LOCAL NOTES.

Daily Oregonian on sale at this office. 5 cents per day or 25 cents per week.

John Buckley was up from Newport last Tuesday looking after his fences.

Capt. Nate Stevens visited friends and relatives in Newport the first of the week.

J. N. Arnold went to Albany this week to appear before the pension board of examiners.

Jos. Briggs shot and killed a large sea lion that came on shore near their place last Saturday. Campbell says that it was 22 feet long.

Messrs. H. W. Vader, G. W. Axtell and J. D. Axtell, of Yahats, were in Toledo Monday making final proofs on their respective homesteads.

Judge Burt tells us that our Elk City correspondent misquoted the price of his flour last week. He is selling flour at $2.75 per barrel instead of $2.90. He has a car load of flour and has put the price down to sell it.

Wm. M. Hoag is in Corvallis, and announces that he has come to stay. He is also taking much interest in affairs that occur on the line of the road, which would indicate that the Hogs are still fairly in it.

Capt. John Blake has leased the steamer Lillian and will put her on the run from Toledo to Newport. He expects her up from the Siuslaw today, in tow of the tug Roberts. She is said to be a neat and well fitted boat and will be a much needed means of transportation.

Newport has filed a petition asking that the name of Newport be printed on the official ballot as a candidate for county seat. As the petition has the required number of names and was filed in time Newport's name will duly appear upon the official ballot.

The tickets are now all in the field and the campaign is upon us. Now let us have a clean campaign; one that is free from all recriminations and mud-slingings. A cool, calm discussion of men and measures will redound to the honor of all concerned. Let us have that kind of a campaign.

County Clerk Jones is in receipt of a letter from Judge Fullerton informing him that Judge E. D. Shattuck, from Portland, will preside at the May term of district court in this county. The term will be promptly called on time, and not adjourned until July or August as a clipping from the Corvallis Times in another column states.

S. A. Pruett left for Portland with his son last Tuesday, where they will have another operation performed on the boy's leg. It will be remembered that this boy was one of the victims of the hand car accident of two years ago near this place. The leg has already been amputated once but it did not heal good and it is necessary to have some more cut off of it. The little fellow is not over eight or ten years old and is as brave as a lion. It is to be sincerely hoped that he will withstand the shock of the intended operation, and that it will be successful in every respect.

Deputy U. S. Marshal George Humphrey is in the city today. He brought a warrant from the U. S. commissioner for the arrest of Joe Morrison, a white man living with an Indian wife, charged with selling or giving liquor to Antonio Selsic, an Indian on the reservation. Mr. Humphrey has been quite ill for some time and did not feel equal to the trip so he sent City Marshal Chas. Ruhl over after Morrison. He will be brought before Justice Hall who will conduct the preliminary examination, acting as deputy U. S. commissioner.

The Volanta came up Tuesday to the rock quarry after a steam derrick, which it towed down to Newport.

Major J. D. Daly, republican candidate for joint representative, came up from Newport on a special boat last Tuesday.

A representative of the State Insurance company, of Salem, was in town the first of the week, and appointed Wm. Alexander local agent of his company at this place.

Mrs. A. T. Peterson was taken to Albany last Tuesday for medical aid, being afflicted with a tumor. She returned this evening, not being sufficiently strong to submit to an operation for its removal.

The populists met in adjourned convention at Corvallis last Saturday, when they made the following nominations: Perry Eddy, county clerk; John Reese, sheriff; W. T. Braggins, recorder; Major Bruce, joint senator; Thos. Slakely, joint representative; Nels Wheeler, treasurer; Miss Lulu Harrington, school superintendent.

Our friend Matthews, of Newport, rode a horse nearly to death in order to get up here in time to file Newport's nomination for county seat last Saturday. After he got cooled down and caught his breath, he found out that he need not have been in so much of a hurry as he had 28 good days to go on. That can be put down as the "march we did not steal."

The LEADER presents its ticket in the present campaign to its readers this week, and will consistently strive for the election of the candidates named thereon till election day has passed. The ticket is one to be proud of and one to which an elector can give a hearty support. The candidates are worthy, capable men, and if elected will fill the several offices with integrity and ability.

Yaquina harbor is to have a life saving station, the arrangements being started under way last week. Captain Hooper and Major Blakeney of the marine service, were over last week and took the initial steps toward the establishment of the station. The site has not yet been selected, though it is rumored that it will be located on South Beach. It is stated that a boat house and large surf boat will be located well inside the jetties.

The people of Toledo have been putting in some extra good work on the road from Mackay's point to the Fall creek road during the past few days. Last Friday and Saturday there were good sized gangs at work, and Tuesday there were fifteen at work. The ladies also take great interests in the work and some of them go over each day and make the men hot coffee for dinner. The road is now cleared and graded as far as the rock quarry. There is a bridge to be put in and then the road will be entirely open and ready for the grade on the upper end.

