LOCAL NOTES.

P. McCormick, an Indian Inspector was at the agency this week.

Mrs. J. A. Bacon, of Monroe, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Wadsworth, near this place.

M. J. Allphin was down from Little Elk Tuesday attending the Democratic committee meeting.

The eleven mill rake down is to be called a "sinking fund." An extremely appropriate name. It is surely sunk.

A very enjoyable social party was held at Mr. and Mrs. L. Waugh's in this place last night. The evening was passed in dancing, card playing, etc.

Notice O'Brien's new advertisement in this issue. He has just received his new spring stock and buyers will find it to their advantage to call on him before the lines are broken.

Jas. Hodges and Albert Collins left this morning for the Siuslaw, where they go expecting to bring up a small sheep, with which they expect to fish out over the bar for deep sea fish.

Bert Van Cleve and wife came in from Albany last Saturday evening. The former went on the steamer Homer, to San Francisco, where he hopes to get employment. His wife stopped here with relatives.

J. A. McFadden and wife, the former a brother of A. L. McFadden have been visiting him at his place near Chitwood, this week. Their home is at Stafford, Kansas, and their visit to the west is practically their wedding tour.

James Plumlee left for Elgin, Oregon, last Tuesday, where he will make a continued stay. He and Mr. Wagner have property at that place which needs looking after, and so Mr. Plumlee went for purpose.

A. R. Chapman, our genial station agent, has been transferred to Corvallis and left for that place today. We regret very much to lose Mr. and Mrs. Chapman from our little city, and our best wishes follow them. J. S. Gaither will take charge of the station here.

The Democratic County Central Committee met in Toledo on Tuesday. The only business transacted was the calling of the County convention and the apportionment of delegates. The convention was called for Thursday, April 12, and will be composed of 41 delegates.

A gentleman by the name of Shaw came up from Frisco on the Homer to inspect the stone of Pioneer Quarry. The gentleman is a contractor of San Francisco, and expresses himself as highly pleased with the quality of the stone and states that if he can get favorable rates he will use a large amount of Pioneer stone during the coming season.

The annual school meeting will be held next Monday. There will be a clerk and one director to elect, director Crosno retiring. There is a strong feeling that it would be proper to elect a director from the country, as the two hold over directors live in town. The country portions of the district should surely be represented.

Say, you warrant holders. Now do you like the idea of holding your warrants when you need the money badly, and have the court dicker away a large amount of tax and set it aside in a "special fund," and pay cash out of it, while you suck your thumbs waiting for your warrants to materialize? Isn't there something like class legislation in that?

H. M. Brunk, of Yaquina City, is spoken of as a probable democratic candidate for county treasurer. He's mighty good timber, too.

The Odd Fellows have been fitting up their hall in this place this week. It has been thoroughly remodeled, and is much improved thereby.

Assessor Parker spent some time last spring making township plats showing the present owners of the realty thereon, and the county paid him for his service. Now he is to repeat the work under contract.

The last nine days of the county court February term, they allowed seven bills, created one new precinct and finished perpetrating the present ownership map outrage. After the last business was put through they very properly adjourned for the term.

The Hotel Lincoln will change hands next week. Mr. and Mrs. Buford's lease is up and they will vacate. We are informed that Mr. Mrs. Vincent, of this place has leased the house for a year and will take charge on the 6th. These parties are old hotel people and that they will keep up the high standard of the house goes without saying.

Well, the present owner map business has gone through. It took nearly a half month session of the county court and many talks, walks and bracings up, but it finally went through. The court bargained away all the county fund and one mill more, and still has the sheriff to pay for assessing and collecting the tax. They are having their dance now, but they must remember that the fiddler will have to be paid.

The attorneys for the Farmers Loan and Trust Company have filed a notice with the clerk that on March 2nd an application will be made to the circuit court for an order of sale of the Oregon Pacific railroad properties, and that at the same time an order will be asked for vacating and setting aside a former order of the court made January 28, 1892, conditionally confirming the sale of the properties to Zephin Job, for the reason that the condition of said sale have never been complied with.

