

Teacher told Andy and Wendy to make a clay map—

DUKE Knows How to "Map Out" Things!

World Color Printing Co., St. Louis, Mo.

They made it in the barn—

—while I watched them—

—they left it out here to dry—

I thought it could stand a few more valleys, so I took a hand in it, or rather, a foot—

—the kids thought it was spoiled—

—but they took it to school anyhow—

—and teacher said it was the best in the room!!

ANNA BELLE Spends a Few Days In Florida

Dear Friends:—Uncle Ezra has a big fruit farm down in Florida and the other day he decided to visit it as some new buildings are being put up for the packers. He invited Sister Mary and me to go with him if I could leave school and my teacher kindly consented to let me go. It was funny for me to see how grape fruit grows, as I had always imagined it hung in the trees something like an apple. Instead of that they hang in great bunches, something like grapes and the limbs bend almost to the ground with the weight if they're not supported. Then, too, it's very interesting to see them grading oranges. They're all poured into a long runway at the end of which are holes of different sizes. The oranges of the same size thus fall into the same holes and when boxed are sent to the markets for you and me to eat. There are lots of other interesting things I'd like to tell you about, but I haven't the space. We made a visit to Palm Beach and it seemed very very funny to see everybody bathing in the sea.

Hope you're doing fine in SEWING SOCIETY work and if we all do our part, however small it may be, we will grow and grow until everyone knows of our great work. It won't be long until spring now, and the first thing we know school will be out. Time certainly flies, doesn't it? With much love from,

Anna Belle
