HAS SCHEME FOR BOOSTING COOS COUNTY

R. G. Grant is endeavoring to give out reliable information about the locality.

R. G. Grant, who will make his future home in Marshfield about the middle of the coming summer, is conducting a unique publicity campaign for Marshfield and the Coos Bay country throughout the east.

Mr. Grant is a firm believer in Marshfield's future and states that with the wonderful diversified resource the future possibilities for Marshfield are so good that they do not have to be enlarged upon to interest new blood and capital, as he states it is much better to make all statements from such a conservative standpoint that when the newcomer makes his initial trip to the locality he will find things better than were told to him.

Mr. Grant is using some local property in connection with his work and the agreement is that each purchaser become a Marshfield booster which will have a beneficial effect. Mr. Grant is now mailing out in the neighborhood of 100 news letters per month consisting of items of importance in reference to Marshfield and Coos Bay progress. These items are taken from the Coos Bay Times and other reliable sources during the month. Mr. Grant states that there will be a large number of people from the east to Marshfield during July and August. He is trying to get the Union Pacific Railway to grant a special rate to Marshfield during the month of July. A few more earnest boosters like this ought to help put Marshfield on the map where it belongs.

GET MUCH IN RAID TO HAVE NO QUEEN

ABOUT $1,500 WORTH OF BOOZE IS CAPTURED YESTERDAY

Chr's Grohs, of North Bend, Charged With Selling Liquor — Out on $6000 Bail— To Fight Case

Booze in almost every shape and form, some $1,500 of it, was captured by the officers in the raid made late yesterday on the Chr's Grohs sort drink parlor and home in North Bend. Grohs was arrested an hour later and liberated under $6000 bonds to appear Monday at 10 a. m. in Judge Shuster's court. He has retained A. H. Derbyshire as attorney and it is said will fight the charge of bootlegging.

Complaint Made
The complaint against Grohs, who is a former saloon keeper, was sworn to by Mrs. Max Timmerman. Mentioned in the complaint as witnesses are Mrs. Max Timmerman, Max Timmerman, Dode Fawcett and O. E. Smith. It is said there will be still other witnesses.

Breaks Into Rooms
District Attorney Liljeqvist, who was present at the seizure, said that for two months there have been reports about bootlegging at the Grohs place, but this is the first time the necessary evidence could be secured. Chief Pete Anderson and Constable Emery broke into the store room and into the apartments of Grohs on the second floor.

Find Large Supply
The officers went to the storeroom in the back of the building and breaking the padlock, found 13 kegs of booze, some of them partially filled. An inner room upstairs was broken into and about 26 boxes of case goods confiscated.

It was stated by the "raiders" that there were four glasses on a table in the apartment, still containing wine in them. An outer room was found fairly well filled with booze, cases covering the floor and lining the wall of the room.

Many Varieties
The booze consisted mostly of whiskey, brandy, gin, orange bitters, apricot cordial, sherry, pear and blackberry cordial, rock and rye and port wine. There was little beer found.

All of the booze was immediately taken to the police station and locked up, all of the work being accomplished before a curious throng. Some of them asked the officers that they might too be locked in jail.

CANVASSING FIELD

PORTLAND JOURNAL CIRCULATION MAN VISITS COUNTY.

Agency Here Has Been Taken From Norton & Hanson and Given to Marshfield News Co.

J. E. Turnbull, representing the circulating department of the Oregon Journal, of Portland, is in the city to execute for the new delivery arrangements which are now possible with the train service. He will visit all of the Coos county cities and says now that the train can bring the papers from Portland in here promptly and in time to be of news service, the Journal is installing a perfect service.

Has Morning Edition.

The agency which was formerly at Norton & Hanson's store, was very unsatisfactory and has been changed to the Marshfield News company, which is now the official agency for the Journal here. The Journal prints a morning edition now, as well as an afternoon edition. It is the morning edition which will be delivered here. When the train arrives in the afternoon the Journals of that morning will be thrown off and immediately delivered to any part of the city.

Will Reach All Points.

The same arrangement will apply to the other cities of the county. Under the old arrangements the Portland papers arrived here two days late and it was not regarded as worth while under the slow mail service to try to make much of an effort here, but now the train service allows the morning edition of the Journal to become a factor in the local newspaper field.

The Marshfield News Co., because of its superior delivery service, has taken the lead in Marshfield in the newspaper and magazine line in a very short time. The securing of the exclusive Journal agency is only a forerunner of other changes along the same line.

—FOR SHERIFF—

Subject to the wishes of the electors at the primaries May 19, I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Coos County on the Republican ticket. My platform is brief: "Efficiency and economy; strict enforcement of law."

DANIEL BARKLOW, Myrtle Point, Oregon.

COOS COUNTY CANNOT SUPPORT FESTIVAL TO THIS EXTENT.

Such Is Vote of Chamber of Commerce—Want to Stage Similar Contest at Home.

Coos Bay will not enter a candidate for queen or candidates for maids of honor for the Portland Rose Festival. This was the decision of the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce at their meeting of last evening, after the plan had been outlined by Mrs. Anita Valentine, of Portland.

