MIND UNBALANCED

MISFORTUNE BEFALLS WARREN WEATHERLEY OF NORTH BEND

Warren Weatherley, a well known young man of North Bend, is suffering from a mental trouble which became serious last night. He is about 26 years old and for about four years worked as fireman at the Porter Mill. Lately he has been employed as an oiler and in the yard.

He has boarded for some time past at the DeWesse home near the mill. Lately he complained of a headache quite often and at times did not seem to be quite himself. About 2 o'clock this morning he went from the house out into the yard in his night clothes. Mr. DeWesse heard him and tried to get him back into the house but could not do anything with him and sent for the officers. It was deemed best to confine him at the city jail for his own safety.

Weatherley is spoken of as a very fine young man and steady worker. His friends think that perhaps his working so long as fireman in the excessive heat may have had something to do with his trouble and they hope that under medical care he will recover.

The young man's brother and sister who live up one of the sloughs have been called to North Bend.

DOINGS OF CITY COUNCIL

PROTEST IS WON REJECT ALL BIDS DOGS TO RUN FREE

CENTRAL AVENUE PROPERTY OWNERS BEFORE COUNCIL

City Dads Rescind Former Action Regarding Grade—No More Logging Through Streets

Loudly the property owners from along Central avenue protested to the city council last evening and when the smoke of battle had cleared away the proposed grade of City Engineer A. B. Gidley had for the second time been altered. At 11th street, under the new ruling, there shall be no grading. West of this for a short distance there will be a little grading and from there on a cut is necessary for the grade.

Stand By Their Guns

Through the shot and shell Mr. Gidley and Mayor Coppie held their trenches and refused to budge from their stand that there ought to be a two-foot fill at the intersection of Central and 11th street.

And so at the next meeting of the council there will be a third profile of the street ready for adoption, maybe.

C. A. Johnson, who owns property on Anderson avenue, was present protesting a fill at 11th. "First you tried to drown me out," he said to the council, "and now you are trying to bury me. It isn't right."

But Mayor Coppie declared that they only meant to put dirt in there to get the property owners out of the water.

Urges Foundations

"We'd better quit putting our houses up there on blocks and make the foundations of jack-screws," put in Judge Hall, "so as to meet the whims of every new council."

Judge C. L. Penneck believed that the property is far enough from the center of the city to allow the grade to stand as it is near 11th, in which vicinity he has two or three houses. E. Hopson also protested a new grade, and so did John Backman and Jack Swanton.

Influenced Too Easily

At this point Mayor Coppie took the opportunity to "rid his system." He said, "Many of the mistakes made by the councils of the past have been due to the fact the property owners have come flooding up here and have finally influenced the councilmen. If we have an engineer, I say, lets take his advice."

Thereupon the mayor was halted by cries from the property owners. "It's not so."

"Not on your tin-type," and so on.

"The courts will have something to say about this, you can be sure," put in Judge John Hall.

But through it all the city engineer could be heard, stubbornly defending his position. "Here is your grade, gentlemen, I refuse to change it, though you, yourselves, can take any action that you want. It will be over my recommendation."

The grade as I have outlined it here takes into consideration all the street improvements that must be done in the vicinity of Central avenue."

Action Is Rescinded

On the recommendation of C. E. Powers the council rescinded its action of a week ago making a two foot fill at 11th and Central. Councilmen E. Bandel and Harry J. Kimball voted against it.

George E. Cook then moved "that the engineer prepare a profile according to the wishes of the people here."

"Oh goodness no" broke in the city engineer. "Don't make it as bad as that." The vote finally carried to leave the grade at that intersection as it now is.

No More Logging In Streets

Mention was made of the logging operations. "They told me that they will be done in two weeks, unless they take a contract for some more up there," said Mr. Bandel.

"I serve notice right here that there will be no further logging down Central avenue or any other street of this city," declared Mayor Coppie. "McDonald and Condon had better understand that right now. If they don't they're in for a bit of disappointment." The councilmen assented with him.

NO FORTUNE-TELLING

Military Authorities Have Placed Ban On the Practice

By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times. BERLIN, May 2.—The military authorities have placed a ban on fortune-telling. It appears that women and girls with husbands and sweethearts at the front have been swayed by crystal-gazers, palmists and card readers who claimed to be able to tell when the war would end, whether men would be killed, lose an arm or a leg, gain the Iron Cross or suffer other fates.

