DRINK SIX GLASSES OF WATER DAILY

An Interesting Statement by One of the Big Men in the Drug Business of Houston, Texas, says: "If you have a muddy complexion and dull eyes, you are constipated. Six glasses of water daily and one or two Rexas Orderlies at night will correct this condition and make you fit as a fiddle."

A. E. KIESLING

Rexas Orderlies, in my opinion, are the best laxative to be had, and can be taken by men, women or children.

We have the exclusive selling rights for this great laxative. Trial size, 10 cents. Lockhart Parsons Drug Co. THE REXALL STORE

SUNRISE AND SUNSET

Thursday February 3 — Sun rises at 7:13 and sets at 5:15

No Mail Today.—The mail failed to come through on the morning train from Coquille, not having reached the county seat from Roseburg at that time. It is not known at the postoffice just where the mail was held up.

Looks Us Over.—S. Dike Hooper, of the Eugene Commercial Club, and E. J. Frazier, also of Eugene, remained over today, visiting about the city. This morning they were over at the C. A. Smith mill. They expect to leave tomorrow for Eugene.

Times Ad Did It.—Phil Emery lost a chain off one of the wheels of his auto some days ago. It was found and advertised in The Times and through the want ad Emery recovered his property. Times Want Ads get results because everyone on Coos Bay reads The Times.

Change to New Office.—The Coos Bay Produce Company has secured a larger office by moving in with Frank Catterlin, local representative of Lang & Company. Also they have erected a fence marking off sufficient dock space at the Smith Terminal dock to handle their shipments as they come in on the boats.

Is New Representative.—J. A. Hale, of Portland, has arrived here to be the representative in Coos and Curry Counties of Mason, Ehrman & Company, wholesale grocers of Portland. This position was formerly held by Frank Catterlin, who is now with Lang & Company. Mr. Hale will have an office on the Smith Terminal dock.

Prohibitionists to Meet.—Tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Epworth League Hall of the Methodist Church, the Prohibitionists of the northern part of the county will meet in session until 6:30 p. m. Ray G. Grounds, field superintendent of the Oregon Prohibition State Committee, assisted by P. A. Wells, will have charge of the services. Later the men will go to Coquille to hold a meeting in that section.

Looks After Hatchery.—Charles St Dennis, of Lakeside, came in yesterday to attend the banquet last evening and also to see that interest does not lag in the proposition of securing a state fish hatchery for Ten Mile lakes. The matter has been submitted to the State Fish and Game Commission. If no state aid is given it is the intention of Mr. St. Dennis to arrange some plan whereby the stocking of the lake can be carried out.

County May Aid.—Hark Dunham, juvenile officer, returned to Coquille this morning to make his report to the County Court now in session, regarding his investigation of the C. A. Coffin family at South Inlet. There he found abject poverty, the family of nine almost without anything to eat. There were seven children, ranging from two to 16 years of age, the oldest being a boy. Neither the father nor older son are working. Mr. Dunham said that the neighbors have been looking after the family to a large extent.

Clean Out Coal Bunkers.—Men today were busy cleaning out the Southern Pacific coal bunkers near the depot. Superintendent Miller said that no more coal will be placed in the bunkers and that in all probability the structure will be later torn down. Mr. Miller said there is no need of rebuilding as hereafter coal from Coos Bay will to a great extent be shipped out of here via the Willamette Pacific.

Band School Election.—District Attorney Liljeqvist has ruled that the school election in the Two Mile district near Bandon January 10 was defective, because instead of keeping the polls open the hours stated in the petition, the ballot box was closed part of the time. Two questions were voted upon and while they were counting the first ballots, no voting was allowed. The proposition to move the school house carried, but a bonding issue was a tie.

SOME BIG BANQUET Who said that the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce was dead? Secretary Hooper, of the Eugene Chamber of Commerce was completely flabbergasted when he entered the banquet hall last evening. He frankly admitted that we had not one over on Eugene. Never in the history of Marshfield has there been such an assembly of representative men and boosters. Even a few of the knockers turned out just to see what was going on and they were immediately converted into boosters. The banquet was full of pep, from start to finish and every man present is going to join hands with the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce and help bring about some of the big things in store for Coos Bay during the year 1916. Let's get behind and push. We need you more than we need your money. See Reid about it and "Let Us Talk It Over."