In July there is to be a big railroad celebration on Coos Bay. It will take a great deal of money to stage it; furthermore, a similar contest for queen and maids of honor of the celebration is to be staged here. The decision was that two such contests, so close together, would be impossible.

Mrs. Valentine said that any town in Oregon may nominate a queen. She will be chosen according to the number of votes, regardless of the fact she may not be from Portland. Six maids of honor will come from Portland and six from other sections of the state.

Taxpayers' League.
The Tax Committee, of the local Chamber, will attend the meeting of April 19 in North Bend for the purpose of organizing a Taxpayers' League. The move was endorsed as a very good one.

To Stop the Strike.
According to the vote of the Chamber, there will be no strike of the railroad employees all over the United States, the latter part of this month. A vote will be sent to the National Chamber at Washington, asking it to intercede to try and get the employers and employees to arbitrate their differences.

L. F. Heuperman offered his register map of Coos Bay to the Chamber for $150. This was referred to a committee and no action taken.

May Reassemble Band.
Asking that the organization back the move to reassemble the Coos Bay band by paying $50 a month, Ben Fisher argued that such an organization is absolutely necessary, especially for the railroad celebration. The matter was referred directly to the Board of Trustees for action.

He said there are about 25 musicians here who have agreed to play. The $50 would provide $25 a month for music and $25 a month for a director, and would cost $400 the remainder of the year.

"Buy At Home" Week.

A "Buy at Home" week has been suggested by the Progress Club. This was referred to a committee, opinion favoring the move.

A telegram will be sent to Senator Chamberlain endorsing the original O. and C. land bill, allowing 40 per cent of the proceeds for road purposes and another 40 per cent for school purposes.

Henry Sengstacken said that part of this money ought to go to the Port Commissions of the state and says that a fight will be made for a share of it.

Will Clean Up Trash.

W. A. Reid reported that the city has agreed to pay for a man and team to collect the tin cans and other rubbish of the city that was not picked up on Cleanup Day.

A vote of thanks was sent to the Coquille Commercial Club for the spirit with which they are joining in the railroad celebration.

MOTHER TOO LATE

ARRIVES TWO HOURS AFTER DEATH OF L. G. MECKS

Funeral Tomorrow Afternoon at 2 o'clock From Wilson Chapel and Burial at the Sunset Cemetery

Mrs. Julius Harmer, of North Yakima, Wash., mother of the late L. G. Meeks, arrived here yesterday afternoon, just two hours after the death of Mr. Meeks. She had been summoned and made haste to get here and suffered a severe shock when she arrived and found she was too late.

Funeral Tomorrow

The funeral of Mr. Meeks will be held from the Wilson chapel at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The services will be conducted by Rev. J. S. Stubblefield and the burial will be at Sunset Cemetery.

Born in Canada

Lewis Grange Meeks was born at Nanapanee, Ontario, October 28, 1870, and was consequently in his forty-sixth year. He was married at Spokane, Wash., October 31, 1896, to Miss Ethel Sawin who survives him. He also leaves his mother, three brothers and two sisters, all of whom reside at North Yakima.

Mr. Meeks was taken ill during the holidays. He had pneumonia and peritonitis and apparently was slowly recovering but suffered a relapse March 20.

REV. OLSON ARRIVES WAR HITS SMOKE

FORMER MARSHFIELD PASTOR COMES FROM PORTLAND

Rev. Herman Lind Will Be in Charge of the Coos Bay Swedish Lutheran

Rev. J. Richard Olson of Portland, and formerly of this city, arrived yesterday afternoon on the train en route to Marshfield. The reason for this is that a certain brand of cigarette papers of peculiar character are made in Austria and no one in the American trade is concerned with only on the Pacific coast. So far as the United States today, it is said.

This is the explanation given by the habitual user.

Not only is an advance in the price of smoking pipes desired, but black vulcanized rubber and black amber, from which bits are made, are both practically out of the market. Pipe makers in San Francisco, it is reported, are buying up old pipes at retail prices to get the bits so that favorite pipes may be repaired for customers who are willing to pay the price.

Mr. Olson is pastor of the Emmanuel Lutheran church of Portland. He is also a lieutenant and chaplain in the Oregon Naval Militia and in the Portland Chamber of Commerce, is a member of the Members' Council which is in the nature of an advisory board. Mr. Olson formerly was pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church in Marshfield and he is here now to meet again with the church members and arrange for a new pastor.

Rev. Herman Lind is the new minister who will be in charge here. He will be pastor of the Marshfield and North Bend churches. Mr. Lind is now filling Mr. Olson's place during his absence. He will come the latter part of April and will remain on Coos Bay for three months and possibly permanently. Mr. Lind is a well known minister and one who has to this credit the building of churches at eight different places where he has been located. Mr. Olson thinks he will be able to do much in building up local churches.

Mr. Olson will preach at the Sunday morning service at the Swedish Lutheran church and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at North Bend. In the evening he will deliver a sermon in English at the Marshfield church. He will probably return home Monday. In Portland Mr. Olson is quite prominent and has made a great success of his church work. He only recently returned to his home after having been called away on account of the death of his father.

Mr. Pankow is greatly impressed with the prospects of Coos Bay, and Mr. Goodrum is looking for a big development in the automobile business here this season and is making preparations to take care of it.
