LOCAL NOTES.

The bathing season might now be said to be fairly open.

B. F. Jones went out to Corvallis on business this morning.

Chas. Kennedy came over from Albany yesterday evening.

They say that the mountain trout are taking the fly nicely now.

Mrs. Lollis, of Newport, is visiting friends in this city this week.

Dr. Rich went out to Albany on business the first of the week returning last evening.

Silas Maley, who has been residing in Albany for several months, will return to Newport to make his home.

The strawberry crop is not going to be up to the average in quantity, the late frosts very materially shortening the same.

The Salmon river pleasure seekers returned from their trip yesterday. They claim to have had a very enjoyable trip.

Persons from Toledo making a ten dollar purchase, or over in my store will be given a round trip ticket on the steam launch Claremont.

L. O'BRIEN, Yaquina, Or.

The Newport News' official (?) election returns are immense. They create two new precincts, Ona and Eddyville, and raises the vote of Drift Creek precinct up to 63 on sheriff, besides numerous other errors.

A very pleasant farewell party was given at the Hotel Lincoln last Saturday evening, in honor of Miss Bertie Buford. The evening was spent in games and dancing, with an interval during which all partook of an excellent supper. All present pronounced this one of the pleasantest parties of the season.

There are a great many people from the outside who are earnestly inquiring when the Siletz reservation will be thrown open to settlement. This indicates that many homeseekers have their eyes turned on this country. It will not be long we trust, before there will be hundreds of cozy homes of industrious settlers in the beautiful Siletz valley.

The State Reform school board has made the following appointments: Joseph James, of Salem, nightwatch; Allen Rhodes, of Salem, gardener; G. W. Smith, of Portland, chief cook; T. J. Buford, of Toledo, farmer; John King, of Salem, assistant farmer and officer; C. W. Wasson, of Salem, principal teacher; Mrs. T. Jay Buford, of Toledo, assistant teacher.

Mrs. J. A. Hall, who went to Nebraska a short time ago, writes that she has just experienced an encounter with a Nebraska cyclone which came near unroofing the house she was in and shook things up generally. She said also that a drouth has prevailed there and the whole country presents a deplorable aspect. When she left here she was somewhat dissatisfied with Oregon, but she says now that she is perfectly contented to return to Oregon to stay.

We would call the attention of the city marshal to the pernicious and dangerous habit of the boys, and some of the young men of this place, of jumping onto the moving trains. The habit is indulged in by many who are old enough to know better, and while dangerous to the life and limbs of those who foolishly do it, it is exceedingly annoying and bothersome to the train men and hinders them in the discharge of their labors. The marshal should arrest some of the offenders, if he has any authority so to do, and if no authority exists the council should create some at once by the enactment of an ordinance on the subject.

M. L. Trapp is doing good work on the street this week.

J. J. Bullus and Cap. Robertson were up from West Yaquina last Tuesday.

The Claremont ran a moonlight excursion up the river last Monday evening.

Oliver Aitree has the contract to erect the new city jail and will begin work immediately.

Clark Copeland has been doing some good grading on the street in front of his residence.

The weather clerk has been furnishing us with a most delightful brand of weather during the past week.

A. B. Alexander, the newly elected assessor, of Benton county, was in this city the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bensell came up from Newport last Saturday on the launch, and returned Sunday evening.

The republican ticket was elected in Benton county, excepting clerk, sheriff and assessor. The fight was an extremely warm one.

Judge Burt was down from Elk City yesterday to look after a house to live in. He rented the Arnold house and will move down at an early date.

Hay harvest will begin soon. The hay crop is up to the usual high standard this year, and many a ton will be cut and cured in Lincoln county if the nice weather continues.

We hope that our correspondents will get in and send us a breezy batch of items each week from various parts of the county. If you can't send some every week send as often as you can.

A petition has been prepared and forwarded to Washington asking for the establishment of a post-office at the Pioneer stone quarry. There are several people beside the quarry people who would be benefited by such an office and in all probability it will be established.

A very pleasant entertainment was given by the ladies of Yaquina last Tuesday evening. The program consisted of musical and literary selections, and concluded with a laughable farce. The Claremont took a load of Toledo people down, all of whom reported a very enjoyable time.

Quite a number of people from Toledo went to Newport last Saturday to witness the ball game played between the Amateurs, of that place, and Hot Stuffs of Toledo. The Amateurs done them up with a score of 56 to 23, but the Hot Stuffs showed their good grit by challenging them to play on July 4th, at Toledo.

