GO HUNTING GOLD MAY GET NO WATER

SCHOONER LILY, OF GARDINER MILL CO., MAY BE SOLD

Capt. Thomas Owen Has Option on Well Known Vessel—Would Equip Her For Mining

It is possible that the schooner Lily owned by the Gardiner Mill Company will be purchased to take part in a gold hunting quest in Patagonia. Captain Thomas Owen has just returned to Portland from an unsuccessful trip to the south during which his crew mutinied, his wife and child were lost by typhoid and thousands of dollars spent. He has secured an option on the Lily and expects to try his novel search again. The vessel at one time called in Coos Bay.

Seven years ago Capt. Owen was second mate of the British sailing ship Glencoe that wrecked off the Straits of Magellan, and the crew landed on the southern part of Chile. Before a passing steamer was signaled six weeks later, fourteen of the Glencoe's company had been killed. The remainder were picked up, taking with them nuggets and samples of quartz found on the beach and in nearby streams, assays of the latter being high according to Capt. Owen. His share of the find was $3,000.

Now the skipper declares that he has acquired a mining right from the Chilean government for a period of 50 years, he to pay to the administration 30 per cent of the amount taken.

The schooner Lily was built in 1882 at San Francisco and is of about 200 tons gross. She has a length of 102 feet and would be equipped with necessary gold mining apparatus.

TO MAKE LONGEST TOW

From New York to Shanghai is a long tow for a barge, perhaps the longest tow in the annals of American oil shipping. Only a few days ago the steamship Richmond cleared from New York with a tank barge at the end of a large hawser. The combined cargoes of the two vessels amount to $3,000,000.

It is said that the greater share of the oil will eventually find its way into Russian territory for use in the war.

DANCE LAW PASSED SEES NEW OUTLET

NORTH BEND PROHIBITS "TICKLING OF FEET" ON SUNDAYS.

Puts Lid On Ragging, Also Drinking and Smoking Within Dance Halls—Co-operates With State Law

Ragging and vulgar dancing within the city limits of North Bend are under a ban. Drinking and smoking within dance halls also is taboo, and "tickling" the feet on Sunday is absolutely prohibited.

The city fathers of North Bend last evening passed the ordinance prohibiting these measures and it further states there shall be no boisterous talking about these places of amusement.

The action grew out of the trouble occurring last week when a public dance was advertised for the Simpson pavilion on Sunday evening. The aid of District Attorney Liljeqvist was invoked, and under the Sunday Closing Law of 1865 the dance was halted ere it started. The new law is made to co-operate with the state statute.

For the first time an ordinance was read before the council that will hereafter force all electrical wiring to be done according to certain restrictions imposed by the fire insurance underwriters. The measure also calls for inspection of wiring an ordinance fashioned very much after the one now in use in Marshfield.

ASKED TO RESIGN

TWO EASTSIDE SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS FACE RECALL

Meeting Held Last Evening and the Trouble Is Far From Compromise—Five Days to Answer

Two members of the Eastside school board have been asked to resign. They have five days in which to answer the recall petition, and, this falling, meeting of the district patrons will be called to post notices of an election to vote on their ousting. This is the sense of a meeting held in Eastside last evening.

Chairman Byerly, of the school board, and Mrs. I. Hadlock were not present. Mr. Byerly was wanted to sign the recall petition, it was stated. There was a large attendance at the meeting held in the town hall and many persons spoke on the matter. M. A. McLagan, the third member of the school board, was present at the gathering.

It was said today that Janitor Wilde is still doing his duties about the school house. At the last meeting of the board two of the three members voted for his dismissal and Mrs. Swanson was appointed in his place.

COQUILLE HAS CHANGED SAYS WALTER SNYDER

Son of Capt. Levi Snyder Returns For Visit and Finds Different Conditions There.