The republicans seem to have made a peculiarly unfortunate and unfit nomination for the office of prosecuting attorney for this district to succeed Seymour Condon. Geo. M. Brown, the nominee, is said by many exchanges to be a dissolute, worthless fellow, and even serious crime has been charged against him. Many prominent republicans of both Lincoln and Benton counties openly declare that they will in no manner support him. They feel freer in saying this from the fact that his nomination came from the most barefaced trading and dicker, any convention ever knew. Fortunately the democratic nominee Geo. Dorris, is a young man of both integrity and ability. The office being a non-political one to a large extent, it is safe to predict the defeat of Brown by a rousing majority.

Notice.
There is no money in the treasury for payment of warrants on general fund. As soon as money is on hand for payment of any of these warrants legal notice will be given through this paper to this effect.

In Memoriam.

The spirit of Ray Arnold, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Job. N. Arnold, of Toledo, Oregon, took its flight in the early morn. of Saturday, April 21, 1894, and his remains were laid to rest by sorrowing friends and neighbors in Toledo cemetery on Sunday at 3 o'clock p. m. Owing to the large crowd of friends and school mates that had gathered to pay their respects to a departed friend the services were held in Grady's hall. Rev. A. L. Hawley preached the funeral sermon and the services were conducted by the Toledo Cornet Band, of which during life he was an active and honored member.

Ray was born in Shelby county, Minnesota, on the 7th day of January 1874, and was twenty years, three months and thirteen days old when death struck him down in his early manhood. He came to Oregon with his parents and they settled on Yaquina Bay two miles below Toledo, in 1875, and hence all of his life was spent on Yaquina Bay. Ray was well known and respected, and honest, sober, industrious boy, well liked and beloved by his associates and school-mates, and was an active and honored member of the Toledo cornet band. Many beautiful flowers were strewn on his grave by friends and school mates, and the large crowd of people who wended their way to the beautiful cemetery—the silent city of the dead—overlooking the evergreen banks that mark the course of the winding Olalla, expressed the high esteem in which they held their departed friend.

Gone is the fragrance, fled is the flower; gone from among us in one short hour. Sad is father, mother, brother and sister, but gentle, changing time with its sorrows and joys will carry them through the trials of life. The loved one that is gone in his youth and prime, may have lost some of the pleasures that are left to others, but if he so lived that God knows him now, his troubles are over and his joy will be fresh and eternal.

The family extend their heartfelt thanks to the many kind friends, both old and young, who so kindly and thoughtfully assisted them in their sad hour of trial.

When the bugle sounds the call,
When our boys are marching on,
There will be a broken rank,
For the loved one that is gone,
But when God's trumpet sounds the call,
And we cross to the other side,
From the yearly gates his spirit
Will float on the silvery tide.

DIED.
ARNOLD.—At the residence of his parents in this city, on Saturday, April 21, 1894, Ray Arnold, aged 20 years.
Waldport Items.
Fine weather in this vicinity.
Everyone seems busy this week making gardens, therefore, there is little news except the town gossip and that is prevalent in all small places.
Mr. H. W. Vader, of Axtell, has gone out to Toledo this week to prove up on his place.
Work on Tidewater and Waldport wagon road will commence again next week with a large force of men. They expect to push the work right along now until the road is completed.
Mr. Jacob Holgate, formerly of this place but of late years of South Beach, has again put in his appearance in our midst. He says he has come to stay, and has given his son, N. S. Holgate, charge of the upper end of the route.
J. W. Brasfield, of Seal Rocks, has been in town this week talking politics to the good brethren. By the looks of things times are going to be hot about the June election.
Hon. R. A. Bensell, of Newport, is going to address the people of Waldport on the 5th of May, in behalf of the republican party. Democrats better look up or they will be left out entirely.
W. H. Harrison, Jr. has gone to Toledo this week on a surveying expedition.
J. D. Axtell started this week for California, to be gone the summer. We are sorry to see you go John, but may success attend you wherever you go.
Another dance in Waldport on Friday night, it was quite a success. Boys you had better be careful or dances will get to be a chestnut before long.

Bonds, Bonds, Bonds!
EDITOR LEADER:
Presuming on your kindness and difference of opinion I yet crave a morsel of your space. A great cry goes up from representative politicians in this neck of the woods: Suppress or restrict all immigration but bring in your capital, ye foreign millionaires, to improve our territory.
Consistency, thou art a jewel, exceedingly scarce amongst politicians, but never found with the republic-demon's. Keep out ye scum, but bring on your wealth. Which of you my friends, being about to loan gold dollars on a farm will do so on the simple recommendation of the mortgagor or his agent? Which of you would loan money on any farm with a clause in the mortgage forbidding your residence thereon? How much of the foreign wealth interested in this country outside of government bonds may be traced to men who have either lived here, have friends or relatives here resident or have visited this country? Will you inform me if the Chinese millionaires have any representative loan offices in this country, or is it the custom of John to send his spare dollars to the celestial land. Restrict if you like; suppress if you will. The populist will never obstruct, because the process ensures his success; that done you must adopt his finance ultimately, or issue bonds until they are not worth the paper written upon. If you insist upon isolation in one matter you will also have to adopt it in commerce and finance to some extent. And it is only fair the public should see the trend. I say we cannot do better and some day it will furnish some foreign power with a pretext to jump onto our successors, as England did China years ago to compel her to open her ports.

Respectfully Yours,
Wm. R. WAKEFIELD
