M. C. MALONEY, Editor and Pub. DAN E. MALONEY, News Editor Official Paper of Coos County Official Paper of Marshfield.

A CAMPAIGN FOR HOME TRADE

THE COOS BAY TIMES has been for many years continually boosting for the use of home manufactured products and patronizing home merchants.

One of the greatest desires of every citizen is a prosperous Coos Bay. We recognize that manufacturing industries employing large pay rolls would make us prosperous, also if the merchants could have all the trade tributary to Coos Bay it would greatly increase the volume of business, enabling them to become prosperous and to employ more help and that all of these things would materially build up this community.

These things are possible at the present time, but it will require a constant effort of every citizen of Coos Bay to accomplish it. We must patronize Coos Bay merchants—So that The Times here and now calls upon every citizen who is loyal and desires to help make Coos Bay prosperous and grow to adopt the slogan "Try Coos Bay First."

The Times here and now declares for a greater campaign that shall continue for ever to spend Coos Bay money on Coos Bay for home manufactured goods, so far as they are manufactured, and if it is not Coos Bay manufactured goods, buy them on Coos Bay of Coos Bay merchants.

Then begin today by doing your part, and one of the finest ways of doing it will be never let a day pass without telling one of your neighbors about this great plan for a prosperous and greater Coos Bay and about how well you are served by Coos Bay merchants.

GIVE THEM THE BEST YOU HAVE GOT

Sure, they will scoff at your scheming. Sure, they will question your plan, Sure, they will laugh at your dreaming— So every dreamer began, Ask of the fellows who do things, Ask of the fellows who won; What thought the world of the new things?— Things that had never been done? Dream for them, scheme for them, labor, Whether they want it or not; Chisel, or pencil, or sabre— Give them the best you have got! Sure, they will pass it unheeded, This that is soul of your soul, Grudging the word that is needed Helping you on to your goal. "Must I with something pursue them, Begging from door unto door? When what is common will do them. Why should I offer them more?" Why? In achieving is living! Why? Are your visions forgot? Give for the sake of the giving— Give them the best you have got! Though the whole city refuses, Though you are scorned by the host, You are the fellow who loses When you do less than the most. Stop not for sulking nor sorrow, Keep at the thing you are at— Doing your best, that tomorrow You may do better than that. If to your goal you are going, It does not matter a lot; Still you are gaining and growing— Give them the best you have got! —Selected.

HOW TO MAKE MARSHFIELD BEAUTIFUL

Reuben Lyon, Central School, Seven B MARSHFIELD could be made one of the most beautiful cities on the Pacific coast if the authorities and the people would go about the task in the right way. It is well located and sometime it will be a beautiful city.

There are so many ways in which Marshfield may be beautified that I do not know which to mention first, but I think the most important one is to clean up the waterfront, tearing down the old, worthless buildings, and building new, modern ones in their places.

I think we should all enjoy a good up to date park.

The railroad spoils the appearance of the waterfront and to my notion ought to be moved to a suitable place somewhere on the outskirts of town.

The people can help as well as the authorities in cleaning up their yards and planting grass and flowers.

In the outskirts of the city where it could be done, trees ought to be planted along the sidewalk on either side of the street.

The engine house is in a very poor location and ought to be moved back three or four streets to allow those old wooden buildings on Front street to burn down. Then the owners should be compelled to put up good, modern, concrete buildings.

OLD PIONEER DIES

MRS. G. W. CRUNK, SR., PASSES AWAY—EVENTFUL LIFE

Was Mother of Mrs. Gertrude Carey of Allegany—Came Across States in 1854

Mrs. Gertrude Carey, of Allegany, today received word announcing the death of her mother, Mrs. Anna Crunk, Sr., at Bancroft, beyond Myrtle Point. The deceased was 75 years of age and came here from the east in 1854 after a very exciting trip across the plains and the mountains. She has been a resident of Coos county since that time.

Mrs. Crunk leaves a husband G. W. Crunk, Sr., 82 years of age, a veteran of the Rogue River war. Also there are five daughters, Mrs. Gertrude Carey, of Allegany; Mrs. Stella Wright and Mrs. Myrtle Fish, of Bancroft; Mrs. Ella Hague, of Seattle, and Mrs. Trilla Katsimer, of Wrangell, Alaska. There is one son, G. W. Crunk, Jr., of Bancroft.

When Mrs. Crunk came across the mountains in 1854 the party was snowbound for nearly six months near what is now the Yellowstone Park. For three months of this time they were on the verge of starvation and lived on venison, being even without salt.

She often told to her children how two trappers came along with a wee bit of flour which was secured for the youngsters of the party. When spring came and the snow cleared away the emigrants came on west, going to Washington and later part of them came down into Oregon.

It is not yet known when the burial will be, this to be announced later.

EASTPORT NO MORE

ENGLEWOOD IS NEW NAME OF THRIVING COMMUNITY

Adopted at Meeting of Englewood Civic League—Property Owners Start a Clean-up Campaign

Eastport is dead; long live Englewood. This is the new name unanimously voted in place of Eastport, Reynolds' addition and First addition, at a meeting of the Englewood Civic League in the school house there last evening.

Between 50 and 75 property owners gathered at the meeting and affected permanent organization of the league that here after will work for the betterment of the thriving community.

H. A. Harris was elected president; Edwin G. Scott, vice president; and Fred Raymond, secretary. A standing committee will make investigation, reports and receive suggestions as to how Englewood can be benefitted.

A constitution and by-laws were drawn up. Considerable moral suasion is to be used on all owners of homes in Englewood to keep their gardens in good trim, to clean the streets in front of them.

Already the community has water, telephones and electricity and street lights are to be added soon by the League.

The district between the Englewood school house and Southwest Boulevard is to be cleaned of all rubbish and underbrush, for the purpose of a park that will be open to everyone. The Reynolds' Development Company is heartily in favor of the move and are to move the old house that now stands on the tract.

There was considerable enthusiasm displayed at the meeting last evening. Two other names were suggested for the community, namely, Glenwood and Rosedale, but Englewood was adopted unanimously on the third vote.
