KILBURN IN MIDST OF 86 MILE GALE OFF PT. ARENA

Weathered It in Good Shape—Arrived This Morning From South and Sails for North at 3 p. m.

Bound north from San Francisco to Eureka, the steamship F. A. Kilburn poked her nose out from under the lee of Point Arena last Tuesday and buffeted into a Nor'wester blowing 86 miles per 60 minutes. There was a heavy sea, but the vessel took the swells very well. She arrived here this morning from the south bringing 17 passengers for Coos Bay and a small amount of southern freight. At three o'clock she left down for Portland.

The arrivals were: Miss M. Larson, H. F. Cotton, Betty Polard, Geo. Croop, Myrtle E. Weatherby, Ethel U. Veeder, John Murrell, Charles Epp, J. A. Moon, Walter Stalder, C. L. Pike, C. E. Clark, S. Domenighini, Anna Lehmanowsky, W. G. Egelston, Chas. Jankson, O. Hendikson.

The departures for the north were: C. C. Moore, H. E. Carlton, H. C. Fleming, C. H. Everett and C. H. Everett, Jr., with two steerage.

WATERFRONT NEWS

C. F. McGeorge, agent for the steam schooner Coaster now under charter to the C. A. Smith company, said if the vessel got out of the lower bay today she would leave San Francisco on Tuesday, returning, bringing freight.

The steamship Kilburn arrived this morning at 11 from San Diego and way points, sailing from here at 3 p. m. for Portland.

The steam schooner Coquille River arrived late yesterday afternoon to load lumber at the C. A. Smith for Bay Point. She is the only steam schooner on the coast still burning coal and it is said that the bill for fuel about matches up with the profits. The vessel is of 265 net tonnage, carries 420,000 feet of lumber and was built at Prosper, on the Coquille in 1896. She may be equipped very shortly with oil burning apparatus.

The Coaster, Tillamook, San Pedro, Adeline and Hardy are in the lower bay and may get out at 10 o'clock tonight. The Tiverton is also there.

MAY GET COMPANY

NAVAL MILITIA FOR COOS BAY IS ENCOURAGED

Barring a slip in the present plans, Coos Bay will have a full company of 48 naval militiamen, drilling in uniforms before the railroad celebration in late July. This encouraging news was brought back from Portland by Charles Hall, after a conference with Governor Withycombe and with Adjutant General White, O. N. G.

Furthermore, the governor, the adjutant general and President Hugh McLean, of the local Chamber of Commerce, have sent wires to Washington, asking that a torpedo boat be stationed here. Word is expected back within a week.

COLONEL ROSA DENIES HE WILL RUN FOR SENATOR

"Cast Aside Personal Vanities Long Ago", Laughs Prominent Bandonian—Goes to Meeting

Colonel Rosa, of Bandon, made short work this morning of the report, long current here, that he expects to run for the Republican nomination for state senator. He was passing through to Eugene, taking his first trip on the train, and also to attend a meeting tonight of the port representatives of the Northwest. Peter Loggie went for the Port of Coos Bay.

"What?" he exclaimed, "Me for state senator? No sree bob," and he blew a ring of blue smoke toward the ceiling of the car. "Long ago I cast aside those little personal vanities," he laughed, "and now I am enjoying myself." So there is nothing to the rumor and the Colonel will not be a candidate, thus leaving the field to I. S. Smith and W. A. Ackerman, of Marshfield.

At Eugene are congregating the representatives of the Port commissions. They will talk over the matter of how to secure for their district a portion of the proceeds from the O. and C. lands, providing they are sold.

"I'll do what I can," said Colonel Rosa, "but I hardly think that anything will come of the meeting. I think those lands will be in litigation for years to come."

Fifield Is Now Broadside

The bulk of the Fifield has swung around, broadside to the beating of the seas, he said, and it looks more discouraging than ever. The stern is swinging; the prow is buried solidly some 12 or 14 feet in sand. The motion of the afterpart of the vessel is expected to gradually break her in two.

MAIL DELAYS TRAIN.

Delay of the afternoon train from Reedport is occasioned, according to railroad men, because of the loading and unloading of the parcels post and the mail. As soon as the trains are able to go all the way through without stopping, they may then the schedule will be pretty well held to. During the few days that the train took no parcels post the arrival back here from the Umpqua was always on the minute.

NO SUCCESSOR YET

Councilman Must Be Named for L. G. Meeks' Place

Speculation is rife in Eastside and in Cooston as to whom Mayor Kitson will appoint to the Eastside council to fill the place of L. G. Meeks, deceased. The appointment is expected to be made at a meeting the latter part of this month. There has been three names especially mentioned, Messrs. M. L. Hunt, Iverson and Alexander, of Cooston.

For 30 days notices must be posted in Eastside before council action can be taken on the vacating of the Hennessey plat along the Eastside water front.

CANNOT BE REGISTERED

Judge Pennock made out a registration card for Walter Richardson which has just been returned by County Clerk Watson. The card read, "Have voted for years in Coos county. Unable to find father's citizenship papers." Mr. Watson advised taking the matter to District Attorney Liljeqvist. Richardson wanted to register weeks ago, but could not as he did not have his father's papers of naturalization.

EDISON PHOTO DRAMA IS ESPECIALLY FINE

"The Destroying Angel" to Be Shown at Royal Tomorrow Night—Will Please.

"The Destroying Angel," an Edison photodrama released through Kiehn-Edison Feature Service, to be shown at the Royal theatre tomorrow night is a fascinating story of romance and tragedy told in film in a manner that leaves little to be desired. Its title is extremely appropriate—tragedy apparently going hand-in-hand with admiration or love for Mary Ladislav. The man she first chose for a husband is killed in an automobile accident; the next admirer upon whom she looks with favor is murdered, and still another meets the same fate. The kindling of love in their breasts appears to be the signal
