NORTH BEND ASKS MARSHFIELD'S AID IN NEW MEASURE

To Form County Taxpayers' League—Say Taxes Are Too High—To Bring Them Down If Possible

Pleas to every commercial body in the county to aid in organizing a tax-payers' league are being sent out today by the North Bend Chamber of Commerce. The committee in charge met last evening and unanimously voted to call a meeting of all representatives in North Bend on April 19 to discuss the proposed measure.

The matter was first broached there two weeks ago and has since met with considerable favor in several places.

"The object or purpose of this proposed league," runs the letter received here, "will be to organize the taxpayers of the county and through this organization to protect their interests by investigating all matters pertaining to the taxes and inequalities of assessments, assisting the assessor and his deputies and the County Board of Equalization in arriving at a fair and equitable adjustment of tax values, also to look into the expenditure of moneys raised by taxation in the county, to urge such legislation as will be beneficial to the interests of the taxpayer and in a general way work toward a material reduction of the taxes in Coos County."

"The present high taxes of the county indicate the need of early action for the protection of the taxpayer and in the organization of a strong, active successful taxpayers' league seems to rest in the logical and practical solution of the problem."

The matter is to be further taken up at the next meeting of the local Chamber of Commerce.

MAYOR R. A. COPPLE RETURNS FROM EASTERN TRIP.

Says New York Is Still Indulging In Snows—Labor Scarce and Not Men to Handle Shovels.

From the snows of Broadway, New York, to the sunshine of Broadway, Marshfield, is a happy change believes R. A. Copple who returned last evening from a two months' buying trip in the east, for the Golden Rule store. He came back by way of Los Angeles, visiting for a few days with Mrs. Copple and the children, who are spending the winter in the south. They will probably return to Marshfield when school is over.

Business moves so fast in New York that it's hard to keep track of things, said Mr. Copple and he admitted that he is still a bit bewildered as to what it is all about.

Everyone Is Busy.

He said that everyone seems to have work and everyone seems to have money. Some of the hotels have got to the point where, despite the fact a person may want a single room, he is nevertheless charged a double price for it. The demand in some places is greater than can be supplied.

There was continual snow while Mr. Copple was in the east. The street cleaning department issued a call for snow shovelers and could only get about half as many as responded in former years. The reason is that everyone seems to have work, and labor is much in demand.

Labor Very Scarce.

So great is the demand in the munition factories, said Mr. Copple, that girls are getting between $2.50 and $3 a day and $1 extra for merely bringing some other girl to work. Some workmen who have experienced exceptionally lean times are taking hold of the golden opportunity and working two eight-hour shifts in factories that run day and night. The extra pay allows them to start a savings account and the end of the run will see them some distance ahead of the game, even if they are tired out.

Unable to Buy.

Many wholesalers find it impossible to buy from the manufacturers because of the extra demand for goods, especially in the clothing line. As an example, Mr. Copple told of a certain serge that previously he has bought for 50 cents a yard, that is now quoted at 70 cents and the dealers cannot fill the orders.

Curtailling of the dye shipments from Germany is resulting in the manufacture of dyes in the United States, though the present product can by no means match up with the old country dyes.

BRUSCHKE HAS PARTNER IN HIS TIMBER DEALS

D. A. Donelson, of Portland, Said to Be Negotiating With Him For Spruce Contract.

The Portland Oregonian says: D. A. Donelson, president and manager of the Normandie Land & Improvement company, 451 Sherlock building, is associated with C. J. Brusckke, of Marshfield, in a series of land and timber deals now under negotiation. It was admitted last night at Mr. Donelson's home, Mr. Donelson was not available in the city last night, but it was admitted at his home that for some weeks he had been working on a large deal, presumably the one in which the Russian government figured.

At Mr. Donelson's home last night the following statement was given out:

"Mr. Donelson has been working with Mr. Brusckke and others on a large deal. Other sections besides the Marshfield country are concerned as they have been negotiating in other sections of Oregon."

The convenience and profit of Times Want Ads will be demonstrated by a trial.

FRECKLES

March Brings Out Unsightly Spots.—How to Remove Easily.

The woman with tender skin dreads March because it is likely to cover her face with ugly freckles. No matter how thick her veil, the sun and winds have a strong tendency to make her freckles.

Fortunately for her peace of mind the prescription, othine—double strength, makes it possible for even those most susceptible to freckles to keep their skin clear and white. No matter how stubborn a case of freckles you have, the double strength othine should remove them. Get an ounce from your druggist and banish the freckles. Money back if it fails.

