LOCAL NOTES.

Bale rope at Copeland's.
George Sylvester, of Newport, had business in Toledo last Tuesday.

Mrs. Percival and Mrs. Stover, both of Yaquina City, were in the city last Monday.

A broken wheel on a flat car near Norton Siding last Saturday caused the freight to delay the passenger a short time.

Mrs. Lydia Hunt, the new superintendent at the agency, visited the family of Mr. and Mrs. T. Jay Buford this week.

We are informed that Austin Rosebrooks and his mother have about $1,400 in one of the recently closed banks of Portland.

FOUND.—A bunch of keys, on the Depot Slough road. The owner can have the same by calling at this office and paying for this notice.

Mrs. Altree and family will move to Newport tomorrow, where they will reside while the boys work on a house of which Oliver Altree is architect and contractor.

The close season on deer expired last Monday, and on Tuesday about half of our male population made a hegira to the woods in hopes of securing a choice bit of venison.

The third Demorest silver medal contest was held at the court house last Saturday night. The medal was won by Miss Ollie Logan. All the pieces were of high order and worthy of mention.

Much credit is due Messrs. Robt. Campbell, B. F. Jones and C. B. Crosno, for their efforts in arranging for entertaining the San Francisco excursionists during their stop here; and praise is also due the ladies for their assistance in decorating.

Mrs. Thompson, of West Yaquina, met with an accident last Saturday, which came near resulting in a broken leg. She stepped into a hole cut through the floor of an upper room for a stovepipe. It was feared for a time that her leg was broken, but it proved to be only severely wrenched.

Dr. Rowland, the superintendent of the insane asylum at Salem, was in Toledo last week looking after some property interests he has near this place. He went home on Saturday, but expects to return in a short time and make a stay of several days. He thinks the climate at Toledo is the most delightful of any in Oregon.

Jos. Wilson, a young attorney of Corvallis and for many years deputy county clerk of Benton county, was in Toledo yesterday looking up the situation of matters and things generally. Rumor hath it that Mr. Wilson is seriously contemplating hanging out his law shingle at this point at no distant date.

Two or three parties in town are in the habit of borrowing the LEADER from their neighbors to read, thus saving the price of subscription. We are aware that the LEADER is a necessity in all well regulated households, and if those borrowers will kindly hand in their names we will send them the paper free for three months, and thus save the trouble of borrowing it.

E. D. Young, of Chitwood, was a caller last Friday. Mr. Young is the county stock inspector, and was just completing a tour of inspection of the stock in the county. He informed us that the condition of the stock inspected was first-class. He did not find a trace of scab or other disease among the sheep; nor traces of any disease in any stock. This speaks quite well for Lincoln county as a stock county.

Bonds for deeds for sale at the LEADER office.

A large amount of freight was received on the last steamer for Toledo.

Sheriff Ford, of Washington county, and family went through to the beach yesterday.

F. M. Stanton, the happy and genial post trader at the Siletz, was over a couple of days this week.

Our thanks are due Mr. and Mrs. Heastin, Nashville, for generous hospitality extended last Saturday.

B. F. Jones made a business trip to Albany, Oregon City and Portland this week, returning yesterday.

W. S. Condon, our district attorney, went to the Siletz today, returning to his cottage at Newport this evening.

Nude bathing during the day in public view is liable to get some of our youngsters into trouble if they don't look out.

Ex-County Clerk Hughes, of Washington county, accompanied by his family went through to Newport on yesterday's train.

Mrs. Wm. Alexander has been spending several days visiting relatives at Corvallis, returning home on Tuesday last. Since that time Bill has quit staying out late with the boys, but goes home with the cows, so to speak.

We regret to learn of the serious illness of Commissioner Stearns, at his home on the Alsea. He is suffering with inflammation of the lungs, and his illness is reported to be quite serious. We hope to soon note his recovery.

A party composed of the Misses Campbell and Chambers, and J. Prantz and Fred Chambers started for the mineral springs above Elk City last Monday, for a couple of week's camping out. T. E. Parker and family left for the same place yesterday.

If the assets of the defunct bank of Hamilton, Job & Co., continue to decrease at the rapid rate in which they have since the time they closed, they will soon have to make an assessment made upon the creditors to raise enough money to pay the assignee his salary.

Al. Waugh has just finished his hay harvest on his ranch near this city. Mr. Waugh has put up this year about 70 tons of excellent hay. It is safe to predict that his stock will come through next spring in fine shape, and he will have a few tons of hay to sell next spring when hay gets high. All of which is evidence of a good rancher and good rustler.

If any of the good people up above Elk City sees a long, tall, hungry individual meandering around in their neighborhood carrying a shotgun, a rifle, a bowie knife, a pair of brass knucks and an extra pair of brogans, they need not feel alarmed and perform any rash acts upon his person. He is only the foreman of this office out after deer and bear, and despite his looks, he is perfectly harmless.

