LOCAL NOTES.

F. M. Stanton went to Salem on business last Friday.

The steamer Volanta came up from Yaquina on Monday.

Application for final proof made free of charge, at this office.

Mrs. Capt. Blake left for Astoria last Wednesday where she will stay for some time.

Will T. Webber, of Newport is a candidate for collector of customs of Yaquina Bay.

Mr. Stewart, editor of the LINCOLN COUNTY LEADER, made a pleasant call at this office Tuesday. —Newport News.

E. Rhoades and S. E. Beaver, two of Lincoln county's enterprising ranchmen, were callers yesterday.

You cannot give your friends outside a better idea of this country than by sending them a year's subscription to the LEADER.

County Judge Blue was up in the mountains Monday and Tuesday looking after his interests in the large prune orchards up there.

The first term of District court in Lincoln county will convene at Toledo on the third Monday in May, which will be on the 15th of that month.

The Albany Democrat reports three street fights in one night this week in that city. They must be practicing up to organize a foot ball club there.

An Elk City man six feet six inches tall was in Toledo yesterday. If the people up there are all that tall, we must say that they are very high-minded.

George Fulton living on the south side, gave us a short call yesterday. He reports his garden quite well along, having peas already showing above the ground.

A. J. Miller, living four miles from this city, was in town Tuesday and made application to make final proof on his homestead. He also subscribed for this great moral sheet.

The editor of this paper is now a full fledged Lincoln county citizen, having went to Woodburn on Friday and returned on Tuesday with the wife and child, and are now "living" on the Bay.

County Clerk Jones' office has been arranged except painting. He expects his office furniture here this week. The work on the other offices is progressing rapidly and will soon be ready for their occupants.

Sheriff Landis informs us that the practice heretofore in vogue of the sheriff visiting different parts of the county for the collection of taxes will not be followed in the future, but that the taxes will be collected at the county seat.

The steamer Volanta has been chartered by the O. P. company and will be run by them in connection with the railroad. The crew of the Volanta have all been removed except the engineer, who is still retained in that capacity.

Vol. 1, No. 1, of the LINCOLN COUNTY LEADER, has been received at this office. It is a very neat, newsy six column folio, issued by J. F. Stewart, editor and proprietor, and will be a valuable advertisement for Lincoln county. —Corvallis Gazette.

The libel case of the vessel Walluski which was to have been heard in Judge Deady's court in Portland today, has been indefinitely postponed owing to sickness of Judge Deady. Several parties of this place were subpoenaed to attend, but were barely notified in time to prevent a useless trip.

J. D. Mullins, of Salem, was in Toledo this week.

Dr. Jennings, of Newport, went to Salem yesterday.

Sheriff Landis had business in Corvallis the first of the week.

Will Rich went to Philamoth last Thursday returning yesterday.

There is talk of organizing a tent of the Knights the Maccabees at this place.

Three students of the agricultural college carried their indecent behavior too far and were expelled last week.

Commissioner J. O. Stearns, of Alsea, is in the city assisting Judge Blue in attending to some county matters.

School begins in this town next Monday. It is the intention of the district officers to have a nine months term if the delinquent taxes are paid.

The delays and vexations incident to getting under way are now nearly over at this office, and prompt and reliable action will be the word in the future.

The tax roll of Benton and Lincoln counties will be completed about the first of May and turned over to the respective sheriff of each county for collection.

We feel greatly complimented by the large number of subscribers the LEADER has already obtained. We believe we can already claim the largest circulation of any paper in Lincoln county.

According to the Corvallis Gazette the total levy of Benton county this year will reach 22 mills; and yet some of the people of Lincoln county objected to division of the county for fear of high taxes.

Out at Albany the other day a deaf and dumb man approached a resident of that place and began to make the usual signs and motions. The Albany man thought the fellow was squaring off for a scrap and went and had him arrested.

Rev. Chas. Booth was in the city last Saturday and Sunday and held services at the Episcopal church on the latter day. He went to Elk City on Monday in his capacity of County School Superintendent to visit the schools of that place.

The first number of the LINCOLN COUNTY LEADER has reached this office, it is a neat six-column paper, edited by J. F. Stewart, at Toledo. Its columns are well filled with interesting news. We wish it unbounded success. —Newport News.

County treasurer Denlinger made us a short call Tuesday and tried his hand at the case again after several year's vacation. Mr. Denlinger held a position in the Oregonian office for over twenty years, and, despite his age, is nimble with the lead yet.

J. O. Stearns reports a novelty on the Alsea in the shape of a tree bearing a seedless apple. The apple is well formed with a core for seeds. This variety of fruit will bear propagating and if a reliable variety of seedless apples is obtained will prove very valuable.

The Salem Statesman relates how a tramp stealing a ride in a box car awoke one morning recently within the walls of the state penitentiary, his car having been switched off there during the night. A sorry-looking individual he is said to have been, his eyes sticking out far enough to hang hats on, when he fully realized his situation. He was given a meal and sent on his way rejoicing.