The Coquille Herald says: Walter Snyder has returned to Coquille after an absence of several years. He is a grandson of Fred Schroeder and the son of Captain Levi Snyder, who resided here several years ago and is well known in this place.

During his absence Walter has been traveling on the high seas, and living in Portland, and working at Florence. He calls the latter place his home at the present time. He says that he merely took a run down to this place to see the "old bunch" and visit for a few days. He is very much disappointed to find that the "old bunch" are mostly married and things are not like they used to be when he resided here.

COQUILLE WOMAN IS NINETY YEARS OLD

"Grandma" Leneve, Well Known Coos County Pioneer, Celebrates Birthday There.

"Grandma" Leneve celebrated her 90th birthday Sunday, March 12. She is recovering from a severe illness and was unable to be up, but lay propped up in bed with pillows, ate her birthday dinner and surveyed the many presents she received.

Her memory is excellent and she claims that this is the first birthday she has ever spent in bed that she can remember.

She and her husband crossed the plains with an ox team in the early days and were among the early settlers here. She is fast improving and the chances are good that she will see many more birthdays. She has lived to see one of her great grandchildren graduate from high school and enter college.—Coquille Herald.

WELLS-FARGO CO. INDUSTRIAL AGENT LOOKS OVER COUNTY.

Says Willamette Valley Will Be Glad to Get Fish and Sea Foods—Take Out Farm Products.

Coos Bay is going to add considerably to the business of the Wells-Fargo company, is the expression of T. H. Booth, industrial agent of the company, who has been in this section for several days. He was accompanied by Mr. Hammel, new superintendent for southern Oregon. Together with E. J. Becker, division storekeeper of the Southern Pacific, the men left this morning over the line, returning to Eugene.

Mr. Booth was enthusiastic over the prospects for business from this section. He believes that considerable farm produce will make its way out into Valley markets via the service of his company over the railroad. He mentioned butter, cheese and berries especially, together with fish and various sorts of sea foods that will appeal particularly to the people of the Willamette Valley sections.

Mr. Hammel has taken the position formerly held by A. F. Rapp, who has been here many times. Mr. Rapp is now Wells-Fargo agent at Eugene, glad to take a position that keeps him at home for he has been many years on the road.

All storehouses of the Southern Pacific make reports April 1, on the stock on hand. Mr. Becker came here to check over the accounts and see that everything was in shape before the report is sent in. The men were taken across the North Bend bridge and went up to Reedsport on the work train.

BRUSCHKE CLAIMS BIG DEAL PENDING

Says He is Awaiting Letter Confirm Deal for Furnishing Spruce to Russian Government

C. J. Brusckle claims to have made a contract for the sale of 50,000,000 feet of spruce to the Russian government. He says a wire from Portland yesterday told him the matter was clinched and he is now awaiting a letter.

"The first shipment must be made within 60 days after signing the contract," he said. Asked as to how it would be gotten from Coos Bay to Seattle for final shipment to Vladivostok, he said maybe plans could be made with the railroad for building a barge with tracks on it to transport cars at the Umpqua and send out the lumber that way. He said, however, they had not yet been approached in the matter. Seattle sends much ammunition now to Siberia. He believes part of this trade should be diverted through Coos Bay.

Mr. Brusckle will not admit that the spruce has yet been bought. He says he knows where he can buy it, though timbermen say to cut that much spruce, considerably more fire will also have to be cut. "Maybe it isn't so. I don't know," he said. "I am waiting for a letter from Portland."

GIVES SOME FACTS ABOUT COOS COUNTY

Coos has an area of 1621 square miles, 455 of which is in the forest reserve, leaving only 1173 square miles, or 759,729 acres, of land, of which practically two-thirds is forest. So it is rather a small county, as Oregon counties go. In 1910 the census enumerators gave the county a population of 17,959, about 2900 less than Douglas, although Douglas has three times the area of Coos. But, taking the entire area of Coos, it is found that there is here a population of about 19 1/2 per square mile.