The belief that the coming session of Congress will take the necessary steps toward opening the Siletz Indian reservation for settlement, has already set a small tide of would-be settlers in this direction. Several parties from Harney valley in Eastern Oregon have come over the mountains with teams, and they report more coming. They will locate temporarily until such time as the reservation is thrown open for settlement, when they will take up their claims within the limits.

A delicate surgical operation was performed last Friday night at the residence of Mr. J. S. Conklin, near this city. The patient operated upon was Robert Simpson, a grand son of Mr. and Mrs. Conklin. He was injured by a fall from a horse when quite small and sustained a wound on the head, and suffered partial paralysis and aberration of mind thereby. Dr. Rich, believing that relief could be afforded, and called in Drs. Applewhite and Leonard, of Corvallis, to assist him, and also assisted by Dr. Carter, the operation was performed. The patient was put under the influence of chloroform, and a piece about the size of a silver quarter, and the foreign substance or formation removed. This formation was pressing against the brain, and in the opinion of the doctors, is the cause of the trouble with which the patient has been afflicted. The operation was a most successful one and at this writing the patient is experiencing great relief.

MARRIED.
DAVIES—STIMPSON.—At the bride's father at Newport, Oregon, Tuesday, August 1st, 1893, Marcus C. Davies and Miss Kate M. Stimpson, Rev. Chas. Booth officiating.

BOWMAN—HYDE.—At the residence of the bride's parents, on Little Elk, Wednesday morning, August 2, 1893, H. A. Bowman, of Marion county, and Miss Ida Hyde, of Lincoln county. The bride is the daughter of J. L. Hyde, a prominent resident of Little Elk, and who was for several years a druggist at Dallas, Polk county, and is an intelligent and refined young lady. The groom is an enterprising young man, and for several years was foreman of the Capital Journal office at Salem.

Notice to Fishermen.
I will be at Capt. Nice's cannery on the Alsea, on August 11, and 12, to register all persons who wish to fish during the present season.
B. F. JONES,
County Clerk.

The Merchants' Excursion.

The Merchants' excursion from San Francisco arrived Yaquina last Saturday on the steamer Willamette Valley. On Saturday evening they were taken to Newport and were served with an elegant supper at the Bay View, in which Host and Hostess Abbey fully sustained the great reputation of their popular house. On Sunday they inspected the government works under the guidance of Mr. J. H. Holcomb, the engineer in charge. At midday they were driven to the Hotel Monterey, on Big Creek, where a most excellent lunch was served. In the evening they were driven back to Newport and served with an elaborate repast at the popular Ocean House. On Sunday a portion of the excursionists were taken out to the valley by a special train. On Monday morning the balance of them, consisting principally of members of the Board of Trade and merchants of San Francisco, were taken out on the regular train.

At Toledo they were met by a large crowd of citizens who had assembled to pay their respects to the distinguished visitors. The fine, new brick depot was handsomely decorated with bunting, flowers and evergreens. As the heavily loaded train drew into the station they were greeted with music by the Toledo band, after which, the Corvallis band, which was along, rendered an excellent piece of music. Three handsome little girls, each bearing a loaded tray of flowers and gave each of the guests a handsome boutonniere, and three boys distributed a small pamphlet containing a short description of Toledo and its resources. A short address of welcome was made by Hon. C. B. Crosno, and was responded to by Hon. J. B. Stetson, a merchant of San Francisco and a member of the Board of Trade of that city. His remarks were quite felicitous, and at their close elicited a good applause. After being photographed the train sped on its way Valley-ward. At Pioneer they stopped for a short time and a committee visited the famous Pioneer stone quarries. This was their last stop in Lincoln county. They all expressed themselves as greatly pleased with their treatment at this end of the road, the memory of which will linger in their minds for a long time.

Speaking of the excursion the Albany Herald says of Toledo: "The new brick depot at Toledo presented a beautiful appearance as the train passed with the San Francisco excursionists on board. It was handsomely decorated with bunting, flags, ferns and a large arch handsomely trimmed, to which was attached a banner containing these words: 'Toledo's welcome to Oregon,' traced in ivy, which was among the very much admired. When the train came to a stop three of Toledo's pretty young maids entered the coaches presenting each of the strangers with a handsome boutonniere and a pamphlet gotten up expressly for the occasion, setting forth the history of that thrifty young city and country and its resources, in which the present management of the Oregon Pacific R. R. Co. were kindly remembered. Excellent music was furnished both here and at Yaquina by the Toledo and Corvallis bands. Robert Campbell, an old-time Oregon Pacific man had charge of the decorations.
