Leave on Adeline—There were five passengers south on the Adeline Smith when she left this morning at 4 o'clock for Oakland. They were Mrs. E. Hogan, Mrs. Fred Lamon, J. H. Flanagan, Paul Dimmick and James McDonald.

Sail on Speedwell—The steam schooner Speedwell had five passengers aboard when she sailed this afternoon for San Francisco and San Pedro. They were N. P. Lapham, H. Gillilan, A. V. Doby, I. M. Cooper, Mrs. I. M. Cooper and S. A. Briggs.

Day Is Observed—The only outward celebrating of Abraham Lincoln's birthday was the closing of the banks. Despite the day has been officially designated by congress as a national holiday, business men decided there are altogether too many holidays in the 366 days of year and stores were open as usual.

Go On First Picnic—Perhaps the first picnic of the year was the one participated in today by several students of the local high school and faculty members, who left in a gasoline boat for the beach, where the day was enjoyably spent. Weather men prophesy that inasmuch as Coos Bay has had some 58 inches of rain already this year that there is now to be a respite and many days during February will be suitable for the holding of picnics.

C. R. PECK and wife and daughter left this afternoon to spend Sunday at their South Coos river home.

CASE IS SETTLED

FOOLROOM BILL AGAINST FOOLISH MINOR IS WITHDRAWN

Defense Made Claim That "Sticking" Loser for Payment of Games Was Gambling

Without even getting to trial, the case of the Liberal Pool and Billiard hall proprietors, against Arthur Craig, for the collection of a pool bill contracted during the time the defendant was a minor, was settled this morning in the justice court.

As the matter stands, there is a victory for the defendant. In the cross complaint filed by the latter, it was alleged that the youth was allowed to play in the hall contrary to the law, because he was then under 21 years of age, and further that the manner of making the loser pay for games was gambling and therefore unlawful.

According to the statement of R. O. Graves, attorney for the defendant, the plaintiffs, Schroeder and Fletener, dismissed the action, relinquishing their attachment and paid the costs of the case.

At the time of the filing of the cross complaint by defendant it was believed that the case would prove something before unsettled in Oregon, that is, whether or not it is gambling for men to play games in pool and billiard halls, making the loser pay the bill.

Bill to Be Paid
G. C. Schroeder later told Judge Pennock that the mother of Arthur Craig had agreed to settle the remainder of the pool and billiard bill, amounting to about $14. He claimed that the case would have been pursued without a settlement, had the young man have been over age at the time the bill was contracted.

Among the Sick
H. H. Stanford, who has been receiving medical treatment at Mercy hospital, returned to his home at Myrtle Point today.

Mrs. James Forty of Bunker Hill underwent an operation at Mercy hospital today and is reported to be getting along nicely.

Mrs. Ingersoll, a nurse at Mercy hospital, left for her home at Lakeside today.