The Tragedy of The Grippe

TO THE rural community centering in Gravel Ford, Coos County, Oregon, the month of January, 1916 has been significantly fatal in the loss of its oldest members.

On the 5th Mrs. Sarah Bennett, age 87, who was living with her son, J. D. Bennett, died after an illness of five days. In an adjacent cottage dwelling happily together two aged sisters have spent many pleasant years, looked after and enjoying the loving attention of their many relatives and friends.

The 10th, however, witnessed the death of the younger, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Goodrich, aged 84 years, 6 months. Mrs. Goodrich lost her first husband, Andrew Coffman, during the Civil War, followed close after by the death of her four children. Her second husband, Capt. Goodrich, died 23 years ago.

The eventful chapter closed on the 28th with the death of the remaining sister, Mrs. Mary A. Bunch, aged 89 years, 10 1/2 months. Mrs. Bunch was the widow of a veteran of the Mexican and Civil Wars, Lt. Col. J. C. Bunch, who is buried in Florida. She was also the mother of ten children, eight of whom are living. Prof. F. S. Bunch, of Walla Walla College, Mrs. Alice Holt, of St. Helena, California, and Mrs. Hattie Airey, of Cadwell, Idaho, could not be with their mothers during her last sickness. The others, Mrs. A. E. Watkins, W. H. Bunch, Mrs. J. D. Bennett, C. H. Bunch and Mrs. May Bright, are residents of the county and gave their aged parent every possible attention.

Besides her eight living children, Mrs. Bunch has 38 grand children and six great grandchildren. The most widely known of the family are W. H. Bunch, who served as County Superintendent of Schools for Coos County for eight and one half years, and F. S. Bunch, whose educational and ministerial work extended to many parts of the Northwest.

Of her grandsons, two at least fill positions of prominence, Edw. T. G. Bunch, president of the North-Pacific Conference of Seventh Day Adventists with headquarters at Roseburg and Fred G. Bunch, assistant manager and city editor of the San Francisco Examiner.

The neighbors buried these grand old women side by side in the Gravel Ford Cemetery. Though the ground was covered with snow the fresh mounds of earth were covered with flowers displaying the kindness and sympathy of thoughtful friends.

IS TO START BUILDING Newman Moon Secures a Lease on Ground Fronting on Broadway N. Moon has secured a lease on the 60 feet fronting on Broadway and extending east to the rear of the Blanco Hotel, and expects to start work at once.

There will be considerable dirt to be removed. This will be done this month and about March 1 will see the work started on the brick veneer building that is to be 60 by 100 feet and will probably be for store purposes. The building will cost about $3000.

AMONG THE SICK

Mrs. E. L. Hopson, of West Marshfield, is reported quite sick. Arno Meehan, of the C. A. Smith Company, is recuperating from a severe siege of la grippe.

HIG GATHERING AT GEO. P. LAIRD'S PLACE TODAY

Hundreds Invited to Inspect the Modern Equipment on Coquille River Ranch. County Agriculturalist J. L. Smith, accompanied by W. E. Meyer, of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, and Prof. Barr, of O. A. C. left this morning for Riverton where they will be present at the Farmers' Frolic of Geo. P. Laird's big new barn. The men expect to return here later for a meeting. They will reorganize the cow testing associations in the Coquille Valley for another year.

Mr. Laird made the gathering at his farm a historic event for the Coquille Valley. Hundreds of invitations were sent out to different parts of the country and a big committee has charge of the arrangements and entertainment of the people. Mr. Laird is completing one of the most modern dairy farms in the county. He has a new house on the place and his barn and outbuildings are probably the most modern in this part of the state.

He has secured blooded Holstein cattle and will conduct the dairy in the most modern way. M. G. Lutesey, the cheese maker, is his dairy manager.
