BORN

ADKINS—To Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Adkins at their home near the North Bend-Marshfield line, a 10-pound boy, their fourth child.
Bailey Hurt.—Jerry Doyle, who injured in the Porter mill yesterday was found to be suffering from a fractured pelvis and it is feared that he may have sustained internal injuries. He will be confined to Mercy Hospital for a long time.

Out After Voters.—Not content with the slow manner in which voters have of late been coming to register, Registrar J. T. Brand this morning was about the city signing up voters. He has now more than 500 on his list. Judge Penneck also states that people are slow this year in registering.

Pioneer Here.—J. W. Catching, the well known Catching Inlet pioneer, was here Tuesday and recalled that he had resided in Coos County for forty-four years. He has been a subscriber of The Times for many years and in renewing his subscription today said that he liked the paper better every day.

River Goes Down.—Trammen said this morning that they had no difficulty getting through to Myrtle Point and Powers yesterday. The water of the Coquille river continues to go down again toward normal, though for several days it was above the tracks. Men today are working on the track, putting back any ballast that might have been washed out from the ties.

To Open Hotel.—Mrs. E. M. Johnson and children have returned from Myrtle Point and will probably reopen the Dotson hotel at Second and Curtis soon.

Boy Is Injured.—The five-year-old son of H. M. Davenport, residing in Bangor Addition to North Bend, fell while playing and fractured his thigh bone.

Leg Broken.—According to a report from Myrtle Point, Taylor DeWent, who is mayor of Myrtle Point and also Coos county commissioner, sustained a broken leg as a result of being kicked by a horse. The injury will lay him up for some time.

Porter Mill Shut Down.—A dearth of logs caused the Porter Mill to close down last evening, but it is expected that they will start up again in the morning. The bad weather of the past week closed the logging camps, thus shutting off the supply of logs.

Pupils Did Well.—Ernest C. Lloyd, formerly of Independence, Kansas, came in today from Ross Inlet where he has just closed a six-months' term of school. He reports that Martha Thomson and Katherine Atkinson were neither absent nor tardy during the entire six months.

Portland Excursion.—The Portland Journal announces that Portland business men will come to Coos Bay on the first train that runs through from Eugene to the Umpqua, about April 15, instead of waiting for the completion of the Umpqua bridge in August. The Marshfield Chamber of Commerce wanted them to wait until the big celebration but it seems they are going ahead with the earlier date.

Boats Refuse Booz.—From Bandon there comes a terrible wail. Men from there of late tell a horrible story. They say that none of the boats running into Bandon will accept express shipments of liquor from Coos Bay. Also they claim this in part accounts for the fairly large shipments that arrive on Coos Bay in the various ships from the south. Every boat in from San Francisco and Eureka carried its quota of prohibition transgressors.

Takes Over Other Wing.—N. Moon, proprietor of the Blanco hotel, not content with entirely remodeling the main wing of the well known hostelry, has now taken over the south wing of the building and this, too, is being thoroughly renovated. He is putting on new paper, new carpets for the floors, is painting and in every way fixing up the building for a good business. He has put a sewing room on the second floor for the use of the lady guests of the hotel, which is in addition to a comfortable parlor already equipped.

Land Grant Matter.—Hugh McLain said that he was in favor of calling a Coos county convention to pass resolutions endorsing Senator Chamberlain's bill for settling the land grant question. The Chamberlain bill provides to allow the land grant holders $2.50 per acre and then divide the proceeds from the sale of the land, forty per cent to the county, in which they are located forty per cent to the school fund and twenty per cent to the federal government. Mr. McLain says this disposition would be a great benefit to Coos county.

Mileage Is Whacked Off.—Constable Cox is a new victim of the expense reductions of the county court. During the last month he had several services of papers to make for the county to points outside the city and had to secure conveyances to make the trips. He sent in a bill for mileage, one amounting to $4.70 and today received word from the county court that it has been refused. Now Mr. Cox is wondering how out of town services are to be made when he secures only 50 and 75 cents for the service and no mileage included.

Asleep in Theater.—Earl, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. May of North Marshfield ran away Monday evening and went to the moving picture show. He got drowsy looking at the pictures and fell asleep and remained in the show-house after the crowd had left. He was not noticed when the Noble was locked up. About 11 o'clock Dr. Horsfall heard someone screaming in there and sent for Manager Marsden who found that the lad was badly frightened. His folks thought that the boy had gone out with a relative and did not start to search for him until about the time he was discovered.

Mail Comes Slowly.—Coos Bay mail is still one day behind its schedule, due to road troubles between Roseburg and Myrtle Point. For the first time in several days the paper mail is caught up to date but the letter mail that should have arrived this morning failed to put in an appearance. It is possible that it will come on the evening train from Myrtle Point.

PERSONAL MENTION

DR. J. L. MASSON, of Myrtle Point, was here today on a professional visit.
DR. H. M. SHAW went to Myrtle Point this morning on a professional trip.

MRS. GEORGE GEDDIS, of Coaledo, was among the shopping visitors here today.
CHARLES FENSLER, of the Hub store at Powers is in today on business and pleasure.

L. P. BRANSTETTER left this morning for Coquille, looking after his land business.
GEORGE LARRSON was a passenger to the Valley on the morning train to call on the trade.

CHARLES HALL left on the stage this morning for Salem and later will go to Portland on business.
G. J. LEMANSKI, of the Royal Theatre, went over to Coquille this morning on a business visit.

OTTO MUETZEL, sawmill man of Lakeside, was down today looking after some business matters.
JASPER YOAKAM, well known rancher near Coquille, was over yesterday and today on cattle business.

W. U. DOUGLAS came back on the morning stage from Portland where he has been several days on legal business.
C. R. PECK returned this morning from Gardiner where he went yesterday to attend a meeting of the Port commissioners.

ED DOLAN, who has been employed at Powers left today for Sumner, where he will go to work in the McDonald & Vaughn camp.

R. S. HUSTON, editor and publisher of the Siuslaw Pilot, left on the stage this morning, going back to Florence after several days here on business.
LIEUT. R. G. COMAN, of the U. S. navy, left on the stage this morning, returning to Mare Island after a visit here in connection with the wireless station.

DR. E. S. CONKLIN, of Eugene, went to Myrtle Point this morning, where he will lecture tonight. He will return here Saturday and lecture at the high school in the evening.

L. F. PARSONS, an attorney of Moscow, Idaho, and old friend of Dwight Hodges, of Marshfield, arrived yesterday from the north and this morning went to Coquille on a business trip.

JAMES MAGEE, JR., who has been following the sea and who has recently been visiting his parents at Empire, was here yesterday. He will sail on the Nann Smith in April with his brother, Capt. W. A. Magee, when the Nann goes abroad.

F. A. GOLDEN left this morning for Coquille to attend to school matters. He was out today for the first time after a week's siege of la grippe. During the storm last week he was caught on the Coquille and suffered from the exposure to the cold and rain.

Baptist ladies cooked food sale Saturday, at Marshfield, Md. ware.
