

The Fallacy of Paraffine Base: Eastern oil manufacturers have long extolled the superior virtues of paraffine-base motor oils. But Pacific Coast motorists have proved that Zerolene, made from selected California crude, asphalt-base, gave best results. Their experience is now supported by the testimony of international experts. Lieut. Bryan stated before the Am. Soc. of Naval Engineers: "Oils made from the asphalt-base crudes have shown themselves better adapted to motor cylinders, as far as their carbon-forming proclivities are concerned, than are paraffine-base Pennsylvania oils." Zerolene received highest competitive awards, San Francisco and San Diego Expositions. Dealers everywhere and at service stations and agencies of the Standard Oil Company.

PRICE OF DRUGS IS HIGHER IN ENGLAND

Increase Has Been Very Great According to London Hospital Report

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

LONDON, May 1.—The higher cost of drugs means a heavy drain on hospital treasuries. The annual report of a London hospital gives four examples of remarkable increase in prices in drugs which are in common use there:

Bromides, pre-war, 30 cents per pound, now $6.25 pound.

Aspirin, pre-war, 47 cents per pound now, $10.00 per pound.

Phenacetic, pre-war, 65 cents per pound, now $15.00 per pound.

Urethane, pre-war, $1.50 per pound, now $11.25 pound.

STEAMSHIP LINE TREBLES ITS BUSINESS

Holland-America Boats Maintain Service from New York and Have Big Patronage

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

ROTTERDAM, May 2.—The Holland-America Line which maintains the Transatlantic service between New York and Rotterdam, more than trebled its gross profits in 1915, as an indirect result of the war, earning $9,136,613 as against $2,901,522 in 1914, out of which a dividend of 50 per cent is paid as compared with 17 in the preceding year.

According to the annual report, which has just been issued, the company lost the steamer "Remdyk" on a mine, while three other vessels were badly damaged by mines, and the "Ryndam" was in collision off the American coast; but despite the perils of the seas, 137 voyages with the company's own passenger and cargo vessels and another 77 with chartered ships.

MUCH PAPER IS WASTED IN ENGLAND

Attention of the Government Is Called to the Matter by Manufacturers of England

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

LONDON, May 2.—Newspapers which have been hard hit by the government restrictions on the importation of paper and pulp, are calling attention to certain departments of the government where they claim there is enormous waste of paper.

"Probably the country needs no reminder of the fact," remarks the Daily Mail, "that in the extravagant use of paper the state is in a very exposed glass house." The paper then takes up various departments to show that tons of paper are wasted every year in the production of government publications.

"Huge blue books," it adds "are produced at enormous expense. The Royal Commission on the Treatment of Sewage, which sat for years, furnished blue books which weighed forty pounds contained 5,293 pages, and were printed at a cost of 50,000 pounds—about nine pounds ($43) a page.

"It is clear that the government has only to set its own house in order to secure a very considerable saving in the consumption of paper."

MONEY IS NOW DUE

PORT HAS ABOUT $12,000 ON ITS BOOKS TO COLLECT

Mostly in Form of Notes, Many of Which Are Now Due—To Consider at Next Port Meeting

On the books of the Port of Coos Bay Commission is charged about $12,000 practically all of the amount due in notes. Many of these notes are due and past due. A list of them is now being made to be considered at the next meeting of the port commission.

Many payments are for bills received on Mill Slough. Last year the Port made a strenuous effort to get all the money possible collected. A share of the property owners being unable to pay then tendered their notes. Some of them have been held for more than a year.

A notification is to be sent to all persons concerned in cases wherein the notes are past due.

KILBURN 28 HOURS COMING FROM EUREKA THIS TRIP

Steamship Has 22 Men Aboard Who Receive an Increase in Their Salary

When the owners of the North Pacific Steamship Company, together with many like concerns granted a rise of $5 a month to sailors, cooks, waiters, firemen, oilers and wipers, they added exactly $110 a month to the payroll of the steamship F. A. Kilburn.

There are aboard this vessel 22 men rated for the increase. It is said the same is true aboard the steamship Breakwater.

Capt. McLellan, of the Kilburn, which arrived here late yesterday from the south and sailed again at 6 p. m., said that the headwind and sea on the up trip was unusually heavy. The vessel was 28 hours coming from Eureka, an 18 hour run under normal conditions. To add to the discomforts there was a very dense fog.

The cabins of the Kilburn were crowded yesterday, for the vessel carried 55 through passengers, not including the ones who came ashore here and who left Coos Bay for Portland aboard the ship.

