ACCEPTANCE

Mr. Kendall, Candidate for Representative. In reply to your open letter of let me say that I shall be pleased to discuss with you, for the elucidation of the voters, the Compensation and other issues. To my knowledge Salmon Fishing never has been a legitimate issue but if you can talk fast enough about Rogue River to keep the voter's mind off from Coos County you certainly ought to be elected. RECALL CONTESTED

COMPLAINT IS FILED AGAINST EASTSIDE SCHOOL ELECTION

Contesting the recall some time ago of two members of the Eastside school board, W. F. Byerly, chairman, and Mrs. I. Hadlock, this morning Judge John Hall filed a complaint with the county clerk.

In substance the complaint sets up that the recall election held to dispose of the board members was illegal and also that the recall law is a constitutional amendment and does not apply to school districts. It is claimed that the election was not called according to the provisions of the constitution regulating such a proceeding.

Inasmuch as the new case is a civil one, it will not be heard before a jury and probably will come up before Judge Coke when he returns from Toledo.

The recall election was held in Eastside about two months ago, being brought about shortly after the two later deposed members of the board discharged the janitor and attempted to put another in his place.

OPPORTUNITY GOOD

EXPERT TELLS ABOUT CHANCE TO GROW BROCCOLI

G. Lansing Hurd of Agricultural College Service, Gives Some Interesting Facts

G. Lansing Hurd, of the extension service of the bureau of organization and markets of the Oregon Agricultural College at Corvallis, was in the city yesterday. He has been with County Agriculturist J. L. Smith assisting in organizing the cheese manufacturers of the county. Mr. Hurd was much interested in the suggestion here that the farmers take up the culture of broccoli and made some suggestions to Secretary Motley of the Chamber of Commerce.

Should Start Now "I think the Coos county farmers would find the raising of the crop a profitable venture but there is one point I wish to impress upon them. They should start this year. Like the apple crop has been over produced there is a danger in later years of broccoli being over produced as different localities may take it up.

The localities which are in the business first and which have their product established on the market will be the ones which enjoy the best trade. If Coos county waits a year or two and then attempts to take up the business the farmers will find that they are behind time and are on the same basis as other localities which are late in taking it up. If they begin this year they will be among the pioneers and will have their product well established in the markets.

Should Organize "I suggested to the Chamber of Commerce that the farmers be interested at once. Find how many will undertake the culture and then one of the experts from the college will come here and give the details that the farmers want to know. An association should be formed and while the crop is growing the members can acquaint themselves with the details of harvest and packing. Warehouses where the crop can be stored and some of the members should become expert packers. The crop should be sold by the association.

"In order that the crop be profitably handled there must be sufficient acreage to sell in carload lots but if it is to be considered in Coos county it should be taken up this year. There is time yet to plant the crop as it does not mature until January or February.

About Shipping Mr. Hurd advocates the association plan of handling crops. He says that a man with a small patch of strawberries will have some difficulty in shipping his crop to larger places satisfactorily and must depend upon the local market but that if all the berry growers form an association they have a means of finding a market and shipping with profit. He says that the Coos county strawberries are earlier than the Willamette Valley berries and that if there are enough growers here to ship in large quantities they should get good prices in the big markets. The berries which are now offered on the local market are grown in Florin, Cal., by Japanese, are a forced product of poor quality.

Merchants Should Help Mr. Hurd thinks that the people should use Oregon products as much as possible and says that the purchasers should learn to buy home grown products and help the local farmers. He also says that the merchants should buy from the local farmers in preference to sending their money to some other place.

"The merchant will make a fuss about the people sending their money away to mail order houses for goods," said Mr. Hurd, "and then they will send away to buy where as they should patronize the home farmers and help him to find a market. The rule works both ways."

