Gets Many Answers.—A party advertising in the Times for a small ranch has received about a dozen answers so far. The large number of responses was a surprise to him as he had hitherto been unaware of the pulling power of Times want ads.

Dog Poisoned.—F. D. Cohan's bulldog, "Doc," was poisoned last night and today it was doubtful if the animal would recover, although Mr. Cohan is doing everything to save the animal, including special long distance advice from Dr. Masson, a veterinarian, at Myrtle Point.

Is Seriously Ill.—The many friends of Frank Dillon will regret to learn that news from Los Angeles says that he continues very ill at his home there. His mother, Mrs. J. Baptist Church Social.—Next Wednesday evening at the First Baptist Church will be held a New Year's rally and a good old-fashioned get-together social. All the members and friends of the congregation are cordially invited to attend this affair, for the success of which every effort is being put forth by the various committees. A program will be given and refreshments will be served.

LOGGING TRUCKS UP

COUNCIL TO DISCUSS QUESTION OF STREET DAMAGE TONIGHT

Warning of Southern Pacific Attorney That Railroad Must be Protected Causes New Angle

NO FINAL ACTION ON FRANCHISE YET

City Recorder Butler stated this afternoon that he did not expect the ordinance relieving the Southern Pacific of its hourly service franchise requirement would be finally passed tonight as there had not been sufficient time to draft the ordinance. The matter will probably be discussed, though.

It is expected that there will be a lively session of the Marshfield City Council tonight over the McDonald & Condon logging trucks operating through the city. The ordinance relieving the Southern Pacific of its hourly motor car service between Marshfield and North Bend is expected to come up, but not as much interest centers in it as in the logging truck question.

Want Protection

Attorney Ralph Moody, of the Southern Pacific the other night called the attention of the Council to the fact that the Southern Pacific would insist on being protected against the damage done to the paving along the tracks by the logging trucks, declaring that "it was extraordinary traffic, for which the railroad company would not be responsible."

A large portion of the damage done by the logging trucks has been done along the railroad tracks, the logging trucks being operated with a view of riding the rails. The Southern Pacific is supposed to be either responsible for the upkeep of the paving between the rails and for a foot on either side. As the paving near the rails is guarded with a row of wood blocks, the latter have suffered much.

Just what the Council will do tonight is uncertain, but some of the members are said to be expressing themselves rather emphatically about the matter.

Ordinance Ready

City Attorney Brand will have the ordinance relieving the railroad company ready for enactment tonight and apparently the only question about its enactment will be over the wording of the ordinance. Some of the Councilmen feel that care should be taken that the ordinance will not permanently relieve the railroad company, but merely release them for a period of five years, and nothing in it will waive any of the rights that the city has under the franchise.
