in the Shook case.

J. S. BARTON, in the abstract business at Coquille, was among the business visitors here today, returning home on the morning train.

ARNO MEREEEN, superintendent of the C. A. Smith interests, is expected here about Jan. 15 from San Francisco where he has been on business.

CLARK FENSLER, who has been here in the Hub stores for the past few weeks, expects to return to his home in Myrtle Point tomorrow morning.

CHIEF JACK CARTER "slicked up" today and left on the beach stage for Portland, called there as a witness in the Shook white slavery case.

CLAUDE THOMPSON, of the Coos Bay Produce Company, has gone to Portland on a business trip. He will probably go to Hood River also to visit his parents before returning.

MRS. C. S. HILBORN is here from Millicoma today. She is seventy-nine years old but is hale and hearty. She does all her own housework and boards two teachers. She says that when school is out, she is going to take a real vacation for the balance of her days.

MISS KATE SARGENT, of Seattle, who for the past six weeks has been visiting her cousin, Miss Eva West in this city, will leave for home Monday and will be accompanied by Miss West. Miss Sargent expects to leave the latter part of the month for Alaska where she will reside.

G. W. TRIBBEY expects to leave on the next trip of the Adeline Smith for San Diego, where he will spend some time at the exposition. R. N. Fenton, formerly director of the Coos Bay Band, is now at San Diego, having gone there from Richmond, California, where he has been the past month.

E. K. JONES, who has just returned from a business trip to Portland, says the outlook for 1916 could not be brighter and that all the wholesalers are looking for a phenomenal year. Mr. Jones says that very slow progress is being made on the Southern Pacific bridge across the Umpqua and he doubts if they will be able to have trains cross there as soon as some anticipate.

MAKE FINE DISPLAY

GUNNERY COMPLETES EXHIBIT OF COLLECTION

Fine Canvas Scenes of Coos Bay Form Background for Display of Local Animal and Bird Life

An art and taxidermy display has just been put in by The Gunnery that is attracting much attention and winning much praise from those who have seen it. Nearly 150 specimens of Coos County bird and animal life are displayed. Many of the specimens were on display in the Oregon building at the San Francisco Exposition.

Two large canvas scenes of Coos Bay by Roy Lawhorne form the background for the exhibit. The pictures are cleverly done.

The taxidermist work is largely that of True Saling who assisted in placing the mounted birds and animals. Some of the work was done by Jay B. Tower.

The collection and display is not only interesting to Coos County people but will be especially valuable to visitors and no one should miss seeing it.

ANOTHER BIG TIMBER DEAL

Two timber deals, one of five million feet and one of twenty million feet, have just been consummated. These are but feelers, or forerunners of bigger things in the timber market. Now comes a bona fide inquiry for one billion feet from an Eastern syndicate. When big capital is interested to the extent of a billion feet of timber in Coos County it foreshadows an era of prosperity greater than even the more optimistic anticipate.

Even the marketing of the timber from the Water Company's tract, which is now tearing up the streets of our city, means more than the clearing off of the land, for it is paving the way toward a greater Marshfield. This tract is located advantageously for immediate platting and will add greatly to the value of the Petham Park property, which is now being rapidly developed and offers splendid opportunities for investment at present values. Marshfield is in for a prosperous year and it behooves all who are permanently located here to keep step with progress. Just see Reid about it and profit by the big things in store.
