(Special to The Times) COQUILLE, Ore., March 13.—E. B. Michaels, who was bound over to the grand jury at Myrtle Point Friday on the charge of shooting J. E. Hobson near Myrtle Point, has been released on bail, R. H. Mast, the Coquille banker, and F. V. Shores went security for him. Considerable sympathy is expressed for Michaels who is a cripple. He has to wear a special body brace owing to an injury of the spine a long time ago. He is well known in Coquille and supports his mother and sisters.

Rosenberg Gets Bail I. Rosenberg, the former Coquille tailor who was arrested at Crescent City on the charge of cashing a worthless draft on the bank of Bandon for $475, has also been released on $700 bail furnished by S. Jabitz, a Bandon tailor, and Mrs. G. T. Treadgold, wife of Rosenberg's attorney. It has been discovered that Rosenberg went under the name of Gunkel at Crescent City. He denies this, but the hotel proprietor insists that Rosenberg registered as "Gunkel." Rosenberg says that Gunkel was his friend and that only the one registered so that they wouldn't have to pay the extra price for the room.

Sheriff Johnson who wrote to the chief of police at Cincinnati for information about Rosenberg has received a answer saying "not known here."

Hauser's Term The jail sentence of Joe Hauser of Marshfield, who is serving time for having too much liquor in his possession, will expire March 19th. Sheriff Johnson has written to Attorney General Brown to see if the second commitment for bootlegging is legal has not received an answer yet. If he does not, Hauser will probably be released on the 19th instead of having to serve fifteen days additional for the alleged bootlegging.

COAST JOBBERS CLAMOR FOR MANUFACTURED GOODS

Eastern Factories Bribe Away Western Workmen With Higher Pay—War Orders the Cause

So great is the demand in the east for certain skilled laborers that representatives of eastern factories often stand outside the gates of San Francisco concerns and offer the employees bigger wages in the east. Robert Dillard came back from the south on the Nann yesterday and said this is an actual condition that pertains in San Francisco.

Pacific coast jobbers are unable to get the manufactured products from the eastern houses. The demand is greater than can be supplied, the particular cause being the large war orders that have come to the eastern manufacturers.

While in the south Mr. Dillard made arrangements to take several lines of hats, caps, gloves and neckwear and he too will very shortly become a knight of the grip for Southwestern Oregon.

He said that several firms in San Francisco complained about losing skilled workmen who were offered bigger wages in the east and a year's contract with transportation back and forth. This demand is especially true in the clothing lines.

BIG ADVANCE IN ALL KINDS OF CLOTHING

Eastern Manufacturers Explain Why Wholesale Prices Have Been Advanced

S. S. Jennings of North Bend has just received a letter from the eastern manufacturers from which he buys much of his clothing, especially women's ready-to-wear garments, which tells of the advance in prices. They quote a trade paper as follows: "The woman's garment that used to retail at $25 will range this year between $28.50 and $29.50 and there will be like advances on practically all wearables. Color trouble will not be pronounced this spring, for the great bulk of the garments to be worn the next few months were made from German dyes; what crocking events will come later.

The reason for the abnormality of the current textile trades are manifold—war uniforms and blankets are taking the world's wool, and wool so used does not get back to commerce. The uniform and camp blanket undergo wear to which civilian use cannot be compared, and those which remain are burned. Furthermore we are exporting clothes on a scale new to this country. South America and Australia are taking goods they never look before. Add to the dye, wool and cloth export abnormalities railroad embargoes, scarcity of ocean vessels and labor demands. Metal products plants have actually been competing with textile plants for labor. That is not the case in Cleveland. But in New England towns the munition mills have drawn employees from the cotton mills, and have thus afforded their contribution to the general upside down situation in the cloth and garment industries."

DR. IRA B. BARTLE IS NOW IN NEW ORLEANS

North Bend Physician Who is Taking Post Graduate Work Writes of Trip

Dr. Ira B. Bartle of North Bend who is now in New Orleans taking some post graduate work writes The Times that he is having a fine trip. Mrs. Bartle remained at Los Angeles to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Coke.

He says he is taking work at both the Charity hospital and the Marine hospital, putting on a gown and aiding in several operations daily.

The Mardi Gras, the great annual fête of New Orleans is on, and affording much entertainment. The annual horse races are on, affording another sight and he says the old Southern spirit is more in evidence on the race course than anywhere else.

He says that the war has benefitted business at New Orleans and a greater hustle is in evidence there than ever before. The docks are crowded and the ships are being laden with wool and cotton for Europe. It has been twelve years since he visited the famous old southern city and he says there have been marked changes the old landmarks giving away to fine modern buildings.

The Mississippi is the highest it has been in years but so far the levees have prevented any considerable damage.

NOTICE. Ferry Transit will lay off tomorrow morning for repairs.

Bowery Dance, Simpson Pavilion, has been postponed to next Saturday evening.

Help for Bronchial Trouble and Cough

"Foley's Honey and Tar Compound acts more like a food than a medicine."

Mr. Will G. Richmond, Inglewood, Calif., says:—"I wish to recommend Foley's Honey and Tar Compound as it has greatly benefited me for bronchial trouble and cough. It acts so well in harmony with nature that it is more like a food than a medicine."

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has a wonderfully quick way of soothing and healing the raw tickling surface of the throat and bronchial tubes. It eases the tightness over the chest, raises the phlegm easily, and helps the stubborn racking cough that is so exhausting and weakening.

It is the best medicine you can buy, and better than anything you can make, for coughs, colds, spasmodic croup, whooping cough, la grippe and bronchial coughs, hoarseness, tickling throat and stuffy wheezy breathing. It contains no opiates, and is acceptable to the most sensitive stomach.

Tuxedo's Grip by Walt Mason. Tuxedo is the gripping smoke, a boon to every buyer; you take your pipe of English oak, of meerschbaum, clay or briar, and fill it with the fragrant weed, the choicest man can gather; and then you have a smoke, indeed; and are you glad? Well, rather. Tuxedo has no kick or bite, suggests no "morning after," its mission is to bring delight, and fill your heart with laughter. It caught the sunshine of the south, when it was green and growing, and brings that sunshine to your mouth, when out the smoke you're blowing. "Tuxedo's in a class alone," its smokers are declaring; "it has a fragrance all its own, that baffles all comparing." And thus it grips the men who smoke, and holds their true affection; their trusty briar pipes they stoke, and never know dejection. —Walt Mason
