BELIEVE BREAK IS NOT UNLIKELY

Official Text of German Reply Is Laid Before President Wilson Today

WILL BE EXAMINED

No Material Difference from Accounts Given in the Newspapers Yesterday

TRANSLATED FROM CODE

Will Now Be Studied by the Officials and Some Course of Action on Part of the United States Will Be Decided Upon

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 6.—The official text of Germany's note fully decided and laid before President Wilson today shows no material difference from the unofficial text published yesterday in the news dispatches. This strengthens the probability of a diplomatic break being averted, at least for the present.

Will Take Time

President Wilson will not reach a definite decision before next week, it is said. The cabinet members were asked by the president to give close attention to the document and their opinions will be sought before any formal decision is reached.

Looks Favorable

Overnight study of the note by the cabinet members and officials did not change their views that probably there will be no break in diplomatic relations unless there are further attacks in violation of international law.

It is possible the United States may make a brief reply notifying Berlin that as long as the new submarine orders are observed, diplomatic relations will not be discontinued.

Washington State Convention Takes Action Today

Making of a Platform Was the Most Important Business Before the Body

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., May 6.—The making of a platform was the only real problem for the republican state convention here today. Caucuses prior to the convention resulted in agreements on the delegates at large, electors at large and the district delegates that the convention as a whole is expected to confirm.

A slate of the delegates at large is as follows: Charles P. Lund, of Spokane; E. A. Sims, of Port Townsend; R. A. Perkins, of Tacoma; Scott C. Bone, of Seattle.

The electors at large chosen are: James A. Perkins, of Colfax; R. W. Battle, of Seattle.

Some Newspapers Say Country Has Yielded While Others Take Different Views

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

PARIS, May 6.—The French press subjects the German note to the United States to a severe analysis, drawing various conclusions. Some newspapers consider that Germany has yielded, although with a bad grace. Others believe the document is a tortuous refusal.

VOYAGE IS EXCITING

COUPLE MAKE TRIP FROM MONTANA TO SAN FRANCISCO

Passed Through Here Yesterday Aboard Kilburn—Trip Was Hazardous One in Parts

Completing the last leg of their journey from Montana to San Francisco via water, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Warrington, formerly of San Francisco, but now of Shoup, Idaho, passed through here yesterday aboard the steamship Kilburn.

Never before had such a trip been made. Part of the trip was very hazardous, especially through the Salmon river, this distance being accomplished via flatboat. In some places they were dropped as much as 15 feet at a time.

The voyage had its beginning at Salmon City, 390 miles east of Lewiston, Idaho, April 19. They traversed the Salmon River in a boat 18 feet long, eight feet wide, built with inch boards of double thickness on the bottom and half way up the sides of the flatboat. People along the route told them the trip could never be completed.

Through the wild country much game was seen. Once 15 deer were seen and three elk, besides wild mountain sheep and game birds. They shot a bear.

From Lewiston to Portland Mr. and Mrs. Warrington came aboard the Twin Cities. In order not to break the continuity of the voyage they waited over in Portland almost a week in order to catch the Kilburn.

Mr. Warrington left San Francisco at the time of the big fire. He now has a mining claim in Idaho and is sending ore to Boise where it is smelted. The ore is sent from near Shoup, Idaho, via parcel post.

First Time House of Representatives Has Shown Similar Courtesy to Living Member

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 6.—Party lines disappeared and old scores were forgot by the house today when, during the first hour of session, it joined in paying tribute to Representative Cannon, former speaker, who will be 80 years old tomorrow.

Never before in the history of the house has an hour of working session been set aside to honor a living member. Speaker Clark, in a humorous and friendly speech, termed Cannon one of the "top notch class of mental pugilists."

Exchanging the "Long Green" For Long Green

The Times' artist Roy Lawhorne in this cartoon portrays the important event of the week in the sale of extensive timber holdings to outside capitalists which fortells the early development of this important natural resource of this section. Long green trees for Uncle Sam's "long green" bills. During the past few days there has been sold tracts of Coos county timber which aggregated a quarter of a million dollars. Other sales are in prospect. The exchange of big money for these Coos county timber holdings probably means the establishment of additional industries for this locality and indicates that the timber resources of this part of the state is an important factor in the industrial and financial affairs of the Pacific Coast.

Engagement Takes Place at Ojo Azules and Men of Eleventh Cavalry Are Men Who Take Part in the Fighting

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

FIELD HEADQUARTERS, NEAR NAMIQUIPA, May 6.—(Wireless to Columbus.)—A full squadron of 230 men of the Eleventh Cavalry surprised and routed a much larger force of Villistas at Ojo Azules, 17 miles south of Cusihuiriarcac early yesterday. By actual count 42 Mexicans were killed and a number wounded but no American casualties were reported.

Chase of Several Days

The American command under Major Howse had been pursuing the Villistas under Generals Dominguez and Acosta several days when they encountered them yesterday encamped in the adobe buildings of Ojo Azules.

The Mexicans were utterly surprised and sprang from their pallets half clothed. After firing a few shots, they began flight, each man shifting for his own safety.

Flee for Their Lives

Some were unable to seize horses, already tired from a hard day's ride previously, but others made their way into the hills on foot.

Howse's report says the route was absolute and he is still pursuing the scattered remnants.

General Is Killed

The band engaged in the largest remaining under the Villa standard and the decisive victory gave satisfaction to military men here.

Major Howse reported the General Antonio Angeles was killed. He was a relative of Felipe Angeles, former confidant of Villa, who is now living near El Paso.

Fifty Prisoners

More than fifty prisoners were captured by the Americans. The column had marched through the mountains during the night and attacked without resting men or horses. It consisted of six picked troops of the Eleventh Cavalry and one machine gun detachment.

BERLIN RECEIVES GERMAN REPLY IN QUIET WAY

Utter Lack of Excitement Attends the Announcement of Contents of Note

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

BERLIN, May 6.—The utter lack of excitement on the part of the majority of the people of Berlin with which the publication of the German note to the United States was received yesterday was in strong contrast with the great interest shown everywhere when the last American note to Germany was published.

After the first flurry on the appearance of extra editions of the newspapers the city resumed its usual calm. News dealers who ordered an especially large supply of papers could not get rid of them.

Back the Government

The Taegliche Rundschau, while expressing the opinion that the German note should have taken a different character urges that the expression of divergent views is unwarranted at this time and that everybody should subordinate his own judgment and stand behind the government.

German attacks north and north-west of the hill were checked at the point of the bayonet.
