Story Hour Tomorrow.—Miss Gwendolfe Tower will have charge of the story hour at the library tomorrow morning from 10 to 11 and will tell the children Fairy Tales from Hans Anderson and others.

Now in Washington.—Word has been received here that Louis Bean of Eugene, representative to Congress from the federated ports of Oregon, has arrived there and is now at work trying to secure for Oregon ports a share of the proceeds from the sale of the O. and C. lands.

Chamber of Commerce Meets.—Tonight the monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce is to be held in the rooms on Second street. There are several matters of importance to come before the members and the secretary is urging that a good attendance be present at the meeting.

Comes From Asylum.—G. K. Harrington and W. A. Wilcox, guards at the state insane asylum, came last evening for Warren Weatherley, of North Bend. They went back to Salem with him this morning. The young man will be given treatment and there is a chance that he will recover his reason again.

Coming for Visit.—Mr. and Mrs. George Blanchard, of Portland, are expected here tomorrow to visit. Mr. Blanchard was formerly with the gas and electric company here when Seymour Bell was in charge. He left here five years ago and has been in Portland for about two years. Arthur and Leslie Blanchard are his sons.

Try It Again.—The plaintiff in the case of C. A. Johnson versus the city and the Port for $26,000 for the alleged flooding of west Marshfield lands, expected a demurrer to be argued in the case at Coquille today. With the other business that is already on the docket, some of the attorneys hardly believed that Judge Hamilton would have time to hear the matter.

Father Donnelly Here.—Rev. Father Donnelly, former rector of the Catholic church in this city, arrived on the train this afternoon. He has been in Portland acting for one of the priests, who is absent from his parish, and stopped off here to visit on his way to Vallejo, Cal., where he is located in the Dominican monastery. He was accompanied here by Father Olson of the Dominican order.

Case Is Postponed.—Much interest was taken in the case of Farris vs. Mrs. Bloodgood, of Coquille, a case said to have arisen out of a fire which last summer burned several thousand dollars worth of property belonging to the defendant. This action is for libel, but has just been postponed until the June term, according to attorneys here because of the illness of the defendant.

Bend Good City.—Mote Burwell, who recently has been employed in the construction of big mills near Bend, says that the city there is rapidly growing and that already there are two large mills ready for operation that cut several hundred thousands of lumber daily. Also big soda deposits have been found in the vicinity and are now being exploited by the Spreckles outfit from San Francisco.

Pay for Ties.—There has been a reversal of tactics in connection with the wrecked schooner Oakland, of Bandon, that went ashore up near Bar View. She had on board a cargo of ties that later floated off and landed all over the beach. They belonged to the S. P. railroad, and when the beachcombers gathered the ties into piles they were paid at the rate of 25 cents per tie. This is not the way that plunder fared in the case of the Santa Clara when she came ashore near Coos Bay last November.

Strike an Attitude.—Down at the North Pacific Steamship Office it is noticeable that there are certain visitors to the dock every four weeks said visits being always simultaneous with the arrival of a boat from the south. Agent Cushing says that some of the visitors have been there so many times for their little packages of wet nourishment that now they waste few words on the procedure. They merely walk through the open door with their right hand in the air, in token of the oath, sign their name and walk out.