COUNCIL AWARDS NO CONTRACTS FOR WORK

Delays Projects For Another Two Weeks—To Cost $4,188.88 to Redeck North Front Street

Bids for sewer work and curbing were rejected by the council last evening on the ground of irregularity and dissatisfaction. The work is delayed two more weeks at which time bids again will be received.

The contract was to have been awarded for the sewer along the west line of Front street between Market and Alder Ave. and thence to the bay. The same was true of a sewer on Fifth street. The companies bidding were Bjorquist and company, Anderson-Klockars company, McLain and McLean, Longstrom Construction company and Moon and Gidley.

These same firms, with the exception of McLain and McLean, bid on the concrete curbing and sidewalk between Market and Alder avenue. S. C. Small also had in a bid. The Longstrom company had the lowest figures for the sidewalk, $1,285, but the accompanying check was not certified.

On the recommendation of City Engineer Gidley the work of Bjorquist and company for the ferry approach on Birch avenue was accepted.

Front Street Matter

The estimated cost of the redecking of North Front street beyond Hemlock avenue is $4,188.88. Bjorquist and company have this contract but cannot start the work until the ordinance has been signed.

The council agreed that Wednesday afternoon they will go in a body to North Broadway to look over the matter of Mrs. Lapp's lands that have been bought in by the city for street improvements.

Permission was given the men who expect to hold auto races at the fair grounds to stretch a rope across Fourth street on Kruse, during the races.

Wants Permission

Asking that he be allowed to put up a temporary structure corner Commercial and Broadway for a shooting-gallery, a man was before the council last evening. This was granted, but Councilman Bandel voted a decided no, claiming that some shooters become careless and that the use of firearms so near the street would be likely to scare the women passing by. The grant is revocable at any time.

ROYAL MEDALS ARE APPROVED BY KING

By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.

The Founders' Medal to Lieutenant Colonel P. H. Fawcett, for explorations and surveys in the upper waters of the Amazon. Col. Fawcett, has worked for a number of years on the exploration of these tributaries of the Amazon which have their headwaters in the territory until recently in dispute between Brazil, Bolivia and Peru.

The Patrons' Medal to Captain F. M. Bailey, Indian Army, for his exploration of the Tsangpo-Dihang river in the hitherto unexplored country where it breaks through the Himalayas. Capt. Bailey mapped many miles of the River Tsangpo and discovered a peak 23,450 feet high.

FOR SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT OF COOS COUNTY, AT REPUBLICAN PRIMARIES MAY 19, 1916 W. H. BUNCH

My Platform.

If elected I promise to devote my entire time to the educational interests of the County, divided between definite periods in the office and active supervision, as the needs of the schools demand.

I will make the public school system of Coos County as good as the best in the state.

The last Legislature made the Supervisory law optional. I will end this graft, do the work myself and thus save about $2,000 a year to the taxpayers.

School and district difficulties shall receive my personal attention and will be settled amicably.

All teachers and those aspiring to teach are assured impartial assistance. An efficient resident teaching force will be especially encouraged.

Last but not most important, the foregoing promises will be kept.

BY THE VOTE COUNCIL FAILS TO PASS HOUND ORDINANCE

"If You Think More of Your Dogs Than You Do of Your Homes and Gardens, All Right."—Coppie

Voting three to three the council last evening turned down the proposed dog ordinance and hereafter the hounds, daschunds, terriers, and all the family of dogs may roam the streets at their own sweet will, providing, however, their owners have paid the required municipal dog tax.

The ordinance, as read, declared there are "great dangers to the peace, health and safety" of the city arising out of the letting of dogs run loose. Inasmuch as there was an emergency clause attached, had it passed, the ordinance would have been in effect early this morning.

But it failed. Councilmen Kimball, Rood and Bandel voted for it.

C. E. Powers moved that the entire matter be referred to the waterfront committee, possibly under the belief that that body knew best how to rid the city of dogs.

W. N. Ekblad championed the cause of the hound dogs. "Will this ordinance mean that I have to put my dog on a chain. If I ride a motorcycle I'll have to have some chain all right to keep him in tow." Someone suggested there was a way out, merely to teach the animal to run faster.

Classes Do's With Cows

"There's no more sense allowing dogs to run at large than there is to let cows go free about the streets," was the sentiment of the mayor.

A petition signed by at least two dozen dog owners, asking that the ordinance not be passed was read to the council.

Inasmuch as it was an ordinance, the mayor had no chance to cast the deciding vote; the measure simply failed of passage.

"If you think more of your dogs than you do of your homes and gardens,"
