like to trade with a store that has no substitutes to offer you—where, when you ask for Castoria, for instance, you receive the old genuine Castoria—not some substitute made to deceive you. — If you like that kind of a drug store you will like to trade at "THE OWL," for that's the kind of a store that Frank D. Cohan has made of it.

Home From Gold Beach.—Attorney Tom T. Bennett is back from Gold Beach, county seat of Curry county, where he went to take depositions in the case of E. G. Perham vs. Bandon Construction Co.

Roads Improve.—The roads to Coquille were in good shape today and the auto stages were able to start into operation again after being put out of business for several days because of the rains.

Meeting Postponed.—The meeting of the North Bend Chamber of Commerce, scheduled for last evening, has been postponed until next week because of the bootlegging case tried there. Sec. Smith was on the jury.

Neighborhood Prayer Meeting.—The neighborhood prayer meeting for the southwest district will be held tomorrow morning at the home of Mrs. J. M. Wright, 557 S. 9th street. The leader will be Miss Mary C. Ayers.

Entertain Councilmen.—The ladies of the North Bend library board and their husbands are entertaining the members of the city council and their wives this evening at the library building. There will be a short program and refreshments will be served.

Loading Cement.—The 6000 bags of cement that arrived the other day on the boat from San Francisco for the Southern Pacific company are now being loaded aboard freight cars and will be hauled out on the line. It is to be used for concreting the portals to the tunnels between Coos Bay and the Umpqua.

Visiting Parents.—James J. Magee, son of Capt. and Mrs. James Magee of Empire, is visiting his parents. He has been sailing on the Pacific for twelve years or more past and intends going to the Atlantic coast. He is now first officer of the Admiral Schley of the Alaska Steamship Co. fleet and has master's papers.

Not So Bad Here.—Over in Tacoma the police have barred from sale "Golden Nectar," a thirst quencher manufactured in Portland. The officers say that it is under the ban because it contains one-half of one per cent of alcohol. However, this is not so in Oregon for here the law allows alcohol in beverages up to one-half of one per cent.

To Hear in May.—The pleadings of the attorneys in the John Goines will case are to be closed on next Monday and it will then be up to County Judge Watson to set a date for the hearing. Inasmuch as the grand jury and the circuit court will be in session very shortly it is not expected that the hearing in this case can be before some time in early May. Relatives of John Goines are seeking to break the will.

Are Lowering Bridge.—Workmen today are busy, under the supervision of Street Commissioner Albrecht, in lowering the Second street bridge that extends across Mill Slough fill between Anderson and Curtis Avenues. The bridge was erected there before the fill was made and now stands high and dry in the air a detriment to the looks of the city. The roadway will be lowered to grade and the upright braces and stanchions will be cut down.

One of the Seven Wonders.—Agent Cushing, of the North Pacific company, says that there is occurring in Marshfield right now one of the seven wonders of the world. The boat from the south came in no less than a week ago and yet there are three booze orders still uncalled for. He says he has been watching the papers closely to see if three people have not died lately as he can figure no other reason for the delay in taking the "bottled in boxes" away from the office.

Children Save Money.—The new banking system started in the public schools a short time ago is rapidly gaining favor. Yesterday was "Banking Day" at the Central school and better than $18 was put away in the savings accounts. The last week the amount was $25. Before the end of the year, at that rate, there will be several hundreds of dollars put away in the banks for the pupils. As soon as any pupil has saved a total of one dollar he or she is given an account book at the bank.

Also Included.—In the list of realty firms that have joined the Coos Bay Realty Board the name of the Security Mortgage and Bond company was not mentioned. They too should be listed with the firms on the rolls.
Go After Big Fellows.—Dr. R. H. Walters and Gordon Smith rigged up their fishing poles this morning and set out for parts unknown to entice the wily trout from their deep and dank lairs. Secreey surrounded their departure, but "it is understood they are trying the north fork of Coos River again. One of their catches there a week ago was almost 20 inches in length.

ROAD WORK COSTLY

HIGHWAY ON ROGUE RIVER WILL BE EXPENSIVE

Report Is Made by Engineers to the Chief Forester of Department of Agriculture

Building new roads up the Rogue river in Curry county will be expensive according to a letter written to Senator Chamberlain by H. S. Graves, chief forester of the department of agriculture. Reference is made to a report of one of the senior highway engineers which is given below:

"The distance from Gold Beach at the mouth of the Rogue river to Agnes is 32 miles; from Agnes to Illahee is eight miles, making a total of 40 miles from Gold Beach to Illahee. During the past season the county constructed a 12-foot road on good line and grade from Gold Beach to Bagnell's ferry, which is five miles up the river, the idea being to bridge the river here and go out to Euchre creek as a part of the coast road. This leaves 35 miles of road to construct. A 16-foot road on good line and grade would cost about $7000 per mile, or $245,000 to connect Gold Beach and Illahee.

"The distance from Illahee to the mouth of Mule Creek is approximately 23 miles. A 16-foot road at $7000 per mile for the 23 miles would cost $161,000.

"The distance from the mouth of Mule Creek to Galice is approximately 27 miles. In this section also the cost of road construction would be very heavy, probably not less even if not greater, than the cost of the other sections considered. Twenty-seven miles at $7000 a mile make a total for this section of $189,000, or a total for the 85 miles from Galice to Bagnell's ferry of $595,000. This estimate is for a 16-foot road. It is probable that a 10 or 12-foot road with turnouts, that is, a single track road could be constructed for approximately $4000 per mile, or a total of $340,000 for the 85 miles.

"The distance would be shortened about two miles by continuing a road from the mouth of Mule Creek over the divide to West Fork (Dothan postoffice,) on the Southern Pacific railroad; but a road by this line would not be usable in the winter. "Of the three possible routes, namely with the terminus at Galice, at Leland and West Fork, the number of miles required would be 85, 83 and 83 respectively, and the cost of a 16-foot road, $595,000, $581,000, and $556,000 respectively, and of a 10-foot road, $340,000, $332,000 and $319,500."

RAINFALL IS BIG

Seven Inches Falls in One Day At Rogue River.

The rainfall during March was exceptionally heavy at Rogue River. The Gold Beach Reporter says: "The rain fall here for March was 22.65 inches, one-half of which fell in two days, seven inches one day and over four inches the next. The total rainfall for the season to date amounts to 78.48 inches.
