SOMETHING NEW!
ANTIFERMENTINE
 Preserves Fruit, Cider, Milk, Butter, Eggs,
 Tomatoes, Catsup, Pickles, Etc.

What is it: It is a simple, harmless preparation, free from taste, smell and color, that has the properties of stopping and preventing fermentation in all vegetable and animal foods.

What it does: It is especially useful for preserving fruits of all kinds without cooking, retaining their natural fresh appearance and taste.

Its Use does away with labor, and makes what has been a hot, disagreeable task, a delight and a pleasure. It substitutes for the Summer heat of the kitchen the cool shade of a lawn or piazza.

Its Results are never doubtful when used according to directions, and Plum Puddings, Peach and Berry Pies can be had in Winter as well as in Summer.

Its Use is profitable and economical, for it saves one-half of the sugar, saves the jars broken by heat, saves the fruit cooked away, and saves the time and labor lost by the old methods.

For Cider it unsurpassed. It stops fermentation at any point desired, and produces a sparkling beverage like Champagne.

The question is sometimes asked, "Is it injurious?" To allay all doubts on that score, we would say that we have consulted many of our most eminent Chemists and Physicians, and all unite in pronouncing the use of ANTIFERMENTINE as a preservative, a perfectly safe and harmless preparation.

Oregon's Future.

Oregon will in the future be one of the richest and most notable states of the union and one of the greatest countries of the world. Populated as in England it could give homes and business to forty millions of industrious and intelligent people. Its great waterway the Columbia, is one of the greatest rivers of the world. Its lumber forests are a mine of wealth in themselves. Twenty-five thousand square miles of the coast range of Western Oregon and the Cascades are covered by a growth that averages from 16,000 to 200,000 feet per acre. At 20,000 feet the total would be three hundred and twenty billion of feet, worth at the lowest calculation two and a half billions of dollars and probably much more. Here is a forest wealth greater than the value of all the gold and silver mined on the coast from 1848 to the present day, and only waiting the axe of the woodman. There are fourteen principal varieties of this lumber and many others of less note, but of great value. Its agricultural resources are wonderful. The Willamette valley with its wondrous fertility, and the valleys of the coast, and of Eastern Oregon produce wheat averaging twenty-five to thirty bushels per acre. A great variety of other agricultural products and of fruits, give the farmer scope to meet the varying wants of the market at home and abroad. Vegetables, hops and valuable fibres are amongst the products of the soil that flourish. The finest cattle, horses and hogs in the world are raised in this state. Oregon wool is amongst the best in the world, and the room for its production is without limit. The southern and western sections of the state are especially rich in minerals.—San Francisco, Cal., Journal of Commerce.

It might be possible that the county commissioners did not exceed their authority in the matter when they refused to canvass the returns of the recent city election because, in their opinion, the ballots were illegal because of a technicality but it is very probable that they have done so. We are of the opinion that their duty extended no further than to canvass the votes upon the returns made, and if there was a question of illegality or a technical point in them, it would remain for a court of law to pass upon it. To set aside the will of the voters of any election when such will is expressed in the no uncertain terms of two to one, should be done with much caution at least.

Beginning this week, Dallas will be accommodated with a try-daily train—going to Portland one day and trying to get back the next day. While these things don't suit us a little bit, we can't find any room to kick. Railroad officials have to look after the finance and when it takes more men to manage the train than the number of passengers they had every day, it would seem they have been paying for their own luxury.—Polk County Observer.

It costs something to disturb the Salvation Army in Oregon City. By jury trial last week, four young men were found guilty of disturbing a Salvation Army meeting and punished as follows: Mike Gleason, $49 or 10 days in jail; Wayne Grider, Henry Jones and George Freeman, each $20 or 10 days in jail. Pete Summers voluntarily pleaded guilty, without arrest, and was fined $10.

The following story is told on a newly appointed postmaster: A stranger approaches the window and enquires: "Is there any mail for Mike Howe?" With becoming dignity the new postmaster answered, "There is no mail here for anybody's cow."

The Springfield Messenger will be removed to Eugene, where it will make its appearance as a popular paper. The Messenger has been a clean, able paper, and will no doubt prove to be a power in the support of the populists of Lane county.

Another Game Law.