J. Kinley Pitson, the imported pedigreed hoosier editor of the Corvallis Gazette, seems to be having a hard time running Corvallis and Benton county all by himself. It is stated of him that not long since he held a confidential chat with a democratic committeeman, as to when the best time would be for the republicans to hold their primaries. His last break was to act in the capacity of peace-maker in the Waggoner-Hartless scrap. His ill luck still followed him, for after a left hander from one of the scrappers sent him to grass he resolved "to let them fight and be damned."

Geo. Waggoner and Wm. Hartless, two of Corvallis' prominent citizens, indulged in a two round, bare knuckles scrap last Saturday. The Times speaks of it as follows: "What they fought about nobody knows, except that each called the other a liar, and then the fun commenced. The first round was brief, but bloody. Each man realized that he was not in the pink of condition, and sparred cautiously for an opening. In the midst of the round Editor Kitson, who appeared to be referee, attempted to settle the thing, and a thump on the jaw sent him on the ropes and his plug hat to grass. From that time on the mill proceeded without either assistance or suggestions from him. The round ended with a right hander from Hartless which sent his opponent under the ropes. In the second round Waggoner came up groggy, but fought wickedly, striking below the belt. Hartless ran away to avoid punishment and suddenly fell. Waggoner fell on top of him and after a brief struggle the spectators decided it a draw and interfered."

The County Convention of the Democratic party of Lincoln county, Oregon, is hereby called to meet in a delegate convention in the Court House in Toledo, Oregon, on Thursday, April 12, 1894, at 9 o'clock P. M., to nominate candidates for the various county offices to be voted for on June 4, 1894, and to elect delegates to the State convention, and for such other business as may properly come before the convention. The Convention shall be composed of 41 delegates, apportioned as follows: Beaver Creek, 2; Newport, 2; Big Elk, 2; Naselle, 2; Brilt Creek, 2; Tillamook, 2; Elk City, 2; Yabatis, 2; Liberty, 2; Yaquina, 2; Little Elk, 2; Toledo, 2; Lower Alsea, 2.

J. S. GAITHER, Secretary.

Who Told the Truth.

It will be remembered that in the issue of the LEADER of February 8, that T. E. Parker published a letter purporting to tell the exact status of the present ownership map business. The two following extracts are from that letter and cover the matter of compensation for the work. They read as follows: "To get a complete system required additional labor, so I waived my right to compensation under the law and agreed with the county court to furnish the maps for the amount they would have to pay the state as state tax, and which they would not have to pay, and wait for my pay until the tax was collected, so that instead of paying the state they would pay me, and the county would not be out one cent."

And again: "Now don't be bamboozled by the twisting and distorting that interested parties give this matter. The fact remains that Lincoln county will not have one cent to pay for the work we are doing. The money that we get would have to be paid to the state if the property had been on the roll when it went in about two months ago, and costs the county nothing."

So much for Mr. Parker's version. Now what does the contract that is signed by the members of the county court, and also by T. E. Parker and J. S. Van Winkle, say? It says this: "And the party of the first part hereby agrees to pay to said second parties in payment of such work as aforesaid, eleven mills on every dollar of the assessable value of all property not assessed by the assessor during the year 1893, and at the time the supplementary roll hereinafter described shall be turned over to the sheriff by the said second parties and reported to the sheriff as aforesaid."

Now who told the truth, Mr. Parker in his letter of February 8, or the LEADER when it asserted that they were to get 11 mills for their work? And in the whole contract the state tax is not mentioned.

Alsea Bay Notes.

