STOP LOGGING OPERATIONS ON MARSHFIELD STREETS

The strict enforcement of the new city ordinance will effectually stop the logging operations through the streets of Marshfield. This would work a severe hardship on McDonald and Condon, who have considerable money invested, and would also mean the loss of their pay roll to Marshfield. Can we afford this? It is true the logging trucks are playing havoc with our streets, but the damage has already been done. Another thing, Marshfield is gaining an experience that should mean the saving of thousands of dollars in the future if we will but profit by it. We need the pay roll. We need the logs, we will soon need to expand in that direction as Perham Park is beginning to build up rapidly and there is a growing demand for property in this direction. The lesson to the city of Marshfield has been a costly one, but it is the first and only severe test our streets have had, so let us profit by our experience and make the most of it. In the end the saving effected will be greater than the present loss sustained.

SUNRISE AND SUNSET

Saturday
January 22—Sun rises at 7:44 and sets at 5:02.

BORN

CRABTREE—Born to Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Crabtree, of Tenth street, Jan. 22, a son. This is the third child.

Letters From Sweden.—A letter received direct from Sweden says "business is good in Sweden but prices are so high that they all are longing for the end of the war."

Lumberman Here.—R. H. Lee, manager of the San Francisco office of the Simpson Lumber Company, arrived on the Adeline Smith and will visit at North Bend for a few days on business.

Finishing Building.—L. L. Thomas who has just returned states that Mr. Windsor of North Bend is putting the finishing touches on the new B B block there a handsome building, two stories high and 100 feet square.

Fear Freshets.—W. J. Hill of the Smith-Powers Logging company came in last night from Powers and returned this morning. He says that a warm rain will result in one of the worst freshets the Coquille valley has known in years.

Rumor Wedding.—According to parties from Powers, Claire Swaine, who is well known here, will shortly join the ranks of the Benedicts, claiming as a bride a well known young woman of the new Metropolis of southern Coos county.

Improving Some.—A letter received yesterday stated that George W. Loggie, of Bellingham, Wash, a brother of Peter Loggie of North Bend was slightly improved. He is very ill but attending physicians state hopes of his recovery.

Court to Open.—Court will open at Coquille on Monday, when the case of Mert Jennings, accused of two hold-ups in North Bend at Christmas time, will be up for trial. Deputy Sheriff W. C. Laird two days ago summoned a list of witnesses to appear.

Open Pullman.—Frank Denning and Cell Ireland plan to open the Pullman February 1 as a soft drink establishment and card room. They plan to alter the interior some but most of the old bar fixtures will be retained so that the appearance will not be unlike the days of yore.

Stockholders Meet.—Charles Hall, president of the Coos and Curry telephone company, is in Portland where he is attending the annual meeting of the stockholders. He expects to return during the latter part of next week, remaining over in Eugene on Thursday to attend the banquet there of the Commercial Club.

Finish Hearing Later.—The hearing for the present in the W. G. Webster heirs versus S. C. Rogers case has been postponed, but it is expected it will all be concluded within about 10 days. So far Stephen C. Rogers and L. A. Roberts, of Myrtle Point, have been the only witnesses examined, both of these being for the defense.

Open Up National.—Mirrasoul Bros. have opened the old National bar as a soft drink and card room. John Snyder is in charge. The bar and backbar remain and about the only difference in appearance is the addition of the card tables and chairs. A near beer, Hopski, is being put on draught which adds to the similarity of appearance to the days of old but the drink minus the "kick".

Hold Special Election.—This evening Eastside is holding a special election to vote on the proposition of whether or not the school building shall be used as a civic center. The question was raised lately when religious services have been conducted in the school. The school directors decided to submit the measure to the people so as to absolve themselves of any responsibility in acting in the matter.

Foreman Weds.—Eugene L. Grant foreman of the Smith-Powers Camp Seven at Powers, and Mrs. Myrtle A. Jones of Bridge were married at Coquille a few days ago. The bride is the sister of the wife of Mr. Grant's brother, Frank Grant. Mr. Grant is well known in Marshfield and his many friends here will unite in extending congratulations although the news of the nuptials came as somewhat of a surprise to them.

Goes to Auto Show.—Geo. Goodrum will leave tomorrow for Portland to attend the Portland Auto show and look over all the new models and makes of cars which will be on exhibition there. He will also attend a meeting of the auto dealers and garage men of the state which will be held there at the same time for the purpose of making the business more uniform and giving better service to traveling motorists. He will also make a trip of inspection over the new Columbia Highway to get ideas for Good Roads Work in Coos county, he having been appointed chairman of the highway committee of the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce.

Case is Compromised.—The case of George Dohus versus Charles Fatis for the collection of a board bill, was closed late yesterday afternoon in Judge Penneck's court and the judge had the plaintiff and the defendant get together and affect a compromise. Dohus was suing for $28.75 and by agreement he received $17.50 and each side paid $5 in costs, though this does not include the attorney's fees which went higher. The case caused considerable excitement among the local Greeks, many of whom filled into the court room as previous to the case some of the witnesses and others of the case had met in a fight at the Greek coffee house, north Front street.
