COOS CLUB SESSION

Mrs. Gus Bergren of North Bend extended her hospitality to the Coos Club at her home Thursday afternoon, when the name of the club was changed to Kluney Klub. The guests spent the time pleasantly in sewing and chat and late in the afternoon were seated at the luncheon tables which were prettily graced with bowls of violets. The club will meet again a week from Thursday with Mrs. John Hill, Mrs. Bergren's guests were Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Neils Welling, Mrs. William Otis, Mrs. Thomas Juza, Mrs. Harry Schaefer, Mrs. John Hill, and Mrs. Boyd Arnett.

DINNER PARTY

A delightful dinner and evening at cards was given Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McInturf for a party of friends who included Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Smith, Mrs. Erroa Torrey Leyland, Misses Una Kinnicut, Ruth Allen and Messrs. Owen Burnett, J. T. Brand, and L. G. Cushing. The home of the host and hostess was artistically decorated with daffodils and greens, the color scheme of yellow being well carried out.

ENTERTAINS AT "500"

Miss Irene Preuss was hostess last Friday evening at one of the most successful social events of the season, that of a progressive "500" party. With the use of daffodils and greens, the dainty color scheme of yellow and green was carried out in the parlor decorations and table favors. The evening playing resulted in Miss Mabel Lang winning lady's high score and to Dr. H. M. Shaw was awarded the gentleman's trophy.

FOR MRS. ENDICOTT

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reid entertained informally at cards last Friday evening for Mrs. S. C. Endicott of Bandon who for several days has been the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Lyons. The guests included Mrs. Endicott, Mr. and Mrs. Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Sullivan, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gettins.

NORWEGIAN LUTHERAN SOCIETY

The Young People's Society of the Norwegian Lutheran church, enjoyed a pleasant social evening last Friday at the church chapel when they were entertained by Miss Jennie Johnson and Peter Thorp. Following the business session, the time was given over to social activities and at a late hour appetizing refreshments were served to Rev. and Mrs. R. O. Thorp, Misses Lila Berge, Klara Larson, Cora Mathisen, Alice Mathisen, and Messrs. H. Peterson, Oliver Larson, Jelmur Refsland Bert Iverson, and Anton Abrahamson.

PLAN SOCIAL EVENTS

While no definite plans have been formed, partial arrangements have been made for a number of social events by the committee appointed by the Millicoma Club board of directors that met with Mr. J. S. Coke last Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of talking over the plan of organizing a ladies' club to which the club rooms will be open on certain

BUYS BIG CANNERY

MACLEAY ESTATE PAYS $11,000 FOR COQUILLE CONCERN.

Will Increase Capacity and Run in Connection With Rogue River Cannery—Peck Closes Deal.

Eleven thousand dollars is the price paid by the MacLeay estate for the plant of the Coquille Valley Fishermen's Co-operating Cannery company on the Coquille river. The deal was consummated on Saturday at Bandon by C. R. Peck, attorney for the estate.

The new addition to the MacLeay estate makes them now the largest salmon cannery in Southwestern Oregon. Already they have a large plant on the Rogue river, one that has been in operation for years and which last season turned out close to 14,000 cases of salmon.

The Coquille river company has a well equipped plant and has been in operation for between five and six years. It is expected that its capacity will be materially increased. The co-operative company is now dissolving.

EDITOR HUSTON, OF FLORENCE, VISITS HERE

Well Known Booster of Oregon Coast Makes His First Trip to Coos Bay Today.

R. L. Huston, editor and publisher of the Sluslaw Pilot, at Florence, and one of the best boosters of the Oregon coast country, is here on his initial visit to Coos Bay. He happened to be a member of the big party which was marooned at the stage depot on the Sluslaw Thursday night and Saturday had to pinch himself to keep awake, having worked all night Wednesday on his paper, and secured little or no sleep Thursday night. He got a few winks after the "ten cent ante" game broke up, and awakened to find himself stretched out on the woodpile with his feet considerably higher than his head and his body sore from the hard improvised mattress.

However even that could not detract from his smile and good nature and his enthusiasm over the boom that is about to strike the coast country.

FOREST NOTES.

Ninety-three per cent of the lumber produced in 1914 in the Northwest was represented by seven species—Douglas fir, western yellow pine, redwood, hemlock, cedar, white pine and larch, covering in amount 7,600,000,000 feet. Of the total lumber cut in the five Northwestern states for 1911, Douglas fir contributed four and three-quarter billion feet, or 58 per cent of the total.

