NEWSPAPERS

NEWSPAPERS are so strong a factor in modern life that it is but natural they should be the theme of discussion among men and women who bear no relation whatever to the business except as readers.

"The other day I heard a group of men speak about newspapers. They were abusive. Men usually are when they discuss this subject. I have often wondered why."

It would appear, says the Express, in commenting on the Barry assertion, that the most frequently reiterated criticisms against newspapers are summed up in charges that they are inaccurate, biased or corrupt.

As Mr. Barry says: "Even under most favorable conditions, I do not believe that any newspaper can be wholly accurate. No man can."

As to corruption, it is to be confessed that there are corrupt newspapers, just as there are corrupt men and women. We are compelled to agree with Mr. Barry in his assertion.

"The corruption of newspapers is unquestionably one of the saddest features of our life. A powerful newspaper can be a shocking pollution of the stream of truth."

The devil appears in various guises. But it is only when he appears as "old age" that he really frightens anybody.

Every man and woman has knowledge of such newspapers. Sometimes, despite their corruption, they achieve financial prosperity. They never win respect. Themselves characterless, they never command public confidence.

Happily for the public welfare, the number of such papers is diminishing as their influence wanes. They cease to be serviceable even to the interests that corrupt them.

NEW BUSINESS FEATURE

I. S. Smith, who recently purchased the Coos Bay Stationery Co., is inaugurating a series of special Saturday sales the first of which will be given tomorrow and notice of which appears in another column of tonight's Times.

WITH THE TOAST AND THE TEA

GOOD EVENING Dost thou love life? Then do not squander time, for that is the stuff life is made of.—Franklin.

SAME OLD WORLD It's the same old world in shine and shade. That God in the first sweet morning made; Same sweet stars in the sky above.

Where the Rachaela weep for their children lost; Same old road where the burdened race Take tears and dreams to the Farewell Place.

From night to the dream of morning song; Same sad story of sorrows old; Same sweet joys that the heart would hold; And the wounded breast still aches for rest—

Father is always hollering at the children because they hate to go to bed and hate to get up, but mother knows that the poor children inherited it from their father.

The Coos Bay man who has discovered that he can't stand prosperity is worse off than the man who has never had a chance to find out whether he can or not.

QUESTION FOR THE DAY

What has become of the old fashioned man who smoked cubed cigarettes?

A woman in Seattle, living at the age of 104 years, says her long life is due to the fact that she has always been able to control her temper.

If you feel good, that is a sign you are in good health. If you feel particularly good, that is a sign you are young.

The devil appears in various guises. But it is only when he appears as "old age" that he really frightens anybody.

MELLOW-SWEET IS TASTE OF SPEAR HEAD

Most Richly-Flavored Chew That Was Ever Pressed Into Flegs

FAVORITE FOR A GENERATION

Red-blooded men with real tobacco hunger find that they can satisfy it only by chewing, and the most wholesome and satisfying tobacco to chew is that made in plug form.

The fruit of luxury in tobacco chewing is the rich, sweet, juicy flavor that trickles through your system when you chew Spear Head.

No other chewing tobacco is so mellow, so luscious and so satisfying. No other equals Spear Head for putting a keen edge on your appetite.

Spear Head is made of the world's best tobacco leaf—the choicest of red Kentucky Burley. This leaf is selected for its full, juicy richness with the most painstaking care, is stemmed by hand, is pressed into Spear Head plugs so slowly that not a drop of the rich, natural juice escapes.

Your first chew of Spear Head will open your eyes to the genuine enjoyment there is in chewing.

Chew the rich and mellow tobacco that has been the favorite for a third of a century—that's Spear Head. In 10c cuts, wrapped in wax paper.
