Refuses to Contenance Deletions of the Mails to and from This Country

REPLY DID NOT SATISFY

The Answer England Sent to a Former Note is Not Regarded as Satisfactory by Officials of United States

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 15.—

The American government is preparing a protest characterized by the officials as "very vigorous" against the interference with the mails to and from the United States by Great Britain.

The note to be sent forward in the near future, will take the position that the United States can no longer countenance the seizure and detention of mails to and from the United States, particularly those concerning neutrals.

The reply recently made by Great Britain to the last American note is considered unsatisfactory.

FRANK TERRACE ADDRESSES AUDIENCE IN THIS CITY

King County, Wash., Farmer Is Spoken at Meeting in Masonic Opera House

Frank Terrace of King county, Wash., entertained the audience at the Masonic opera house on the subject of good roads Saturday evening after the Peck-Kendall political debate.

It was about 9:20 o'clock before Mr. Terrace was introduced. Charles Hall who acted as chairman of the meeting stated that he was one of the best authorities on good roads and had spoken on the subject all over the country.

This was one of the meetings of a campaign which Mr. Terrace has been making through the county in the interest of the road bonds. He told of some of the road conditions that he found in Coos county. He also told of what had been done in his county in Washington and of the vast advantages that the farmers had derived through good roads.

Mr. Terrace made the statement that good roads made up the most important question before the American people today. "Everything we eat, drink or wear," he said, "depends either directly or indirectly on good roads."

Mr. Terrace said that he had found some very bad roads in Coos county. He gave some facts and figures to show that in some cases the actual financial benefits in one year would be more to the farmers than the insurance of bonds would ever cost them.

Mr. Terrace made his talk in a plain and clear manner. His statements were direct and he has the faculty of telling a good deal that is of interest.

CASEMENT IS PUT ON TRIAL

Supposed Head of Irish Rebellion Is Charged With High Treason

ARRAIGNED TODAY

With Him As Defendant In Court Is D. J. Bailey, Private Soldier

REBEL FLAG DISPLAYED

Sir Roger Smiles When He Sees It and Declares That Bailey Is Innocent—Real Trial Will Come in Higher Court

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) LONDON, May 15.—Sir Roger Casement, supposed head and prime instigator of the Sinn Fein rebellion in Ireland, was arraigned in the police court today and charged with high treason. The few spectators who were permitted to enter the famous old Bow Street police court were considerably surprised when the second prisoner was placed beside Casement in the dock.

Soldier Is Charged

This man was Daniel Julian Bailey, a private soldier, whose home is at Wembley, a village near London. He is jointly charged with Casement with high treason. In opening the case for the crown, the attorney general charged that Casement conducted a systematic campaign among the Irish prisoners in Germany with the purpose of seducing them from allegiance. Bailey, he said, was seduced in this manner.

Hearing Preliminary

The police court hearing is merely preliminary to the real trial which will take place later before a panel of judges of the high court of justice.

Sir Frederick Smith told the story of Casement's alleged machinations in Berlin with details of his trip by submarine to Tralee, where he landed with Bailey and a third man named Montefelt, who is still at large.

Displays Rebel Flag

He also told of sending a ship with 20,000 rifles from Germany to Tralee and how this ship was sunk and the crew captured.

The attorney general here introduced a dramatic touch by displaying a green rebel flag which he said Casement brought from Germany to Ireland.

The prisoner glanced at the flag and smiled.

Sa's Bailey Innocent

Aff r formal evidence had been given by the police, Casement arose and said: "Well, that man (pointing to Bailey) is innocent. I think the indictment is wrongly drawn against him."

Few Prisoners Joined

The first witness was John Robinson, of Belfast, who was one of the prisoners taken to Germany and recently released. He said of 4,000 Irish prisoners gathered at Limburg to hear Casement's exhortations for them to join an Irish brigade to fight England, between fifty and sixty joined.

Casement Is Hissed

According to the testimony of Daniel O'Brien, another Irish prisoner who was at Limburg during Casement's visit and who afterwards was exchanged, Casement was hissed and hooted out of the Limburg camp.

Some members of the Munster regiment struck him and several prisoners, including O'Brien were punished for it, their rations being cut down.

HORSES ARE SCARCE

Camels Are Used in Their Place in England

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) LONDON, May 15.—Owing to the scarcity of horses in Sheffield, a big mercantile establishment hit upon the scheme of yoking two camels and an elephant to a dray and found the experiment so successful that the outfit is a fixture on the city's streets. The animals jog along easily with a load of ten tons doing the work of eight horses.