GLAD TO HAVE SPRING COME—GARDENERS MAY BE STARTED

Several Elrod Avenue Homes Add Much to Make City Beautiful—Gardeners Say It's Worth While

Out on Elrod avenue there are several places that have preceded the City Beautiful campaign. The yards are well kept, the flowers come out there early in the season and there is always something blooming clear through into the early winter. The vegetable gardens also are kept in the best of shape, in fact, it only needs a ride by their places to see that the people there take an interest in their homes.

The W. B. Curtis home is attractive. It's something like 23 years since Mr. and Mrs. Curtis moved to this location and all of these years they have been taking keen interest in their gardening.

This latter statement is self evident, having once looked at the garden. There are many varieties of roses there, blooming early and late, to say nothing of the several kinds of daffodils, the primroses and the hyacinths.

Raise Own Vegetables

Out in the back there is a vegetable garden that a bit of work, a fairly good bit by the way, makes raise enough vegetables for the family for several months of the year. In fact, some of the potatoes are already coming up, as are also the peas and the logan berries will be bearing in season.

Take Interest in Home

The R. H. Walter's home, nearby, is noticeable too for its well-kept garden, showing that the owners also take interest in their home and the way the yard looks.

There one may find dahlias, very good varieties, together with calla lilies and the daffodils, and as a matter of fact the entire yard is one of the sort that aids materially in making a city beautiful.

Shows Good Work

Across the street is the James Rolandson home, which one may find almost in the best of condition. About the place is a hedge that falls to disclose to the passerby the fact that just the other side are beautiful roses, that will bloom in June, with dahlias, daffodils and crocuses a plenty.

For good suggestions, perhaps the most practical ones could be given mainly through the observation of places within the city that have shown a disposition to get behind the campaign for a beautiful city and to do their best by improving their own yards.

Work and Interest Do It

A few minutes work in the evening before supper with a spade and a rake will work a host of wonders. It takes but a short time to dig up a bit of garden where the lady of the house will in all probability be only too glad to plant some seeds.

One does not need a large yard to have a garden. Some of the best gardens in the city are on small plots of ground. It is not the size of them, but the manner in which they are kept that counts.

AMONG THE SICK

R. Kjala was brought in from Powers yesterday suffering from a broken leg sustained in an accident in one of the Smith-Powers camps. He is at Mercy hospital.

Tony Pasco came in from Delmar yesterday to secure medical treatment for some severe bruises sustained in the Hennessey mine.

Mrs. M. A. Monson who has been ill of typhoid at their home in West Marshfield is reported improving.

BUSTER BROWN SHAPING LASTS

For growing Girls and Boys

During the growing period of a child's foot you must realize that constant changing from one last to another does not give the foot a chance to continue a shapely development.

Buster Brown Shoes, made over shaping lasts, supply the children's needs from size to size with uniform comfort, while gradually shaping the foot toward maturity.

We have worked out a lasting system along lines orthopaedically correct, and the constant wearing of Buster Brown Shoes will solve all the problems previously experienced in children's footwear.

Start now to fit the children with the line that will remain right from size to size during the child's growth.

The Golden Rule

THE ROYAL THEATER WILL REOPEN TOMORROW WITH STAR ATTRACTIONS

GEORGE KLEINE'S FAMOUS BROADWAY SUCCESS, "THE SPENDTHRIFT," IS THE OPENING PRODUCTION — A NUMBER OF STAR FEATURES HAVE BEEN ENGAGED AS COMING ATTRACTIONS.

The Royal Theater offers Geo. Kleine's newly completed drama, "The Spendthrift," filmed from Porter Emerson Browne's famous Broadway success, as its opening attraction tomorrow night.

This celebrated story has been made in typical George Kleine style, featuring three well-known Broadway players instead of the usual one accorded feature films. Irene Fenwick, that dainty personality which is doing so much for "The Song of Songs" at the Eltinge Theater, New York, finds a role splendidly adapted to her unusual and engaging abilities in the money-spendings, true-hearted but unconventional Frances Ward. She is ably supported by Cyril Keightley as her youthful husband, Richard Ward, the broker whose financial troubles she causes by her reckless extravagance. Cyril Keightley, by the way, is also one of the important factors in the cast of "The Song of Songs." Malcolm Duncan, who is remembered as one of Harrison Grey Fiske's best known leading men, is also seen in an important role in "The Spendthrift." Miss Mattie Ferguson, who played the role of Gretchen Jans in the original stage play, is also seen in the Kleine film version in her well remembered part.

"The Spendthrift" is one of the most remarkable dramatic offerings of the season, combining in a powerful, virile story of a noteworthy cast and a superbly beautiful interpretation, staged without regard to time. The subject is in a
