IN THE SCHOOLS

The Tower room of the high school building has been fitted up for an art studio under the direction of Miss Volz, teacher of drawing. The room is a model of good taste for all students of the school and will supply a stimulating environment for the advanced students in drawing and painting who will assemble in it for work and instruction. The draperies are dark green and white while the furniture, a part of which was made in the school shops by the students in manual training, is finished in cream colored enamel. Good works of art adorn the walls. The expense of fitting up the room was borne by the Art Department Fund.
Later in the year an art exhibition will be given.

The inter-class oratorical contest for the selection of representatives of the school in the county contest, was held at the high school auditorium last evening before a large audience. In this contest each class was represented by two speakers—a girl and a boy—who had been selected by a series of class contests held prior to the one last night. As a result of the preliminary training, last night's contest was close and of a pretty high order for secondary schools. A fine interest in the outcome was manifested by the classes and class colors and class yells were much in evidence. Incidentally the winners of the contest last evening became the winners of the Red Cross Medals.

The German-American society of Marshfield has upon request of the superintendent of schools made application for and been granted permission by the larger organization of which the Marshfield organization is a local branch, to award in the school two medals a gold and silver one respectively, for proficiency in the German language. These medals will be awarded at Commencement, therefore, to those students in German 11 who in the judgment of the faculty rank first and second in the class. They will be awarded annually.
Eighty students in high school English will enter the good roads essay contest. As many in the grades will enter the same contest for grade for March, are as follows: Lela Conklin, George Conklin, Beulah Conklin, Faye Conklin. They were not absent during the month.

The pupils have been drawing maps the past week. They have done very nicely. Cyrus Ferrel having drawn an exceptionally good one, the writer thinks.

We have just purchased a fine new Victrola for our school. Have also purchased a piano for the same but the very bad condition of the roads makes it impossible to bring it to the school house.

On Arbor day the patrons of the school will bring well filled lunch baskets to the school yard. The men folks are most cordially invited to attend and bring spades and while the women folks prepare dinner they will be expected to spade ground for flowers, and children's gardens etc.

HAYNES INLET SCHOOL NEWS.

Thursday evening, about eighty of the parents and friends packed the school house of district Number twenty-six, Haynes Inlet, to enjoy an entertainment given by the scholars and teacher, Miss Hilda Munson, which marked the close of a successful winter term. The entertainment was comprised of dialogues and recitations by Inez Lundstrom, Ellen Reiker, Ina Reiker, Wilda Fulton, Lizzie McCulloch, Gertrude Gennings, Louette Munson, Lizzie Crouch, Charlie Mc-Culloch, Edwin Johnson, Irvin Peterson, D. Peterson, Hugh Reiker, Rudolph Reiker, Leonard Reiker, Albert Reiker, Flute and violin duet by Nelson brothers, accordion and violin duet by Ernest Ferrare and Arthur McCulloch, with organ accompaniment by Lizzie McCulloch, and selections by the quartette.
The entire program was well rendered and would have been a credit to any school in Coos county.

Inez Lundstrom, Edwin Johnson, Ina Reiker, Albert Reiker and Leonard Reiker have not been late nor missed a recitation during the entire school term.

The attendance has been well up to the average and the interest taken by scholars and parents showed their appreciation of the manner in which Miss Munson has conducted the school.

HOW TO BEAUTIFY MARSHFIELD.

By Dewett Lash.

A BEAUTIFUL city is what everybody wants to live in. All people like to live in a clean healthy city and not in a rubbish pile.
To make a beautiful city out of a dirty one you should fill all the sloughs that are not of much use.
And where the dredge has filled in with sand and shells, you could throw some grass seeds, so grass would grow instead of weeds. Some of the old houses in the outskirts of the city could be torn down or burned and Chinatown cleaned up and painted.

The streets are about the most important thing to the town. The people have to help to keep the streets clean; they must not throw apple or orange peeling or paper in the streets, and any other rubbish.
Plant trees along the sidewalks and flowers of all kinds, so that it will give the city a clean smell. Have large fountains spouting into the air in different places.

WAYS TO MAKE MARSHFIELD THE CITY BEAUTIFUL.

By Kathryn Nicholson.

MOST everyone knows many ways to make the city beautiful. Marshfield has such a wonderful chance on account of the hills, which are covered with greens and shrubbery.

One of the things which should be done is to paint all the old houses which need it, and clean up the yards and streets; plant climbing vines and flowers over unsightly stumps and fences; make lawns and plant trees along the parkings. Each city should have at least one city park filled with all things which a park requires; as, picnic grounds, trees, creeks, swamps and a zoo.

The waterfront could be improved by removing many of the old buildings which are beyond repairing.
As the climate is so delightful, both in winter and summer, many shrubs could be planted that would remain green the year around. Some houses where they do not have yards could have window boxes with bright colored flowers, which are always attractive.

on page 6.

News of Near by Towns

STEAMER FIFIELD PROBABLY WILL BE SAVED

There is still a chance to float the steamer Fifield, it seems. The Ban-don Western World prints the following regarding the vessel:

According to P. C. Genevieux, of Portland, representative of the Insurance underwriters, who was in Bandon, and left for San Francisco, the steamer Fifield is to be pulled out to sea with the next extreme high tide which will be on or about the 18th of the present month. A powerful tow boat from San Francisco will arrive at that time for the purpose.

Now on the Beach

The work of pulling the boat onto the beach was completed several days ago. She has since been cleaned of sand and her tanks and boilers emptied. The holds will be filled with casks and it is believed that unless severe weather conditions are encountered at the time the danger of losing the vessel in attempting to pull her out will be slight.

Will Be Towed South

No repairs will be attempted on the hull as it is believed the barrels will keep her afloat so that she can be towed to San Francisco and put on drydock, where her hull will be repaired; her machinery overhauled and various minor damages fixed.

TWO ELECTED

The Myrtle Point Enterprise says: At the annual city election held here, C. A. Harrington and J. S.
Whitaker were elected councilmen, while Arrington was re-elected treasurer and Dodge recorder.

The result of the balloting follows: For councilmen, three-year term—C. A. Harrington 85, Geo. W.
Shelley 32, J. O. Stemmler 64, J. S.
Whitaker 72; for recorder—E. A.
Dodge 124, C. W. Fonsler 1, Mary Richards 1; for treasurer—J. M.
Arrington 124, Florence Buell 1.

MAKE FIRST TRIP

The Gold Beach Globe says: The first trip over the road between this place and Crescent City with an auto was made by C. S.
Gauntlett in D. M. Moore's Ford last week. He was accompanied by Floyd Huntley, Chas. Starr, Dave and Frank Colvin, going down one day and back the next.

BUSINESS GOES SOUTH

That most of the shipping to the lower Coquille river is from San Francisco is indicated by the following from the Western World:

The fact that the Port of Bandon is beginning to be looked upon as the entrance to the Coquille valley territory as a whole, was amply demonstrated by the enormous amount of supplies for all parts of the valley and Curry county points which arrived on the Elizabeth the first of the week. Wednesday morning the up river boats were loaded to the guards with a miscellaneous cargo of freight and the Central Warehouse was still piled high with goods.

It is said that during the past winter since the service from the north has become uncertain, the merchants of the county have begun to buy heavily in San Francisco.
The most of this tonnage for the up river cities is shipped via Bandon on the Elizabeth and river boats, the freight being cheaper that way.

AGAINST CIGARETTES

(Special to the Times.)
BANDON, Ore., April 8.—The Mothers' Study club has appealed to the city to see that the state cigarette law is enforced and also that a city ordinance be passed. The city attorney will investigate.