In acknowledgement of the few kindly words with which the LEADER recognizes the humble efforts of the Waldport correspondent. One always feels pleasure on receipt of a few congratulatory words and ought to return the compliment, but when ye scribe is made to spell execrably in such words as apologize, supplemented, and Imprimatur ones teeth clinch, a shudder passess o'er our frame and we imagine a bad case of pie, an unruly devil, a poor proof reader or excessive patronage of the new Toledo saloon proprietors. Pray relieve our anxieties. Which was it?

[A kind of a combination of all of them.—Ed.]

The squaw of our only resident Indian, who resides in the old Keady house, west of town, met with quite a painful accident last week. Owing to a mistep she fell down a bluff and fractured three ribs. Under the care of our charitable Dr. Diven, however, she is rapidly convalescing and will soon be after the festive flounder again.

News come from the Siuslaw on Saturday last, of the arrest of some fifteen hoodlums, who had burglarized the Florence saloon. One of the Barratt boys was said to be one of the party which was taken to Eugene the Friday previous.

Politics are beginning to hum around the store stoves, and the Populist's call for a meeting on Saturday the 3rd, day of March, is conspicuously posted.

A scrapping match is reported to have occurred a few days ago, in Lane county, between the United States postmaster, at Minnie, and a neighbor. Beyond a choking for the postmaster and a chewed thumb for the neighbor, the results were not particularly disastrous to either party concerned. Unless one attaches obliquity to the affair.

A notice is out from the postal authorities asking for bids for carrying the U. S. mail, between Waldport and Axtell, on the Yahats. The Ocean View postoffice was discontinued some time ago, whence the Axtell mail used to be despatched, and a direct route is now established.

Mr. A. H. Guynn went down the beach to his ranch, around Cape Perpetua, on Friday, but is expected back in time to join the Populist's festivities, on next Saturday. From indications the new party is likely to loom up in this precinct communi consensu. Messrs. Kingsley and Taylor are baching it on the former gentleman's ranch, over the bay, and rumour saith caused much discussion and suspicion in the matter of a large wash of clothes which were seen hanging to dry on the stumps, brush and clothes lines in the vicinity of their shack.

Mr. D. Lufjens, of Drift Creek, is a regular attendant on the Saturday night literaries. The last is said to have been one of the most exciting entertainments of the series.

IMPRIMATUR.

Eddyville Items.

February 22nd Eddyville had a dance to celebrate Washington's birthday there were fortyone couples that tripped the light fantastic all night, to the music of M. L. Glass and his wife, the boss musicians of Big Elk. All were satisfied that it was the best dance of the season. There was quite a number that did not join in the dance but they enjoyed themselves seeing others having a good time celebrating the birthday of the father of our glorious country. Notwithstanding the hard times they were thankful that they were no worse, and that they could get plenty to eat and have the privilege of worshipping under their own vine and none to molest or make afraid.

Mr. Robert Hewit, who has been visiting his brother John, has returned to his home in New Whatcom, Washington, to resume his work in F. F. Thompson & Co's saw mill where he has been employed for the last four years. They are thinking of resuming work in the spring.

There is some one killing Israel F. Eddy's sheep and goats. There has been quite a number shot heretofore but the last was shot with a knife and took away all but the head and inwards. And I would be very much pleased for them to call a halt before it is too late.

E. D. Young, Lincoln county's stock inspector, has been trying to inspect his goats, and he has followed them from Dan to Beersheba and has only got five or six in as many days, and thinks it is all they are worth to catch them as they run. This is a splendidly country for goats, they do fine and are good walkers on the logs and hills.

Mike Mackay talks of running for coroner on the Democratic ticket.

Fred Bolen, of Oysterville, moves to Corvallis next week where he has obtained work in a shoe shop. Ducks know their enemies, for Cap. Maloney says that he can't get within two hundred yards of them. "Quack, quack," and away they go and keep going.

T. Huntsucker starts for Alsea today, it is supposed with a de(a)er, this time. He claims that he goes on other busin-ss, but the smile on his face gives him away.

The weather clerk opened his freezer last night and made things a little bit lumpy.
