BORN

HENDERSON—Born to Mr. and Mrs. E. Stanley Henderson, Wednesday, April 19th, a daughter.

Club Meets Friday—The Parents' and Teachers' Club of Bunker Hill will meet in the school house Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Postpone Sale—The Ladies Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church have postponed their Easter apron and food sale.

Wants Money Back—L. J. Ranney has started suit in the justice court against Burton G. Wetzel for $42 and interest alleged to be due on a loan made several months ago.

Into New Office Soon—The Wells Fargo office will be moved from the Lockhart building May 1 to the new location in the Shamrock building on North Front street. The room is now being put in shape for the office.

Long in Albuquerque—The Times is in receipt of a letter from Hugh Long, ordering his copy of The Times sent to Albuquerque, New Mexico, and enclosing check for six months subscription. It is evident that the Mexican bandits' haven's frightened Hugh.

Is to Resign—Duncan Ferguson, Jr., assistant engineer of the Marshfield fire department, has handed in his resignation to take effect May 1. He is going back into the transfer business with his father. He has been with the department for better than a year.

Comes for a Donkey—Chester A. Carey is down from Allegany today for the purpose of loading another donkey engine for his father's logging camp on north Coos river. They are now logging on the Dan Steino place where there is about 750,000 feet of timber to be taken off.

Michie Coming Back—Word from Portland states that the government bar dredge Colonel P. S. Michie on Monday floated out of the Portland drydock where she has been undergoing repairs. She was to start for Coos Bay either yesterday or today. A bar survey is to be made before she starts work, for the purpose of ascertaining what needs to be done.

May Be Same Man—In The Times last evening appeared part of a letter to the mayor asking the present whereabouts of Waymond F. Williams. George E. Cook, secretary of the Moose, at once found out that one of the lodge members living at Powers is named Raymond F. Williams. He did not know if this is the same man, inasmuch as in the letter the first name started with a W instead of an R.

Say Cats Is Cats—Four days the auto of Frank Caterlin has stood on the dock. When he went to get it this morning he found a mother cat and her litter of four husky, meowing youngsters enshrined in the tonneau. He fired them out, baggaze and all, but a moment later they were back again. The family of refugees then beat it for the well-filled sacks in F. D. Fletcher's warehouse, there to pioneer a new home.

Has Road Blue Print—Capt. Britt, of the Coast Guard Station, has received from Washington blue prints of the proposed roadway about the bluffs south of Coos Head to be used in times of shipwreck, hurrying equipment to strategic points. He doesn't appear satisfied with the route marked out. An official came here and mapped it out according to the compass and most of the roadway will be well back from the cliffs. It will be built by the Coast Guard crew.

Looks Over Road—Thomas Dixon, of Eugene, connected with the McArthur-Perks company that had the contract for building of the Willamette Pacific, came in last night over the road. He is on an inspection trip, coming here with W. R. Fontaine, assistant engineer. The road will not be formally turned over to the Southern Pacific, said Mr. Dixon, until the Umpqua bridge is completed. He says this will be the latter part of July and possibly August 1, though there is a probability of a "shoo-fly" at the Umpqua before that. Steel work has already started on the draw of the big bridge, the concrete work for the center pier being completed.
