SOMETHING NEW!
ANTIFERMENTINE
Preserves Fruit, Cider, Milk, Butter, Eggs, Tomatoes, Catsup, Pickles, Etc.
What is it: It is a simple, harmless preparation, free from taste, smell and color, that has the properties of stopping and preventing fermentation in all vegetable and animal foods.
What it does: It is especially useful for preserving fruits of all kinds without cooking, retaining their natural fresh appearance and taste.
Its Use does away with labor, and makes what has been a hot, disagreeable task, a delight and a pleasure. It substitutes for the Summer heat of the kitchen the cool shade of a lawn or piazza.
Its Results are never doubtful when used according to directions, and Plum Puddings, Peach and Berry Pies can be had in Winter as well as in Summer.
Its Use is profitable and economical, for it saves one-half of the sugar, saves the jars broggen by heat, saves the fruit cooked away, and saves the time and labor lost by the old methods.
For Cider it unsurpassed. It stops fermentation at any point desired, and produces a sparkling beverage like Champagne.
The question is sometimes asked, "Is it injurious?" To allay all doubts on that score, we would say that we have consulted many of our most eminent Chemists and Physicians, and all unite in pronouncing the use of ANTIFERMENTINE as a preservative, a perfectly safe and harmless preparation.

A SPECIAL OFFER!
This is the only correct picture of THE OREGONIAN'S NEW BUILDING, located at the corner of 1st and Commercial streets. For many years THE OREGONIAN has felt the need of a new and commodious building embracing all the modern improvements, with the latest improved machinery for turning out a metropolitan paper. It now has it, and one that the whole Pacific Coast may justly feel proud of, as it is certainly the best on the coast. Now that THE OREGONIAN is settled in this new home it feels like giving its many friends a benefit. It makes this special offer: That all those who subscribe to the paper, or to those who subscribe prior to September 1st, to send the
Weekly Oregonian
18 Months for $2.00
This being the dull season of the year, THE OREGONIAN believes a benefit of this kind will be greatly appreciated. Please send in your subscription as soon as possible. When visiting Portland you are cordially invited to call and take a trip through our new home. Address:

Benton County's Money.

"At the approaching session of the circuit court for Benton county an important case will be that of Benton county vs. M. P. Burnett, county treasurer, and his bondsmen. Through papers served by the sheriff the demand has already been made upon Treasurer Burnett for the return of the $14,000 deposited in the Job bank at the time of the suspension. The case will be watched by county treasurers and their bondsmen all over the state, who will be anxious to know if, after a treasurer has used every effort to keep the county funds in safety, the loss happens through a bank failure, the law still holds his bondsmen responsible for the loss."

The above taken from the Corvallis Times is undoubtedly the defense upon which the treasurer intends resisting the recovery of the money as against himself and his bondsmen. But did Treasurer Burnett use every means to keep the county funds in safety? Is it not a fact that Benton county has a costly court house with an expensive vault in the treasurer's office prepared for the safe keeping of the county's funds? We think it has. And it he was fearful of the safety of the vault prepared for the safety of the county funds, why did he not deposit the funds in both of the Corvallis banks. Is it not a further fact that there was, and had been for some time previous to the time the funds were deposited, many street rumors concerning the instability of the Hamilton, Job & Co. bank? Our sympathies go out to Treasurer Burnett, as well as to every other unfortunate that was so shamelessly defrauded by the rotten concern that masqueraded under the guise of a bank, but for all that it would not be right for the county to lose the money. It seems to us that Treasurer Burnett did not use every effort to keep the county funds safe, and it will be a most unfortunate day for the counties of Oregon that a court decides that a county treasurer is not responsible for all the monies which come into his hands and are lost by reason of the failure of the person or firm with whom the treasurer has deposited the public funds. It will open wide the way for looting the county treasurers.

Chitwood Chips.

What is the matter with the Chitwood folks that we got no LEADER last week? Has the Job brothers stopped it?
Well, the bridge at Chitwood is completed, and is a fine structure, and was built by volunteer work. L. F. Pipen was foreman, and was assisted by H. N. Foster, D. J. Chitwood, and Mr. West as carpenters, and others also rendered valuable assistance. The work is first-class, and we have the best bridge in Lincoln county, and one of which we are proud of. It fills a long felt need in our community, thanks to the energy of the community and the liberality of the county court.

There has been lots of rain and some wind, but I guess everybody knows that.
Elder J. E. Graham, president of the North Pacific conference of the Seventh Day Adventists, was the guest of Uncle Jimmy Chitwood last week and preached to the people Thursday night. Call again, Elder.
A few days ago Mr. Ira Parker and wife left us to sojourn in Kansas and Illinois for the winter.
A. L. McFadden has come out a full-fledged lawyer and will, in a few weeks, put out a shingle in Toledo, so we can have legal advice—by paying for it, of course. Struck.

There is a rumor current that T. Egenton Hogg has completed his financial arrangements and will appear as a bona fide bidder for the O. P. road when it is next offered for sale. Should this be true and Hogg should get the road it will be worth twice the price of admission to see the fellows that Hogg made and held up for years, and who instantly deserted him when they thought he was done up, take back water and eat humble pie.

Newspaper Wind.

