PROBATE CASES UP ORDER TOO EARLY BASE BALL SCORES

MANY MATTERS ARE DISPOSED OF IN COURT

Administration Affairs, Guardianships and Similar Business Receives Attention

(Special to The Times)
COQUILLE, Ore., April 24.—Many probate matters have been disposed of in the county court. The Sentinel prints the following details of the business:

B. W. Charlesworth, Roy Corson and Pearl R. Walker have been appointed appraisers of the estate of John C. Logan and Ella M. Logan, of Bandon.
John F. Hall, of Marshfield, has been appointed administrator of the estate of Alfred Jewell, deceased. This estate consists of personal property estimated to be worth $2,200 and W. J. Rust, Ben S. Fisher and F. E. Wilson were appointed appraisers.

George Smith has been appointed administrator of the estate of Jennie McCann, which consists of $500 in real and $200 in personal property. The appraisers are F. E. Wilson, H. H. Rogers and L. D. Smith.

F. E. Glazier, of North Bend, has been appointed appraiser of the estate of Jane Schneiderhahn, deceased. The estate consists of $250 in real property.

J. Stanley has been appointed administrator of the estate of Daniel J. Taylor, deceased. The property in this estate consists of an interest in a suit in the Circuit court.

Annie DeLong, of Arago, has been appointed administratrix of the estate of Isaac N. DeLong, consisting of $1,500 in real property and $2,500 in personal. The appraisers appointed are L. S. Minard, Henry Schroeder and J. D. Carl.

HERE FROM SAN JOSE
Miss Myrtle Lenet, after an absence of two years, came back yesterday from San Jose, Cal., where she now lives, to visit for a short time with her father, Tom Lenet, of North Bend. Her brother, Chester Lenet, very well known here, is also in San Jose where he now has a butcher shop of his own and is doing very well.

COUNCIL TO MEET

At eight this evening the city council will meet in the council chambers, taking up the business of the city. It is expected the profile of Central avenue is already and will be up for approval, and also 12th street will again be argued. There is a possibility, too, that something will be done regarding the appointment of a city engineer.

SELLS HIS STORE

Ed. Thrift, of Langlois, is said to have sold out his general store here to Nute Divilbiss. Mr. Thrift, whose wife died some time ago, wants to take his children to a place where he can put them in a larger school. He has had the store for four years and has enjoyed a fine business.

YOUNG AMERICANS MEET

On Friday evening at 7:30 p. m. in the Central school will be held a meeting of the Young Americans at which time will be explained the ways and means of a "treasure hunt" which will start at 9:30 Saturday morning from in front of the Noble Theatre. There will be two divisions of boys. The winning division gets the prize which is to be hidden somewhere in the woods.

BRING MUCH PILING

Several truck loads of logs from the McDonald and Condon camp were dumped today on Anderson avenue for the going and Harvey building which is to be erected very shortly. The pilings are to be driven down some 60 feet below the surface to act as foundations.

GO OVER TO COQUILLE

Mote Burwell, a witness in the bootlegging case of Otto Edlund, arrived yesterday from Bend, and this morning went to Coquille with E. Edson, another witness for the state in the same case which is to be heard this term of the circuit court.

BACK FROM PORTLAND

W. S. Chandler, Postmaster Hugh McLain, Tim Seelye and Robert Marsden Sr., who were in Portland to testify in the case of Graham against Spreckles and the Southern Pacific, have returned home.

CONDITION CRITICAL

John Snyder, Sr., old, pioneer of Coos county, is seriously ill. He is reported very low today and it is feared his death may occur at any time.

GOES TO PORTLAND

L. R. Tower, of the Gunnery, is leaving in the morning for Portland where he will arrange for the delivery here of eight Fords, a carload.

BACK FROM THE SOUTH

Mrs. Roy Moore returned from San Francisco yesterday evening on the Adeline Smith.

SALES THIS AFTERNOON

The teamship Adeline is scheduled to get away for Oakland at 4:30 this afternoon.

DRUG STORE RAIDED

(Special to The Times)
ROSEBURG, Ore., April 24.—Officers made a raid Saturday evening on the S. E. Krohn drug store and seized a quantity of alcohol and other fluid matter which the officials think was used as coloring matter. The raid was made on a complaint that the drug store had been sold liquor illegally.

ROSEBURG MEN IN TROUBLE OVER LIQUOR SHIPMENTS

Charged With Receiving More Than Law Allows Within the Specified Four Weeks

Receiving liquor more often than the law allows is charged against three Roseburg men. It is the first case of the kind which has come up in this part of the state. The Roseburg Review gives the following account of the incident:

Acting upon the records at the county clerk's office, which are furnished by the railroad and express companies and show the receipts of shipments here since the first of the year, Constable Howard Church this afternoon filed complaints in the local justice court against George Staley, Dee Matthews and John Banks, alleging the acceptance of the booze supplies in excess of the amounts allowed by the state prohibition laws.