TEST IS SUCCESS ARRANGE A PICNIC

BIG NEW WATER TANK TRIED OUT YESTERDAY

For Half Hour Supplies North Bend and Marshfield Under Heavy Pressure—For Emergencies

For half an hour yesterday the big new 250,000 gallon water tank of the Coos Bay Water company, located on Porter Hill in North Bend, supplied both cities with water under a heavy pressure. This was demonstrated that for emergency purposes all other tanks and water sources could be cut off for a day while the big reservoir supplied both North Bend and Marshfield.

Manager Corey says the test was a success in every way. For instance, Marshfield instead of having the water supply from the reservoir in the west part of the city, this source was turned off and the water forced up from an entirely different direction. The pressure was about 62 pounds. For North Bend it was close to 75 pounds for the half hour. This supply may sometime prove especially valuable for fire purposes. In addition to the 250,000 gallon tank there is also the old tank containing 50,000 gallons at all times.

JUDGE PERFORMS FOURTH MARRIAGE IN FAMILY

Miss Ivin Rhodes Wedded to Ernest Hill by Judge Pennock

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dell Rhodes at 7 o'clock last evening Miss Ivin Rhodes was united in marriage to Ernest Hill, a young man engaged in logging here. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Rhodes, of South Inlet.

In 1909 Judge Pennock went to South Inlet and performed the ceremony for Del Rhodes. At the same time his sister, Alpha Rhodes, married Orin Lattin. In 1910 the judge was also there when Myrtle Rhodes married Romie Weldon. Now the father, C. M. Rhodes, says that he has two younger daughters, growing up, and that the judge may some time see they too are properly married.

CHIEF CLERK RAND CONDUCTS AN INVESTIGATION

Would Attrib Blame for Failure of Port Orford Mail to Arrive—Postal Receipts Fall Off

Immediate action is being taken by Chief Clerk Rand, of the railway mail service, in ascertaining the reasons why Port Orford has not been receiving its mail on time. A letter from F. B. Tichenor, stated that for five days there had been no paper mail arriving.

The matter was investigated here. It was found that the mail leaves the Marshfield office exactly as it should. Everything for the Port Orford country is sifted over by the mail clerk on the afternoon train and dumped off at Cedar Point in pouches.

From this, the local postoffice men are under the belief that the trouble in delivery lies somewhere between the Bandon and the Port Orford offices.

Business Is Less
The postal receipts at the Marshfield office during April show a falling off in business over what was taken in last year at the same time. The receipts for this last month were $1,751.58 against $2,197.81 of a year ago.

But it is seen, at any rate, there is an upward tendency in the receipts. In February $1,468.61 was taken in and for March, $1,495.04.

BRUCE EVANS SPEAKS TO LARGE CROWD LAST NIGHT

Dr. T. L. Jones, an Old Evangelist of Oregon, Is Present and Delivers an Address

At the revival meeting last night Bruce Evans said: "Voltaire, Hume, Hegler, Ingersol and Elbert Hubbard are gone. The battle of infidelity is lost. The Church of Christ has won. Go to any dirty old second-hand book store in the city and you can get all the Ingersol books you want at two volumes for a Jimny. But they will be covered with fly specks and infested with germs. The greatest fight we have on hand is to arouse the members of the churches from their lethargy, indifference, mediocrity, torpidity, frivolity, aimlessness and inanity. The devil has given us cocaine showers—a little jag in arm. We sit around as though had been hitting the pipe."

There was a large crowd and went forward to take a new start. Dr. Jones present. The evangelist was pleased to be in his audience and on the platform. Dr. T. L. Jones one of the famous evangelists that Oregon produced. He is now seventy years of age. For forty years has been preaching in Oregon most of that time he has been an evangelist. Twenty years ago dedicated the Methodist church in Marshfield. Mr. Evans requested to speak. Mrs. Jones also occupied a place on the rostrum and at the request of the evangelist. There will be a delegation of hundred at the meeting tonight sides the usual crowd.

Bruce Evans and his party open in the Star theatre of North Bend next Sunday night.
