SAVE BOAT USED TO TEST A GAS BOMB

Animal On Which Experiment Was Made Is Nursed Back to Life Again

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)
LONDON, Jan. 19.—A goat was selected to test a new type of gas bomb at an experimental station back of the firing line in France, writes a correspondent, escaped the ordeal and has now been nursed back to health.
For want of other animals to experiment on, the goat was borrowed by the army scientists from a neighboring farm and let down into a trench. A bomb was exploded in the trench, and a few minutes later the goat, weeping and apparently suffering great inward discomfort, was lifted out. The veterinary surgeon then prescribed an alkaline ball for the goat, which soon recovered sufficiently to be able to eat appetizing mashes with a spoon.
Men often volunteer for experiments of this kind, but they go into the gas pits muzzled. They do not test the deadliness of the bomb, as did the goat, but try out the latest inventions in gas helmets.

NEW FRENCH LOAN REGARDED ATTRACTIVE

Said to Be One of Best Government Securities Launched Since the War Started

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)
LONDON, Jan. 19.—The London financial papers point to the new French loan as the most attractive government security that has been launched since the beginning of the war. The price of 88 per cent of the five per cent rate means a yield of nearly 5 3/4 per cent, while the English or American investor, with the additional advantage of an unusual exchange rate, obtains a yield considerably higher.
It is interesting to note in this connection what happened to the French loans issued in connection with the Franco-Prussian war of 1870. In spite of the fact that on that occasion France was defeated and was required to pay a heavy indemnity, the loans quickly rose to par. The French loans of 1870 and 1872, bearing 5 per cent interest, were issued at $2.50 and $4.50. By 1870 they were quoted in the market at as high as 106, and they went on rising until 1880 they reached 120.85, their highest. They were subsequently converted.

20,000,000 PERSONS WILL BE DESTROYED

Professor in England Says That Will Be the Total After Two Years of Fighting

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)
LONDON, Jan. 19.—"The total destruction of life during two years of war will reach 20,000,000 persons," declared Professor Louis C. Parkes, of the Government Health Service, at the annual meeting of the Royal Institute of Sanitarians, just concluded here.
The speaker expressed the hope, however, that this loss of life might somehow prove a blessing in disguise, resulting eventually in a distinct improvement in European civilization.
"In the past ages," said Prof. Parkes, "evolution of higher types in animal and vegetable life has generally resulted from cataclysmic changes, and great destruction by plague, pestilence, and famine has led to an advance in civilization. So it is possible that this Armageddon may be of ultimate benefit to humanity."
Touching on the lowering birth-rate in Great Britain, the speaker declared that every country in Europe has shown a decreasing birth-rate during the past decade, with the exception of Bulgaria, Rumania and Ireland.

HARVARD A SOLDIER

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)
LONDON, Jan. 19.—Among the commissions in the Army recently appears the name of Lionel De Jersey Harvard, the descendant of John Harvard, who was graduated last June at the American college of which his ancestor was the founder. Young Harvard has been granted a lieutenancy in the Grenadier Guards, three battalions of which have already served in Flanders and of which a fourth is now in training in England.

RAISE THE PAY

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—Eleven hundred employees of the Corn Products Refining Company at Argo, a few miles west of Chicago, will receive a ten per cent increase in wages, January 15, according to announcement today. The increase will amount to about $140,000 a year.

MANY UNIVERSITY MEN HAVE FALLEN

Roll of Honor at Berlin Institution Includes Both Professors and Students of Different Branches

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)
BERLIN, Jan. 19.—At the University of Berlin the roll of honor of its students and professors who have fallen in the present war already covers three large black boards, which are surrounded by laurel wreaths, in the main lobby of the central building. These tablets contain the names of 8 professors and lecturers, one official, and not less than 241 students. Among the latter are 32 students of theology, 50 of law, 27 of medicine, and 123 of various branches of the philosophical department.

LIMITS OF ORXFORD HAVE BEEN EXTENDED

In Doing So One of the Old Traditions of the English University Are Broken

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)
OXFORD, Eng., Jan. 19.—The announcement that the official "boundaries" of Oxford University have been extended to include all the country within a radius of three and a half miles of "Carfax", alters one of the most venerable and binding regulations of the ancient University.
Hitherto "residence" at Oxford University, which is one of the requisites for a degree, has meant a house or lodgings within a radius of one and a half miles. The extension of the limits is a concession to the speeding up of locomotion in these modern days.
"Carfax", from which as a center the frontiers are measured, is the college term for the meeting place of High Street and three other thoroughfares in the center of the city. The word is a corruption from the medieval Latin "suadifurcus" or four-forked.