According to the constable the records show by affidavits of the common carriers that the men who are charged with violations of the law received two shipments each within the four weeks time which allow only one. The men, say the officials, therefore obtained a supply twice the size of that to which they are entitled. In the cases of Staley and Banks, whisky was the article received, while in the case of Matthews, beer is the cause of the complaint. Staley received two quarts of whisky each time on February 28 and March 25, and Banks shipments are dated February 14 and March 11. Matthews received his maximum amount of beer, 24 quarts, on February 12 and March 9.

The defendants claim the alleged violations of the law are technical, as their orders were placed the required 28 days apart.

EVANGELIST AND PARTY ON COOS RIVER

Entertained at Rogers Farm and Minister Speaks at the Coos River School

(By Rev. J. S. Stubblefield)

When the Bruce Evans evangelistic party, with a number of friends, started up Coos river Friday morning they expected to have a picnic dinner and then go to the Coos river school for an afternoon service. Captain G. L. Hall was at the wheel and in one hour and forty minutes after he left the dock at the foot of Market street he landed his cargo near the home of Frank Rogers on south Coos River. The hospitality of that home attracts human beings just like a magnet draws iron. Mrs. Hall, who was one of the party, whispered: "Don't take your lunch boxes off the boat, just leave them here until we come back."

The whole party walked through the meadow for about half a mile or maybe it was only a quarter of a mile up to the house. You pass through the yard before coming to the house, or at least we did, and the yard is worth going a hundred miles to see. Truly they have no finer yards on the banks of the Hudson, but nature works with the man who wants to make a beautiful home up Coos River, whereas it seems to work against the person who toils on the Hudson.

When we entered the house, Mrs. Rogers greeted us with as only a natural born hostess can, but at that she has nothing on her husband when it comes to true hospitality. They said: "Let us eat." I think they are in the habit of eating up there and if you had as many good things to tempt you as they set before us you might get the habit too. We all ate until we could eat no more, but when we quit we had eaten only a small part of the food that was in sight.

After about a half an hour of music with Mrs. Evans as the star, we went out to look at the barn, and people back in New York state or down in California who want to know how to build a model dairy barn may well come out and study it. There are only stanchions for one hundred and four cows, besides ample stable room for the calves and other stock. There are a lot of other farms up Coos River very much like this one. (I forgot to say the house is just as beautiful as the yard and as modern as the barn and nearly as large) but we are not boasting Coos River farms, indeed we should be very sorry to see these ranches change hands, for the best people we have in Coos County live right up there on those ranches.

Well we are not getting down to the High School very fast and the people are already beginning to gather there to hear Bruce. That is what the fellow at the other end of the telephone line said. Those who come down the river on the Life Line were: Mrs. Frank Rogers, R. N. Webster, L. G. Hall, Mrs. Hall, Harwood Hall, C. G. Price, Mary C. Ayres, Minnie Magnus, Marie Ronnee, Jack Thompson, H. B. Foskett, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Stubblefield. When we arrived at the High School we found about 50 or 75 Coos River people there to welcome us besides the faculty and students. We had a good meeting there and were back in Marshfield a few minutes after four o'clock.

P. S.—We did not eat or picnic lunches.

SHIP IS DELAYED

MUST HAVE TRAINED NAVAL MILITIA FIRST IS WORD

Then Navy Department Willing to Grant Request States Letter From Adj. Gen. White

Not until a naval militia company has been organized here and has drilled for a matter of several months at least will Coos Bay be able to secure a vessel from the Navy Department to be permanently stationed here. This is the gist of a letter received this morning by Charles Hall from Adj. Gen. George A. White, O. N. G.

This is contrary to the belief expressed by Mr. White some time ago. He wired the Department at Washington and was under the belief that a boat could be assigned here within a few weeks.

However this new phase is not at all discouraging say the local supporters of the naval militia. They say that this is the only sensible course and the going ahead with the forming of a company as soon as Adj. Gen. White comes here. He is expected very shortly.

WOULD BUILD SHIPS

FLORENCE, Ore., April 22.—Geo. Melvin Miller is in Florence for a few days on business, chief of which is organizing a company to build ships at Florence. At a meeting of some of the Florence business men this project was discussed and was favorably received. It was pointed out that lumber of excellent quality and of almost any length required can be obtained and cut here and that the cost of this lumber is relatively low.

ANOTHER CAR ADDED TO EUGENE TRAIN

Business On New Railroad Increases So That Addition Is Needed On Equipment

(Special to The Times)
EUGENE, Ore., April 24.—A third passenger coach has been added to the train from Eugene to Umpqua river on the line to Coos Bay. This is because of the increase in the business requiring the extra car. The train has been made up of four cars, two passenger coaches, a baggage and express car and combination mail and baggage car. It is said by trainmen that this train handles as much or more than any other two trains out of Eugene.
