SUNRISE AND SUNSET Monday
March 20—Sun rises at 6:05 and sets at 6:12.

To Open Place—D. J. Rees is figuring on opening a card room, tobacco store and soft drink parlor in the old Eagle bar corner about April 1st.

For Thoroughbreds—A. O. Kjelland of Kentuck is starting a herd of thoroughbred Berkshire hogs on his ranch and expects to specialize in hog raising.

Goes to Butte—S. Simmons will leave tomorrow for Butte, Montana, where he will visit his son and may possibly locate. His wife and daughter will remain here for the present.

Opens Millinery—Mrs. E. Bandel has opened the Parlor Millinery at 289 Central avenue, and is having the formal opening this week. She has installed a complete line of the latest millinery.

To Hold Service—On Wednesday evening at 8 p. m., in the Bay Park chapel, the Methodist Brotherhood will hold a meeting. There will be a song service and several men are to give short addresses.

Had Good Crowd—The Marshfield school boys' program at The Noble Theater, Saturday afternoon drew a good audience and the participants and director, Miss Voiz, were roundly praised for the excellent music. Supt. Tiedgen said that the receipts were about $55.

Goes to Idaho—L. J. Post a well known Marshfield contracting carpenter, will leave tomorrow for Blackfoot, Idaho, to become associated with a firm there. Mrs. Post and children will remain here until school closes, when they will join him.

Go to Alaska—Ed. Archer expects to leave tomorrow on the Breakwater for Portland from where he will go to Alaska with a party of eight or ten from Coos county. Mr. Archer has been running the hotel at Hauser and also aiding in Ned Galloway's transportation line.

Has a Birthday—Tomorrow Mrs. Henry Black, south Fifth street, will celebrate her 78th birthday. It is only a few months since Mr. and Mrs. Black celebrated their Golden Wedding. Mrs. Carl Smedberg, a daughter, of Catching Inlet, is down with her son to visit over tomorrow with her parents, for the occasion.

Bankruptcy Hearing—A hearing in the bankruptcy case of H. J. McHale of Eastside was held last week but no decision was given. He is trying to get his wages from the Smith mill exempted. However there will be no assets so that his creditor will not receive anything and if his wages are held not exempt, they will go to pay the costs.

Calves Abused—As a result of a number of calves being tied along the waterfront without either food or water, an appeal will be made to the city authorities or humane officers to prosecute the offenders. Some of the calves have been quite young and suffered severely with the cold, their continual bleating arousing indignation. Different parties have brought them in.

To Make Repairs—W. E. Arnold, of the Warren Construction company, said this morning that the concern will make all necessary repairs on north Fourth street as soon as the logging operations have been brought to a close. He said the understanding in this will be in about three or four weeks. The company has a five-year guarantee

BORN
BUCKINGHAM—To Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Buckingham, at their home in Ferndale, Monday, March 20, a daughter. Mother and child are doing nicely.

BRADLEY—To Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bradley at their home in Englewood, March 20, a daughter, their second child.

Opening New Camp—Bjorkquist and Fordell are opening a new logging camp on south Coos river, at the E. J. Coffelt place near the forks. They already have a donkey engine and a large load of rails on the ground and expect very shortly to be operating with a fair-sized crew. This will make six logging camps on south Coos river, all of them running.

Drank Portion Too Fast—When Albert Alquist received two quarts of whiskey on the boat Saturday he had such a thirst that ere nightfall the transfer from the bottle to the inner man had been well nigh completed. The result was a small European battle that raged inside and shortly time later he was arrested by Officer Brockmuller for using profane language and for being drunk. He pleaded guilty this morning in the police court where Ben Fisher acted as city attorney. He paid a fine of $5 and departed.

Wm. Leeward Hurt—Wm. H. Leeward, the well known Marshfield contractor, sustained a broken arm and severe bruises on his shoulder and hip Saturday afternoon by a fall from the roof of the Blanco hotel where he was working. His right arm was broken just below the elbow. Although his injuries are painful, he feels that he escaped luckily, and his many friends will be glad to know that the injuries are not of a permanent character.

Looks Over Field—Hugh Wallace, of New York City who is with the Leslie and Judge magazines is an arrival on the Bay looking over the interests of his company in this section. This is his fifth trip out from New York this year. It is eight years now since he visited Marshfield. He says it doesn't look like the same place. The war in Europe has been a great stimulus of magazines of the type he represents, says Mr. Wallace.

Are Soon Done—J. W. Blas, foreman of the Western Union crew that Saturday connected up Coos Bay with Eugene, went to Reedsport on a speeder yesterday with several wiremen to make some minor repairs. Today the men are working here and it is expected they will leave tomorrow or next day for their camp at Booths Siding, on Lake Tiltcoos. They came from Reedsport yesterday on their speeder in one hour and twenty minutes.

Council to Meet—For the third time the vehicle ordinance will be before the city council when it meets tonight to read the first official draft of the law. It is understood there have been no changes made since its reading a week ago. Also there was some talk today of the plumbers of the city asking for an ordinance licensing journeymen plumbers. Mayor R. A. Copple is back and will attend this evening, after an absence of several weeks.

Fishing Improved—Claude Piper came down this morning from his home on North Coos River with 95 trout caught there near his place yesterday by himself and a companion. He said the fishing was better yesterday than he has seen it in years.

Is Making Repairs—J. Albert Matson has two men working on his summer home on south Coos river, "The Nook" repairing damage done during the high water of February. At that time, the little stream at the east side of the house grew so in volume that it carried away the summer porch and many yards of excavation. A ditch is being dug to carry the water safely away from the house after this and a rock embankment is being built along the river.

Greeks Issuq Challenge—Glad to see the Verdant spring time in the offing and being of good cheer, the nine local Sigma Chis have gotten together and the result is a direct challenge to the rest of the fraternity men of Coos Bay to a baseball game, anywhere and at anytime, winner take all. They claim that in their number, do the Sigma Chis, there are men of great "pill shooting" ability, men who have missed their calling and their wish is to furnish an exhibition like of which has never before been seen on Coos Bay.

First Annual Present to Marshfield People—

Free Prescriptions FOR ENTIRE YEAR 1916

—Any reputable physician is authorized to send worthy poor persons to our store for prescriptions during the year 1916 and we agree to fill them without cost; nothing is required but a note from the physician, properly signed and stating that the patient is entitled to this assistance.

—In this manner we aim to contribute our share toward the public good. Instead of responding to countless requests for little contributions to programs, fairs and bazaars among which we cannot discriminate, we have adopted this plan.

—Let no worthy man, woman or child suffer a moment for want of proper medicine when required.