J. A. BAKER HAS EXCITING TIME "CALLING ON THE TRADE"

Comes Through Shows of Northern California and Facts Long Stage Trip Without Blinking

Old Daniel Boone, Buffalo Bill and half a dozen other pioneers and empire builders have nothing on L. A. Baker, local representative of the Folger coffee company. He is just back from an exciting two weeks trip to Crescent City with a tale of exciting adventures, of privation and hardships.

Inasmuch as the little California city is in his territory, Mr. Baker has to make a trip there once in a while. He went down through Gold Beach and from there, via team over the summit and down to Crescent City. To get out of there he took a stage, or rather started on a stage into Grants Pass.

This was during the heavy snows in that section. In some places the snowy mantle was as much as nine feet deep. Four horses on the small hack of a stage, fussed about fondered and often went out of sight. It was a biting cold trip. Baker fearful for his anatomy for the lurching of the hack, he said, had almost pulled him to pieces on the first leg of the journey, got out and walked.

There had been a frost bit igneous before and by carefully watching not to let his feet slip he managed to "mooch" the last 22 miles into Grants Pass.

There he heaved a sigh of relief and thought the terrors of the trip were over. In actuality he had just started. He was in the group of passengers that took three days getting to Coos Bay from Eugene and camped overnight in the little garage at the mouth of the Sluslaw while the wild waves roared, the wind howled, the rain and snow came down and the sand piled in great dunes in front of the doorway of the shack.

PLANS AND SPECIFICATIONS READY FOR WIRELESS

Lieutenant Coman, U. S. N., Here From Mate Island—Local Contractors Have Chance to Bid

Contractors on Coos Bay will very shortly be sent copies of the plans and specifications for the new government wireless station to be situated on Coal Bank Inlet. Lieutenant R. G. Coman, U. S. Navy, arrived yesterday from San Francisco bringing this word. The deed, despite the fact it has been traveling about for months, back and forth, is not yet up to governmental expectations. It must have a change or two made, showing that there are no liens against the property and that the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce has given but the one deed to the land.

Lieutenant Coman went to Bandon this morning, expecting to telephone from there to the Cape Blanco station regarding some matters. He expected to make the entire trip from Mate Island and back in seven days, and has now been nine on the road.

He said that the government wants to get work started as soon as possible. This will probably be the early summer. Local contractors will have the same chance of bidding on the work as will any outsiders.

DETROIT IS BUSY PLACE

H. F. Chaney, Owner of Coos County Timber Lands, Here.

H. F. Chaney arrived here overland from Detroit to visit his brother, C. H. Chaney. Both the brothers own considerable Coos county timber and are interested with A. E. Adelsperger in the A. E. Adelsperger Cruising Company. He was accompanied by E. S. Nichol, also of Detroit.

The party will visit the Valley and look after the timber on the south fork of the Coquille river, expecting to be there a couple of days.

Mr. Chaney says that he is here only on a visit. Detroit is a very busy place now, he says, with the factories working overtime.

The convenience and profit of Times Want Ads will be demonstrated by a trial.

BIG CONTRACTOR SAYS HEAVEN'T COAST ROAD

Statement in Engineering Not Correct, He Says—Line to be Built Later

The Portland Telegram Judge John Twoby, of the Bros. Company, said on the report of the Engineering that the Southern Pacific awarded the contract for the Bay-Eureka line to Twoby that no contract had been awarded his company for constructing proposed railway line. He does not believe the matter of being the line is not now under consideration by the Southern Pacific although in his opinion it will ultimately be taken up.

Much Speculation Here. The denial of the apparently infite report has caused much speculation here. The Engineer News is considered highly reliable and that they would "go over" on the matter is strange, especially since the publication is issued in New York, where the head office of the Southern Pacific could be reached by phone.

Keep Announcement Back. In connection with it, the fact is that the Southern Pacific claims have resolved in the past to secure all their rights of etc., before officially announcing the construction of a line. They said to be due to the expense they had in getting right of way for the Coos Bay-Eugene line they had announced the project.

"TO LIVE A HUNDRED YEARS"

LOS ANGELES, March 6.—Ethel Monnette and Miss Beau have organized a "Club to Live 100 Years" here. The member is determined to spend a century of existence. So far seven Los Angeles girls have the nerve to join. All members must subscribe to and live by the following rules: Rise at the walk around the block rapidly before breakfast. Drink hot water before eating. Avoid hotbeats, fat, ham, bacon and pork. Eat the meat and Fletcher's. Work out among flowers, smiling, laughing, singing. Never get "mad". He, keep late hours, or smoke a nap every afternoon.