The citizens of Toledo have subscribed the $500 asked by the railroad company to assist in the erection of a depot at this place, and $10 extra. The proper committee will now consult with Receiver Hadley and Supt. Mulcahy, and there is but little doubt but that work will be begun on the depot building here at an early date, and a long felt want filled. We are informed that the company seriously contemplate erecting a brick depot here, as they have a large quantity of brick at the wharf at Yaquina City and they wish to use them up. A nice, commodious brick depot at Toledo erected immediately will compensate the people in some degree for past inconveniences.

Our people were treated to a moonlight serenade last night.

Through the courtesy of E. Rhoades, Ivy Morrison, of Dallas, will receive the LEADER for a year.

J. S. VanWinkle, an Albany abstract man was in this city this week looking after the records contract.

If the LEADER lacks a little local news this week, lay it to the fact that the editor was absent a good part of the week getting his family over, and make allowances accordingly.

Judge Blue is in receipt of a letter from a citizen of Elk City who wants to know if the bill dividing the county repealed the hog law. Judge Blue says the question is too deep for him and he respectfully referred him to the Coroner.

Quite a number of new home-steads are being filed in the fertile hills and valleys of Lincoln county. The accessibility of the county seat has enabled many to file on lands and to give notice of final proof who would otherwise have been unable to have done so.

The new county books have arrived and are in place in the county clerk's office. They are a masterpiece of workmanship in the book line. They are made of heavy Irish linen paper with heavy covers, and bound so as to open out flat for writing in them. They are bound in sections of five sheets each, so arranged that if necessary any section can be removed without weakening or interfering with the other parts of the books. They also are provided with a heavy canvas covers with leather corners which will protect the outside of the books from wear and tear for many years. The books are evidences of superior workmanship of Messrs Meston & Dygert, their makers, and reflects credit upon the county court in their selection and purchase.

BIDS FOR TRANSCRIBING THE COUNTY RECORDS

Bids were opened by County Judge Blue yesterday—the 22nd—for transcribing the records from Benton to Lincoln county. The bids were opened in the presence of Hon. C. B. Crosno, and the following is an abstract of the bids submitted:

Name of Bidder	Per fol.	Entire Job	City Plate
J. S. VanWinkle, Albany	1.00%	$1,287	415.00
L. V. Elshart, Corvallis	.98%	7,200	415.00
Holste & Johnson,98%	6,521	415.00
J. D. Mullins, Salem,98%	2,880	415.00
C. M. Redford, Albany,97%	3,850	333.00
V. E. Watters, Corvallis,97%	6,000	333.00
J. H. Wilson, Corvallis,97%	3,850	333.00
R. S. Martin, Corvallis,97%	4,000	333.00
S. Melary, Portland,96%	4,000	333.00
B. F. Jones, Toledo,96%	4,000	333.00
A. L. Porter, Nashville,96%	2,250	333.00

We understand that the contract will be awarded Monday next, and will probably be awarded by the folio. Several important details will be taken into consideration before the contract is awarded, as it is the intention of Judge Blue, as well as the other members of the county court, to have first-class work in every particular. Good, careful work on the new books will make a splendid set of records for Lincoln county.

Jottings From Yaquina.

(Received too late for last week.)

The Willamette Valley arrived yesterday from 'Frisco with a large cargo and passenger list.

A. J. Storrs is now captain of the steamer Wallamette Valley. He bears the honors with modest dignity.

The O. P. is doing some substantial work on their cribbing by building a wall of rock on the outside.

A work train and a large gang of men are filling in the mudflat at the lower end of town.

It is reported that the O. P. will soon erect a large warehouse opposite the Yaquina Hotel.

The tug Resolute now runs as a passenger and freight boat between Yaquina and Newport.

It is reported that the Yaquina Hotel will soon be opened, which will be welcome news to the traveling public as Yaquina is deficient in hotel accommodations.

Tom Bohanan has been promoted to baggage master, Tom looks quite nobby in his new cap.

Miss Helen Pygall has again opened her dressmaking parlors in the Buford Block.

NEMO.

March 17, 1893.

Agricultural College Notes.

The students and citizens of Corvallis were favored by a lecture last Sunday by Lydell Baker, of Portland, on the subject of "Abraham Lincoln." It was well attended and was very interesting.

Miss Snell entertained the senior class last Friday afternoon to dinner, during which toasts were given as follows: Miss Nellie Davison on the subject of "Our Faculty," G. W. Palmer subject, "Senior Girls;" Miss Hortense Greffoye, subject, "Senior Class;" B. F. Burnett, subject, "Agricultural College Athletic Association;" Lee Applewhite, subject, "Household Economy Class."

Friday evening the literary society gave a public meeting at the opera house. The new officers were installed and a short literary program was rendered, after which a dance was held which was well attended and was quite well enjoyed.

Next Friday night the Athletic Association will give an entertainment in the Opera house.

Most of the classes have commenced to review for the term examination which occurs next week.

The contest for the silver medal between the two preparatory societies occurs on March 31. All who are to take part are hard at work preparing for the struggle, and each claim victory is certain.