Those Leaving Here

The departures on the Kilburn last evening for Portland were: William A. Anderson, C. O. Roth, F. H. Harrison, M. E. Redfield, W. A. Gibson, Andy Nelson, Carl Monstrom, E. P. Berthold and 12 steerage.

Mrs. Peter Scott Writes About Locating in That City

Mrs. Peter Scott, formerly of this city, writes The Times from Portland. She states that she is located in that city and that she is working in a florist establishment and that the work there is beautiful and that she enjoys it very much.

Mrs. Scott asks that it be made known through the columns of The Times where she is located and what she is doing so that her friends may know. She says that there has been various reports about where she had gone, among these a story that she had left for Alaska to look for a husband, which she denies. "But if I was the marrying kind," writes Mrs. Scott, "I could have found plenty on Coos Bay but I am not of that kind for which I am very thankful."

The many Marshfield friends of Mrs. Scott will be glad to know that she is still located in this part of the country.

MONTE CARLO HAS NO SOLDIERS LEFT

Old Guard of Honor of the Prince of Monaco Has Disappeared Since War Started

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

MONTE CARLO, May 2.—The old Guard of Honor of the prince of Monaco, four officers and 82 men, which constituted the military force of the principality in pre-war times, has disappeared since the European war came, for the whole gendarmerie of Monaco was recruited from abroad, and the members were all either Frenchmen or Italians. They now have been called to the colors of their respective countries, so that neutral Monaco found itself suddenly without adequate protection. Then the people volunteered for service, but to prove their independence as well as their dislike for militarism, they wear no uniform, merely their ordinary civilian costume and a red and white woolen armband.

In front of the main entrance of the palace stands a sentry, a 16 year old boy, leaning on an old pattern rifle, its fixed bayonet towering several feet above his head. He is dressed in a nondescript tweed suit very baggy at the knees, and wears no cartridge belt, merely the red and white armband.

Yet Monaco is not entirely neutral. Many of its youths have entered the French Foreign Legion, and the Hair-Apparent, Prince Louis, holds a commission in a French regiment.

GREATEST ARAB CHIEF IS REPORTED DEAD

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

CAIRO, Egypt, May 2.—Muhammad Pasha Daghistani, the greatest Arab chief who has been associated with the Turks in the present campaign in Mesopotamia, is dead. His death is said to have been the result of a fall from his horse, which was frightened by a shell during the British bombardment of the Sinn position on the right bank of the Tigris on March 8.

Daghistani was the generalissimo of the Arab forces, regular and irregular. Seventy years of age, he was a courteous gentleman of the old school of Conservatism, and an opponent of the Young Turk party. He had a great influence among both Arabs and Turks, and was highly respected by English officers who came in contact with him.

TALKS ON DANCING

BRUCE EVANS DELIVERS SERMON ON THE SUBJECT

He Says It Is a Hugging Match Set to Music—Large Attendance at the Meeting

EVANS ECHOES

Christian Science can open a pup's eyes in nine days providing you give him a lot of milk and dog biscuit in the meantime.

"Children who are brought up all wrong usually are brought down all right."

The preacher who spends his time preaching on Emerson, Browning and Shakespeare or expatiates on the circulation of the blood in a frog's hind leg does not very often believe in revivals.

"Too many church members think with their livers instead of their brains."

It was expected last night that the house would be full to hear Evangelist Evans on amusements. Arrangements had been made and they were used. More young men and women were in attendance last night than on any other occasion.

While the message of the preacher was perhaps of more direct interest to them than to others there were no doubt scores of mothers and fathers there to hear what Evans had to say. The evangelist did not deal with the question as a matter of right or wrong but as a matter of expediency.

He remarked that he had never met a man or woman who indulged in these so called amusements who ever was very strong on the prayer meeting or doing personal work.

Society Gambling

A society woman who gambles for cut-glass is worse than the gambler in some bling pig who gambles for money. The woman he said was dealing with a cause, the gambler was dealing with a result. He favored the moving picture show if it was not run on Sunday but remarked that any man or woman who could go to a movie five or six nights a week and enjoy it did not lack religion but brains.

He was opposed he said to a woman going to a show and crying over some girl in the play who had been betrayed and going out on the street and sneer at some poor girl who had truly had that experience instead of trying to help her back to a good life.

His Standpoint

The dance in the estimation of the speaker is fundamentally based on the matter of sex. He spoke from the standpoint of a man only in this regard. Men will accompany each other to a show, a foot-ball game, basket-ball contest or any other form of amusement except the dance and in that they demand the opposite sex. Evans said every modern dance was just a little more immoral than the last one. Time and again the crowd burst into applause. At the close several went forward.