NATIONAL PORTRAIT GALLERY IS CLOSED

Many of Most Interesting of the Paintings Have Been Taken to Place of Greater Safety

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)
LONDON, Jan. 19.—Unknown to the vast majority of Londoners, the National Portrait Gallery shut its doors several weeks ago to remain closed until after the war. The work of transporting the more important portraits of British monarchs and celebrities to a place of greater safety began some months ago, so the collection had lost much of its interest to sightseers.
The National Portrait Gallery lies just behind the National Gallery, which faces Trafalgar Square. While the most celebrated paintings have been taken from the National Gallery, the minor works of the great masters and the best work of the lesser painters remain, and the art critic who is employed by the government to lecture to visitors on the various schools of painting conducts his daily class.
Owing to their more isolated positions, the Tate and Wallace collections have not suffered materially through fear of Zeppelin raids.

WRITER MUST ENLIST

California Is Called Upon to Serve in French Army

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—James M. Hopper, the California novelist, who is now in Paris as a magazine correspondent, has been ordered to report for duty in the French army on the theory that he is a citizen of France, according to information received here, it became known last night in a cablegram to his father-in-law, Joseph A. Leonard of this city, in which Hopper appeals for aid in proving his American citizenship.
"There is some initial expense in having a picture taken and a cut made, but the publisher of the nearest paper will attend to the details and afterward will do the printing reasonably."

GOVERNOR SAYS GAME AND SONG BIRDS NEED HELP

Make Plea that Coos County People Feed and Save Them from Becoming Extinct

Deputy Game Warden Thomas has received a letter from William L. Finley, the state biologist in which the latter states that Governor Withycombe has asked that the game wardens do all that they can to interest the farmers and others to feed game and song birds during the cold. It is stated that if the birds are not fed they will starve to death.

In other parts of the state pheasants and other birds have died in large numbers because of the snow on the ground and their inability to find any food, and the conditions in Coos county are equally as bad. There never was a time when the birds had so hard a fight to live as right now and some interest on the part of the people, especially those in the rural districts, will save the extinction of the birds of both the song and game varieties which are so much desired.

A little help in putting out feed where the birds may find it is the only way the feathered tribes can be saved and the governor through Mr. Finley makes a strong appeal to the deputy game warden to interest the people to take an interest in the matter.

FILED FOR RECORD

Deed for Siuslaw River Station Received But No Fee

EUGENE, Ore., Jan. 19.—A deed to the property for the government coast guard or life saving station at the mouth of the Siuslaw river was received at the office of the Lane county clerk for record, but it will be held until the necessary recording fee is received from the treasury department.

The deed is from Charlotte J. Cox, Lily M. Hurd and Charles J. Cox, and conveys to the government 4.13 acres of land in section 15, township 18, south of range 12 west. The consideration is nominal. The deed was executed by the grantors November 4, 1915, and sent to the treasury department for approval.

Government engineers visited the site of the proposed life-saving station a few weeks ago, and it is believed that the erection of the necessary buildings will be begun within a short time.

COACH LEAVES EUGENE

Leo Malarkey Goes to Portland to Enter Business

EUGENE, Ore., Jan. 18.—Leo J. Malarkey, a junior at the University and for the past football season coach of the freshman team, left Eugene for Portland, where he will join the wholesale fish and oyster firm of Malarkey & Co.

Mr. Malarkey, or "Tick" as he was better known to Eugene people, played halfback on the University football team for two years. This year he was kept out of the game on account of his eyesight. This year he acted as freshman coach.

GOOD PRINTING FOR FARMER TO SWELL HIS RECEIPTS

EUGENE, Jan. 19.—The Lane County farmer can swell his annual receipts by using good printing and by occasionally advertising in the papers of his county, says D. W. Morton, dean of the new school of commerce of the University of Oregon.

A farm letterhead should carry the name of the farm, the name of the owner, the location of the farm and perhaps a small picture of some feature of the place, says Dean Morton, who regards the farmer as a business man with a substantial investment upon which he should make every effort to pay interest.

"It gives a farmer a certain business standing if he has a neat letterhead of good stock and it improves the value of his farm to have a name and something of an individuality," he said.

"There is some initial expense in having a picture taken and a cut made, but the publisher of the nearest paper will attend to the details and afterward will do the printing reasonably."
