GERMAN REPLY IS NOW PUBLIC

before the world its readiness to make peace on a basis of safeguarding Germany's vital interests, thus indicating that it is not Germany's fault if peace is still withheld from the nations of Europe.

World Prevent Break "The German government feels all the more justified in declaring that responsibility could not be borne before the forum of mankind and in history if after the 21 months of the war's duration the submarine question under discussion between the German government and the government of the United States were to take a turn seriously threatening the maintenance of peace between the two nations.

As far as it lies with the German government, it wishes to prevent things taking such a course.

Would Keep Seas Free "The German government more-over is prepared to the the utmost to confine operations of war for the rest of its duration to fighting the forces of the belligerents, thereby also insuring the freedom of the seas, the principle upon which the German government believes now, as before, it is in agreement with the United States.

The Orders Given "The German government, guided by this idea, notifies the government of the United States that the German naval forces have received the following order:

"In accordance with the general principles of visit and search, and destruction of merchant vessels recognized by international law, such vessels, both with and without the area of the declared naval war zone, shall not be sunk without warning and without the saving of human lives, unless the ships attempt to escape or offer resistance.

Hames the Enemy "But neutrals cannot expect Germany, forced to fight for her existence, shall for the sake of neutral interests restrict the use of an effective weapon if the enemy is permitted to continue to apply at will the methods of warfare violating the rules of the international law.

Demand Not Neutral "Such a demand would be incompatible with the character of neutrality and the German government is convinced the United States does not think of making such a demand, knowing the government of the United States repeatedly declares that it is determined to restore the principle of the freedom of the seas, from whatever quarter it has been violated.

About British Notes "Accordingly Germany is confident consequence of the new orders to the naval forces that the United States will also consider the impediments removed which may have been in the way of a mutual cooperation toward the restoration of the freedom of the seas during the war, as suggested in the note of July 23, 1915, and it does not doubt that the United States will now demand that the British government shall forthwith observe the rules of international law universally recognized before the war, as laid down in the notes presented by the United States government to the British government December 28, 1914, and November 5, 1915.

New Situation "Should steps be taken by the United States not to attain the object it desires, to have laws of humanity followed by all belligerent nations, the German government would then be facing a new situation in which it must reserve to itself complete liberty of decision.

The undersigned avails himself this opportunity to renew to the American ambassador assurance of the highest consideration."

PORTLAND, May 5.—Up until last season it was a tradition that the Beavers annually slumped in the percentage column until toward the end of the year, getting their second wind, they always come out in the lead. LEADER PORTLAND SYMPHONY HERE WITH STRADIVARIUS

Taking It to San Francisco for "Operation"—Waldemar Young Well Known Musician

As Waldemar Lind, leader of the Portland Symphony orchestra of 60 pieces, sat in the Chandler this morning, writing a card to Bishop Sumner, the latter came in and tapped him on the shoulder. Mr. Lind, accompanied by his wife, was passing through aboard the Kilburn, on his way to San Francisco. Both men were very much surprised, as neither one knew the other was within hundreds of miles of Coos Bay.

Lucked in his cabin was a Stradivarius violin, several hundreds of years old and worth in the neighborhood of $10,000. This instrument Mr. Lind regards with almost the care that would be given a child.

Needs Repairing "It needs an operation, a bit of repairing," he said. "I am taking it to San Francisco and shall stand right there while the violin maker is working on it."

Mr. Lind is a very good friend of Capt. McLelland and so decided to make the trip down the coast with him. He was delighted with the voyage and expressed surprise at finding Marshfield as large a city as it is.

Well-Known Orchestra

The Portland Symphony Orchestra, which he directs, has 60 pieces and is one of the best known organizations of its kind on the coast. It has many engagements through the season in the Rose City and has just refused an offer to tour through Montana for a few weeks, because of the fact that many of the players find it impossible to get away from their various employments.

of the state will be invited here to participate in the Railroad Celebration in July.

A membership campaign is to be held in the local lodge. Two visitors have been selected, D. J. Reese, being captain of the "Reds" and F. R. Kirk, of the "Blues". The lodge team will tender a banquet to the winners. About 50 new members are to be initiated at the next meeting of this month.

The most effective and most popular blood medicine is Red Cross Sarsaparilla with Iodide of Potassium.

As a general tonic to build up the system, and to do away with that tired feeling, there is nothing better than Red Cross Hypophosphites. These medicines each sell for one dollar the bottle or six for five dollars.
