Correct Bar Reports
R. M. Jennings started a movement to have correct information concerning the depth of water on the Coos Bay bar and the safety of ship-ping from here sent to all ship owners and others along the coast. He said that the shipping companies had erroneous ideas and thought that Coos Bay was shallow and dangerous.

He cited statements by the Union Oil company manager at Tacoma last week. He said that the latter informed him that the company was opposed to sending its oil tank vessel to Coos Bay on this account. Mr. Jennings corrected his understanding.

Michie Coming Back
Mr. Jennings said that it was brought up by a request from Capt. Folhemus and Major Potter to Mr. Jennings to have the Dredge Michie contract for a two years supply of fuel oil. He said the letters indicated that the Michie would be kept steadily at work here for the next two years.

WIRE CREWS LEAVE

CALLED TO PORTLAND TO AID IN RESTORING SERVICE THERE.

Communication Over Willamette-Pacific Is Delayed Several Days—Wires in Massing Triangle.

Delay of the construction of the Western Union line to Eugene along the Willamette-Pacific right of way has been occasioned because the crews have been withdrawn in order to re-establish telegraph communication in the vicinity of Portland.

Since Wednesday afternoon until 5:30 last evening it was an impossibility to get a telegram into Portland. The silver thaw had broken trees across the wires, the ice in some places had so weighted the lines that they sagged and snapped and at still others the poles had come crashing into the streets and highways.

As soon as the condition between Portland and Salem became so bad hurried calls were dispatched to the two wire crews working toward each other along this new line. Otto Schetter, local agent, said this morning that they would be returned here very soon now and have but a few more days of work on the line.

RATE $50 A THOUSAND

Big Price Will Be Paid the Schooner Inca

Perhaps the highest rate ever paid for similar tonnage will be paid the owners of the schooner Inca to take a cargo of lumber from some North Pacific port out to South Africa. The rate will be 200 shillings or $50 a thousand.

The Inca has a capacity of 1,300,000 feet, hence her gross earnings for the trip will be $65,000. The average voyage out is about 100 days for a sailer.

This vessel is 215 feet in length and has a net tonnage capacity of 901.

Anson Rogers' Fine New Buick

WELL KNOWN MARSHFIELD MAN ON MOTOR TRIP IN THE NEW BUICK SIX 1916, SEVEN-PASSENGER TYPE CAR.

ANSON O. ROGERS, the well known Marshfield capitalist, who is one of the most ardent auto enthusiasts on the Bay, has the honor of being the first Coos County possessor of a 1916 Buick Six. The above picture of his car shows Mr. Rogers, Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. F. M. Parsons, Mrs. S. C. Small and Mrs. Eugene Crosthwaite leaving for a motor trip.

Mr. Rogers is an ardent Buick enthusiast and in talking of his car today, said: "I have owned several cars and am familiar with most types, but the Buick is far ahead of them all. In fact, I consider it a perfect car in every way. Before buying a new car, I made a careful examination of all cars on exhibit at the San Francisco Exposition. I did not rely altogether on my own judgment, but had the advice of William Wade, the well known Marshfield expert machinist, who was there with me. The Buick had many superior points in its favor and on my return I had George Goodrum, Coos and Curry representative of the Buick, order a car for me.

"Since receiving it, I have driven over 1,000 miles and so far I have not spent a cent for repairs. It is a great hill climber and is especially adapted for Coos county roads. The Cantilever rear springs make it an easy rider. In fact, I have not found a single fault in the car and it has more than come up to my expectations. My Brother-in-Law A. S. Eldridge is the Buick representative for Washington, Idaho and Alaska and last season sold more than 1,000 cars, showing that the Buick's superiority is appreciated by autoists everywhere. Aside from the beauty of the 1916 Buick Big Six, it is easily handled, under perfect control at all times. The Buick cannot be highly praised."

Only a Few Days More to Secure Fine Navajo Rugs

Within a few days, we will take the balance of our display of genuine rugs off the market. These rugs came direct from John Lee Clark of Albuquerque, New Mexico, and were delayed in shipment. We will send all left back to him after a few days more. Owing to the delay in transit we marked these rugs down far below the ordinary selling price.

This is an exceptional opportunity to secure one of these rare productions in Rugs at exactly the same prices you would pay in Albuquerque. It will pay you to make a trip to the store, even if you do not wish to buy, as the exhibit alone is well worth seeing. It is one of the largest collections of Genuine Navajo Indian Rugs ever shown in Coos County.
