MAN AT BANDON USED GUN ON STREET

Gets Scared and Runs When Attempted Victim Puts up a Fight

(Special to The Times.)
 BANDON, Ore., March 29.—A man named Metlin who lives on a five-acre place near Bandon, was the victim of an attempted hold-up Monday night. When Metlin was on Second street about 11 o'clock at night a man stepped in front of him with a gun in his hand. Metlin showed fight and the would-be highwayman ran away.

Bill Kennedy was arrested as a suspect, but according to the city marshal no evidence could be gathered against him and Metlin could not identify him as the man who attempted to hold him up so he was released.

Assistant Secretary Says U. S. May Have to Fight Victor in Europe

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)
 WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29.—That there is a possibility of this nation becoming involved in a war with the victor in Europe was asserted by Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt before the House Naval Committee today. He said dreadnaughts have won the greatest victories of the European war without firing a shot, and that the United States could win "a bloodless victory" in a war if it had enough dreadnaughts.

EXPECT TOURISTS

FRENCH THINK MANY WILL VISIT AFTER THE WAR

Novel Meads of Showing Ruins Are Planned and New Hotels Will Be Built

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)
 PARIS, March 29.—A "Committee of French Hotel Keepers" that estimates that a million Americans will come to France immediately after the war to visit the sites which have become famous during the hostilities.

All sorts of suggestions are being put forward. One is that a broad highway should be laid down along the front from Dixmude to Belfort, to be called "The Holy Road," with plenty of good hotels at intervals, simply furnished but each containing from eighty to a hundred rooms and an abundant supply of baths. Another suggestion is the formation of special tourists trains running from the Channel to Belfort in which the tourists should live and sleep while they are sight-seeing.

Meantime the Committee of Hotel-keepers is busy preparing for the advent of the visitors by training staffs to replace the German and Austrian managers and waiters of the pre-war period, renewing furniture, repainting and repapering, and in particular improving the sanitary arrangements in the various hotels.

PLACED UNDER BOND

ROSEBURG, March 29.—B. R. Porter, who was arrested at his home at Yoncola charged by his son-in-law, R. H. Jennings, with making threats to kill, has been put under a bond of $250 to keep the peace.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

DR. WAITE CONFESSES TO HAVING GIVEN POISON

Says He Was Under Evil Influence Which He Calls "The Man From Egypt"

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)
 NEW YORK, March 29.—Detectives went to Orient Point, L. I., this morning in search of Eugene O. Kane, an embalmer, who is now the most important witness in the Peck murder case.

Dr. Arthur Warren Waite last night confessed that he had given Kane $9000 to swear, if necessary, that he had used a certain poison in embalming the body of John E. Peck for burial. Kane, however, denied the use of such a poison several days ago.

Waite confessed that he had administered several varieties of disease germs to both Mr. and Mrs. Peck. When the germs showed no results he followed them in both cases with poisonous drugs.

In committing these acts Waite declared he was under an evil influence, which he personified as "the man from Egypt."

COAST WAGES HIGH

FARM HANDS GET GOOD PAY IN THE WEST

Scale Is Thirty to Forty Per Cent Better Than It Is on Atlantic Coast

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29.—Farm labor is better paid on the Pacific coast and in the Rocky mountain states than in any other part of the Union, according to a compilation of wages by the Department of Agriculture. Farm hands in the far western states receive thirty to forty per cent more than do those the country over, and nearly double the wages paid on the Atlantic coast.

The average monthly wage of farm labor throughout the United States during 1915 was $21.26 per month, where board was furnished, and $30.15 without board. The average in the far west was $33.50 with board and $48.31 without.

The Pay in Oregon
 In Oregon the monthly average wage with board during 1915 was $31.39, and without board $43.50. At harvest time Oregon farm hands received $2 per day with board, or $2.48 without, and at other seasons of the year were paid $1.41 with board, and $1.94 without.

In Washington the monthly wage, without board was $48. At harvest the daily wage was $2.35 with board and $2.80 without, while for the balance of the year laborers received $1.59 with board, or $2.16 without.

High Wages in Idaho

In Idaho the monthly wage, with board, during 1915, was $35.90 and without board $51. At harvest time the daily wage of farm hands was $2.21 with board and $2.68 without. During the remainder of the year the daily wage averaged $1.69 with board and $2.28 without board.

The Advertisements in The Times cover the community

Put a business stimulator here and be happy

Are You In Business For Yourself?

A Painter, a Carpenter, a Baker, a Rug Weaver, a Paper Hanger, a Mason, a Cement Worker, a Builder of Concrete Blocks, an Excavator, a Chimney Sweep, a Milk Dealer, a Blacksmith, a Tinner, a Jack-of-all Trades, a Tinkerer, a Cabinet Maker, an Electrician, a Plumber, a Harness Maker, a Drayman, a Taxi Driver, a Horse Dealer, a Dressmaker, a Teacher or a Doctor.

It is to your advantage to keep your name before the public. It is the life of your trade for the public to know that you are "still in business at the same old stand."

Every man or woman with a small business, every man or woman who derives his livelihood from the patronage of the public, every man or woman who uses no other newspaper publicity in the promotion of their business, should have an ad either in the City News column or in the "Business Directory" in the widely read classified ad columns of the Coos Bay Times.

It will be wonderfully surprising to you to learn how inexpensive this class of advertising is, and what remarkable results you get for so small an expenditure.

The people of today do not ask this person and that person who plows gardens, or who does paper hanging or who cleans out cisterns. They search through the advertising columns of their daily newspaper, and if your ad is there you are the one who will profit. The daily paper is their guide, their directory, their book of reference.

Many will say, "I couldn't stand the expense of advertising," and let it go at that, not appreciating the fact that it would be an investment rather than expense, as necessary to carry on business as tools, or stock or counters. And they will go on having to be satisfied with what business they can derive from their circle of friends and acquaintances, while those who do "see the light" will prosper from the patronage of the whole community.

It is estimated that the classified column of The Times, with its City News and its "Business Directory" and other classifications, is read daily by more than 10,000 people—an army greater than twice the population of Marshfield—an army that will give you patronage sooner or later.

In justice to your business, in justice to the public, who seek you, and even in justice to those who are already your patrons, your ad should be there—a handy reference, a convenience, a guide for those who want you.

You cannot help but profit therefrom. The value of the classified ad has been tried and found not lacking for the promotion of the small business, which will eventually join the ranks of the big business, if properly promoted.

We are banking our argument on the statements of those who have used and are using the classified ads, the City News columns and the "Business Directory," and have been so elated over the results that they have taken special pains to tell us about it time and again.

We invite you to join the army of the successful, the army of classified ad users, at a cost so low that you will hardly believe it to be true.