J. W. Merrill, writing from Central Point to the Oregonian concerning the late game law says: "The new game law, now in force, prohibits the sale of any part of a deer at any time. On page 97 of the session laws of 1893 the new law can be found. In reference to this matter it reads: 'Every person who shall, at any time after the passage of this act, sell or offer for sale the hide or horns or meat of any deer, either in a fresh, salted, dried, smoked or jerked condition, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.' The law also fixes the penalty for a violation of this act as follows: 'Every person convicted of a violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be punished by a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $300, or imprisonment in the county jail of the county where the offense was committed for not less than three months, or both such fine and imprisonment. Half of such money collected for fines for violation of the provisions of this act shall be paid to the informer, and the rest into the county treasury of the county in which the offense was committed.' This part of the game law was introduced by myself as a separate bill at the last session of the legislature, and was afterward incorporated as a committee amendment into another bill relative to the same subject, and subsequently enacted."

Drift Creek Items.

Drift creek is almost deserted by the bachelors, of which there are quite a number. They have gone out to the Valley to work through harvest.

Mr. N. B. Neal and son, Freddie, Johnny Flinn and H. H. Curler have gone to the Valley to work.

Andrew Smith is back on his old place on Horse Creek.

The first sermon ever preached on Drift creek was preached last Sunday, a week, Aug. 6, 1893, by Rev. Winan, late of Philadelphia, at half past nine o'clock. He was sent out to Oregon by the American Sunday School Union, headquarters at Philadelphia, to organize Sunday Schools. They have evidently sent out the right man, for he is a rustic, and no mistake. Preaching at the Meadow creek school house at 9:30 a. m., Salado at one p. m. and Elk City at seven p. m. We have quite a flourishing Sunday School, under the efficient superintending of Mr. S. J. Wilhoit.

Frank Wilhoit and William Marginson are cutting Will Arnold's hay. He has the largest crop on Drift Creek. About twenty tons of clean timothy hay on five or six acres, almost as much hay as is raised on all other places on Upper Drift Creek combined.

Bert Griffith, who is now in California will soon be home, so I am told.

Mr. Glass and Charley Skaggs, of Big Elk and Mr. Hunt of Little Elk passed through this country last week enroute for Table Mountain. What about getting lost? Nice view from Table Mountain, one can see two bays and one ocean and for miles and miles along the coast. This is a nice place for a picnic excursion.

Prof. Banks is back once more to his old haunts on Drift Creek.

Misses Lora Grant and Clara Feagles were visiting on Drift Creek the first of the week. Come again ladies, you are welcome. (Did the blackberries taste salty?)

There was quite a nice little dance last Monday night in John Arnold's house on the place lately bought of N. J. Watkins, at the mouth of Gopher Creek, there were five couples present, dancing until broad daylight, enjoying themselves immensely, but the fiddler got away with the cake.

Mr. Munkers is visiting his daughter, Mrs. N. B. Neal.

STICK.
 A moderately large crowd of people are at the beach at Newport, but they are nearly all cottagers or campers. Very few are stopping at the hotels as compared with former years.

County Court.

 Ordered, that M. L. Trapp, commissioner, be, and is hereby appointed to supervise the repairs of bridges east of Toledo, and in vicinity of Yaquina and Big Elk rivers.

Ordered, That J. O. Stearns, commissioner, be, and is hereby designated to supervise the repairs of bridges and roads west and south of Toledo and vicinity.

Ordered, That D. P. Blue, judge, be, and is hereby designated to supervise the repairs of roads and bridges north and west of Toledo.

In the matter of the petition of Hodges and others for a county road beginning at a point on Drift creek; Ordered, That a bond be executed by one or more of the petitioners therefor, with sureties sufficient to be approved by the court and made payable to the county in the sum of $100, conditioned that if the prayer of such petition be not allowed, the persons executing such bond will pay all costs and expenses incurred by reason of said petition and that the county clerk be and is hereby instructed to transmit a bond in blank to be executed together with a copy of this order to said petitioners.

In the matter of advertising for bids to build a bridge on the line of the public road on the George Rosebrook's place, near Toledo; it appearing that said order was made at the July session of this court, and that said order does not appear upon the journal; it is hereby directed that the same be entered as follows to wit: "That the county judge be and is hereby instructed to advertise for bids for the construction of a bridge 325 feet in length on the public road on the Geo. Rosebrook's place near Toledo and running parallel with the Oregon Pacific railway track;" and it is further ordered that the foregoing order be entered as July 15th, and that it stand with the same force and effect as if entered on that day.

In the matter of vacating Whitney's addition to Yaquina, upon the petition of G. A. Whitney and Addie C. Whitney; it was ordered that the prayer of the petitioners be granted and Whitney's addition be declared vacated.

Ordered, That Monday the 25th day of September be and is hereby designated for the completion of the assessment roll, in accordance with the provisions of section 2777 of Hill's annotated Code.

The new populist paper started at Oregon City, the Herald, has been attached by the employees for labor bills. It is now in the hands of the sheriff, but it is thought that friends will come to the rescue and enable it to resume.