T. Jay. Buford and family left last Monday for Salem, where Mr. Buford has accepted the position as farmer, and Mrs. Buford as a teacher in the state reform school. We regret to lose them from our community as their places in the social circles will be hard to fill. They take with them the best wishes of our people for success and happiness in their new home.

The Albany Democrat wants to see C. W. Watts, of that place, the next state game warden. If the next legislature has any regard for its pledges it will repeal the law that created the office of game warden. It is a useless and expensive affair, and partakes too much of the flavor of the old world aristocracy.

Prof. S. T. Adams came down from Salem last Saturday and took a view of the school house and surroundings. He went to Newport last Monday whence he will shortly remove to this city and take up his residence among us. Prof. Adams is a good man and will be quite an acquisition to our city. Mrs. Adams will teach one of the departments of the public school under his principalship.—Woodburn Independent.

The editor of the Newport News professes great love and admiration for the people of Toledo. We suppose that it was his overpowering love for them which induced him to publish the following miserable lie in his paper on May 31: "so far as we have been able to ascertain, the only road built is a little spur of about three miles to intersect the Newport and Corvallis road, and we are reliably informed that Indians and the county paid for that." Of course every citizen of Toledo knows that he loves them.

Eddyville will celebrate the glorious 4th in true American style.

Mrs. J. L. Akin is reported to be lying at the point of death at her home in Philomath.

The printers want $700 for printing the ballots of Marion county. Lincoln county ballots cost $70.

The county clerk has received the blank assessment rolls for 1894. There are four of them, one each for the clerk, sheriff, assessor and to the secretary of state.

Mrs. N. L. Lambert, of Yaquina, has been appointed agent for the Wiley B. Allen Organ and Piano company. Parties desiring anything in that line will do well to call on or address her.

Sigfried Theiler has been duly started on the road to American citizenship, having renounced all allegiance to all foreign prince, potentate, state or sovereignty, and particularly to the republic of Switzerland.

The regular passenger train will be put back on the road next Monday and we will receive a slightly better train service. Receiver Clark finds that the business will warrant the running of such a train and will keep abreast of the demands of the traveling public. The prospect for a good summer's travel over the road is very bright.

The orchard of the Yaquina fruit company at Nashville is doing remarkably well this year and makes a good showing to the passers by on the railroad. Most of the trees are now in their third year and some of them are beginning to bear. It is not the intention to let the prunes come into full bearing for two years yet. The orchard appears to be well managed and well kept, and shows that managers of the same are practical fruit men.

The Salem Journal is filling its soul with sorrow because Col. T. Jay Buford, of this county, has been appointed farmer at the state reform school, and slogs over with columns of type about it, and mourns and will not be comforted. It says that there are plenty of republican farmers in Marion county that might have been appointed who are practical farmers. The trouble with the Journal is that it is too narrow and bigoted to see beyond the narrow confines of Salem and Marion county. It thinks that within these borders lie all of Oregon, and that it should have all the state institutions, all the state appointments and all the state pap of every description, and sets up a mournful wail if any other part of the state gets anything. The Journal's spasm of reform in the Buford case would be more marked were it not known that the Journal is the most pliant tool of the state house ring, and it only squeals when the teat is taken from its mouth. Buford may not have spent his life on the farm as a practical farmer, but neither did the appointee whom he succeeded, nor will the one who will follow after. Practical farmers are scarcely ever rewarded in practical politics, and no one knows this any better than the Journal editor. Buford's appointment was no doubt a reward for political work and so is every other appointment in the institution from Superintendent Hendrix down, and Mr. Buford's appointment is just as fit as any the rest of them, and the Journal swallows them because they are all from Salem, with but one exception. The howl of the Journal only indicates that the Journal had a pet for the same position who failed to get appointed.

Our Great Offer.
In another column we announce the particulars of our special club arrangement with The Weekly Free Press, a paper so well known, by reputation at least, that no special mention of its great merit seems scarcely necessary. While one of the funniest of papers, it does not depend alone on its humorous features for its popularity; it is equally noted for its literary excellence. The best writers of America and Europe contribute to its columns, indeed, our readers will find The Free Press a perfect cyclopaedia of the best current literature. When the great cost of production is considered, it is a matter of wonder how so interesting and instructive a journal can be furnished for so low a price as one dollar a year—a handsome premium included.
We know that every one of our friends will be benefited by reading The Free Press and we congratulate ourselves and them on our ability to furnish it with the LEADER for so low a price as $2. It is certainly an opportunity of which all should take immediate advantage.