There is going the rounds of the press another one of those senseless and inane articles on the subject of the Oregon Pacific extension. The substance of this fool article is that Receiver Hadley will soon start, or as some of them have it, has already started east, to New York, presumably, to complete the arrangements for extending the road as far east as the Deschutes river, at least. Now while every person who has the development and prosperity of the Yaquina Bay country at heart devoutly hopes for the consummation of such a scheme as this, yet every person who has a modicum of brains and a limited amount of reasoning powers must know that there is absolutely nothing in these reports but pure wind and bluster. It accomplishes no good purpose, but on the contrary does the country along the line of road much harm by holding out false and elusive hopes to the residents thereof, and also by misrepresenting our prospects to the outside world. In the light of occurring events it is our firm belief that the greater portion, if not all of these reports have been started by certain individuals in connection with the railroad to get a lot of free newspaper advertising, and they got it, too.

Come right down to the truth of the matter Receiver Hadley cannot build one foot of road, as such receiver. He is simply a creature of the court in his connection with the railroad, and can only act upon the orders of the court, and it is certainly quite generally understood by this time that the court can't find money enough to pay the employees of the road their honest and hard earned wages, without building extensions. The road is in the hands of the court to sell, not to build, and all this newspaper bosh about it had just as well be choked off. It is safe enough to assert that the funds derived from any sale will be swallowed up in paying off old debts.
There is no paper in the state that wishes more devoutly for the extension of the Oregon Pacific than does the LEADER, yet we are firmly convinced that it is idle to expect an extension while the road is in the hands of a receiver. The time when the road will be extended will be after the road is sold and has passed into the hands of a corporation that is able to build it, and such a company will find the most remunerative investment that there is on the Pacific coast.

The churches are making a vigorous protest against the Geary law because they imagine it will interfere with their missionary work in the Celestial empire. Yet, while they are expending millions without practice results in China, the heathen rites of the Joss service are being conducted openly on the streets of Portland without a protest from anybody. The government sent its armies out West to prevent the poor Indians from holding their Messiah dances, while right here in Portland tomorrow night the Chinese will perform the more heathenish and outrageous ceremony of burning their wooden josses to appease the devil. The best thing the churches could do would be to recall their missionaries from China and put them to work on Second street.—Telegram.

The Farmer's Loan & Trust Co. have filed a petition asking that the order appointing Joseph Simon referee to examine into the status of the certificates issued by Receiver Hogg, be vacated. The grounds which the petition is based is that they were never served and the order was obtained without their knowledge. It is also claimed that the order looked to the reversal of action had in the case after careful consideration, and that it would involve protracted litigation when the railroad was running behind. Upon this petition an order was entered suspending the proceeding until November 13, 1893, when a full hearing would be had to determine the same.—Corvallis News.

Assignee's Report.

Assignee Bryson has just completed his report of the court of the claims presented during the ninety days allowed by law, against the estate of Hamilton, Job & Co., insolvent debtors. The report is voluminous, occupying about one hundred pages, and is a complete showing of each claim that demands satisfaction out of the assets, together with an explanation of its character, and a description of its offset, if there be any. The total number of claims is 459 and their aggregate amount is $223,412.25. These figures include $5,605.03 unlisted claims that did not appear on the books when the bank closed. They are largely open accounts against the firm, and were not included in the $224,348.17 liabilities reported by the receiver at the creditor's meeting. The decrease in liabilities, notwithstanding the appearance of the $5,605.03 unlisted claims, is owing to the failure of presentation of claims amounting to $6,540.85, by which amount the creditors are gainers. The total amount of offsets is $17,487.28. The report confirms the view taken of the bank affairs by Mr. Bryson in his report as receiver to the creditors and indicates that the assets will ultimately pay out about the per cent. named in that report, which was 59 per cent.—Corvallis Times.

Certificates to Employees.

As will be seen elsewhere Receiver Hadley has been ordered by the court to issue certificates to the employees for wages due them for August and September. For these months no money has been paid to employees at all, although the road earned $16,367.61 during the month of August, and is presumed to have earned a greater sum during the month of November. Why the employees were not paid their proportion of the earnings of these two months is not stated. It is outrageously unfair to distribute the earnings of the road through other sources and compel their employees to take their pay in depreciated receiver's certificates that are not worth fifty cents on the dollar, if a market could be found at all for them. The employees should have received their proportion of the earnings, and not have been compelled to shoulder the whole loss. It begins to look as though the employees are to be about the last ones to be considered when it comes to the payment of money.

Oregon Pacific Orders.

Judge Fullerton sitting in special session at Corvallis last week made the following orders affecting the O. P. road.
The sheriff was ordered to make an unconditional sale of all the property of the O. P. R. R. and the W. V. & C. R. R. before December 15, next. This, we understand, is to be an absolute and unrestricted sale, and the property goes to the highest bidder.
Receiver Hadley was given permission to bring suit against the Portland Flouring mills for an alleged indebtedness. He was also authorized by the court to expend not more than $750 in a trip to eastern cities in the interest of the road.
The receiver was also ordered to issue receiver's certificates to employees of the road for the wages due them for August and September, the certificates to bear date of September 1, and to draw 8 per cent interest.
Superintendent L. R. Fields and the master mechanic of the Southern Pacific have been in the city yesterday and today making a private inspection of the Oregon Pacific's property, round house, buildings, wharfs, etc. It is reported, and please do not tell who told you, that the S. P. is making arrangements to purchase the road, steamers, etc. If true, it will materially change the transportation aspect on this part of the coast.—Albany Democrat.
