What Is Home Without Music?

No longer is an instrument considered a luxury. It is considered one of the essentials—one of the factors that make the fireside a pleasant place for the members of the family and for the friends. Nothing can take its place.

Just because you cannot pay all cash for the instrument you desire is no reason why you should deprive yourself and your family of the pleasure that an instrument will mean. We have arranged an easy-payment system, whereby with a small amount of cash you can secure the instrument and pay for it month by month.

Just now we have an overstock of second-hand pianos, taken in trade, and in part payment on new instruments. Some of these are excellent instruments and in order to sell them we will have placed a very low price on them. Come in and see them, try them out and see if they will not be sufficient for your present needs. If your family is young and the children just beginning their musical education you will find among these instruments one that will be best for you.

While the Christmas rush depleted our stock of Victors, we still have a good selection of machines, all moderately priced, which we can immediately deliver. If you desire a higher grade instrument, we can send in a special order. Now that the Christmas rush is over, a few new Victor records will add to evening joys at home. Come in and play our records and select the ones you wish.
