letter from friends in San Diego where the floods are now taking place. The letter came from there to San Francisco via steamship, all of the railroad tracks being out of commission in the vicinity of the city. It said that a good share of the business district of San Diego is under water. This is situated on a low, level plateau. Pneumonia is prevalent in that section on account of the heavy rains and the cold.

Paper is Served.—Deputy Sheriff A. P. Davis came over this morning with legal papers to serve. One of the suits he found had been cleared up before he arrived here. The other was the suit of A. T. Lewis versus Robert Nagatt, J. M. Wright, D. Howard Savage and the Smith Powers logging company. The suit is brought for about $132 claimed to be due the plaintiff for work and materials furnished the Virginia Grill at Powers.

Takes No Action.—According to A. S. Hamilton who returned last evening from Coquille, no further action has been taken by the county court regarding the Kinney tax question. He said that Judge Watson put him off indefinitely and that F. B. Waite is making due preparations to fight the tax foreclosure suits of the county court. Mr. Hammond was given no assurance that the matter will be taken up at the February meeting of the county court.

Van Duyn Missing.—The face of Charley Van Duyn behind the counter at the Chandler Hotel this morning was conspicuous by its absence. His resignation took effect today after six years in the capacity of head clerk. Many of the old timers came in, leaned confidentially across the counter and chirked out, "Say Mckeown who answered 'What?' in the meantime, Van Duyn expects to take a regular rest and he says that for once in his life he's going to sleep late in the morning.

Taking Testimony.—In the law office of Stoll and Hodge, testimony was taken today before A. B. Lord, a referee, in the case of Charles Sneddon versus Ellen Sneddon for the recovery of property. The testimony of the husband and wife was taken some time ago. With the completion of the present witnesses the evidence will be submitted to Judge Skipworth at Eugene for a decision. The estate involved consists of quite a bit of property. Mr. Sneddon claims that he gave the property to his wife, in trust.

To Demonstrate Monotones.—On Thursday afternoon Miss Anna Volz, instructor in music and art in the Marshfield high schools, will give an interesting demonstration at the Central School with her monotones. There are children who are ordinarily unable to sing in more than one tone. Miss Volz by giving them special training has been able to change them greatly and has done some very encouraging work in this respect. The hour is 2:30 p. m. and the parents especially are invited to attend.

RAISING MONEY MADE EASY

A lady residing in the suburbs of Marshfield was recently engaged in raising money to pay off the indebtedness on a small chapel. She was somewhat at a loss how to start in and in despair she turned to her husband for advice who promptly replied "better See Reid About It." Now the moral to this should be "it pays to advertise" but in this particular instance it did not prove very profitable to the advertiser. If you are raising money for a church you had better "Talk to Thomas," but if you are looking for a real snappy buy in real estate just "See Reid About It." "There's a reason."
